In Reserve at Aden.

4th Madras Native Infantry.
31st Madras Native (Light) Infantry.

The following regulations are laid down for the guidance of all concerned:—

1. Native Regiments will go on the present established strength of 550 of all ranks for Cavalry, and 832 for Infantry, so far as they may be complete, and minus the men who are unfit.

2. Commanding Officers will be held responsible that none but officers, men and followers in every way fit for field service accompany the regiment: all sickly men are to be left at the depot, and no others.

3. Each Native regiment will be completed to its full establishment of eight British officers, including those who may be recalled from furlough, and who may be expected to join in Egypt.

4. Followers, servants, and baggage will be according to the Kabul scale, but without grass-cutters, except as hereinafter laid down for the cavalry. All regiments will be completed with all establishments (including commissariat), according to the orders laid down, in their respective presidencies.

5. Depots for regiments will be formed under the orders of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in India, and of the Governments of Madras and Bombay respectively.

6. A British officer will be detailed for the charge of each of these depots, and will draw the allowance specified in Articles 307 and 378, Pay Code for India, Vol. I. A pay havildar, on a staff salary of Rs. 5 per mensem, will be allowed to each depot of native troops.

7. Commanding Officers will be held responsible that all orders and circulars connected with family remittances and arrangements for the comfort of the men and families are made known to, and are in possession of, officers appointed to the charge of depots; and that provision is made for the care of spare arms, accoutrements, books, heavy baggage, &c., which may be left behind.

8. Quartermaster's establishments for the depots will be supplied under clause 15, India Army Circulars of 1880.

9. The families of British troops left behind in India will remain at their present stations, and will receive, in addition to subsistence allowance, three-quarter rations for the wives and half-rations for the children.

10. Followers, servants, baggage, camp equipage, and kit, for staff and departmental officers, will be on the Kabul scale, but grass-cutters will not be taken.

11. The British troops, including officers of the Army Medical Department, will remain on Indian pay and allowances until they land in Egypt, when they will come under the orders of the General Commanding in Egypt, and will then be on the same scale of pay and allowances as the rest of the British troops with the expeditionary force.

12. Native infantry and sappers and miners will draw extra batta; and free rations will be allowed to all ranks of cavalry, infantry, and sappers, while on foreign service.

13. Each native commissioned officer of the cavalry will be required to keep up one pony and one attendant as syce and grass-cutter, whether he takes one or two horses; and the non-commissioned officers and privates to maintain one pony and one grass-cutter for every two horses.

14. Compensation at the rate of Rs. 5 per mensem will be allowed to the native officers for each bargheer sanctioned by existing regulations, if maintained by them, out of which sum they will pay the share of the grass-cutter's wages and provide the stable gear. A similar amount will be deducted from the pay of the bargheer sowars.

15. As during a sea voyage the officers, non-commissioned officers and sowars of the cavalry would be unable to make the requisite provision for the forage of their horses, whilst difficulty might be experienced in this respect during a portion of their service on land, the forage of the horses, and of the mules or ponies accompanying, will be undertaken by the Commissariat, with such assistance as the regiments and followers may be enabled to render after landing.

16. All ranks will be required, as at present, to maintain one efficient horse; but the native commissioned officers will be allowed forage for two horses each, if they desire to take a second charger.

17. The grass-cutters will be paid by the troops, as usual; but the ponies will receive grain, and, when necessary, hay, free of cost. Both grass-cutters and animals will be employed to procure forage when obtainable, and must be held disposable for all purposes.

18. The native commissioned and non-commissioned officers of cavalry will continue to subscribe to the regimental funds to such extent as commanding officers may deem necessary within the limits prescribed by regulations.

19. They will continue to supply themselves with the ordinary clothing, equipment, saddlery, and stable gear for their horses; but articles of extra clothing necessitated by any speciality of climate or service will be issued free of cost.

20. All casualties of horses or ponies arising from neglect or from causes evidently unconnected with the particular nature of the service must, as usual, be replaced by the regiments concerned. Each troop will be allowed to embark and maintain two chunda horses, to meet casualties, which will be rationed free of cost.

21. All casualties among horses or ponies fairly attributable to, or connected with, the service, including those from accident on boardship or during embarkation or disembarkation, will, if there has been no proved neglect, be replaced by Government, or compensation will be allowed, under the rules in the Pay Code for India, Vol. II.

22. During the continuance of the arrangement under which the supply of grain and forage to the cavalry is undertaken by the State, the pay of the several grades will be as follows :—

The issue of tea and sugar should be confined to the cases of sick and wounded, for whom medical officers may authorise it, and for the rest of the troops on special occasions of fatigue, exposure, or bad climate when recommended by the principal medical officer. On such occasions 2 oz. of sugar and ½ oz. of tea per man may be issued.

Tobacco can only be issued on payment at the rate of one ounce per man per diem, the price charged being the first cost to Government, without any addition on account of carriage or losses.

31. Pay lists of native troops will be forwarded, as soon after the first of each month as may be possible, through the Field Paymaster, to the Pay Examiner of the Presidency to which the troops belong. Officers commanding regiments will draw monthly from the field pay office such sums as may be required for the pay of themselves and their men, after making provision to meet family allotments and remittances, fund subscriptions, &c., the amount of which allotments, &c., they will debit themselves with in their general states.

32. The pay bills of all staff and departmental officers will be adjusted by the Field Paymaster.

35. Staff and departmental establishments may receive similar advances, not including command, contract, office, and staff allowances.

36. The family remittances to India of the British troops will be made at the official rate of exchange through the Field Paymaster. Remittances to England will be made under the War Office regulations. The family remittances of native troops will be arranged for, as usual, by officers commanding regiments and detachments.

37. Officers, warrant officers and non-commissioned officers, with the exception of those belonging to the British portion of the division, requiring remittances to India, may remit the whole or any part of their pay to India at par on paying the amount to the Field Paymaster, who is authorised to grant transfer remittance receipts on any treasury in India. As an alternative arrangement, officers may leave with the Presidency Paymaster, Bombay, an allotment roll stating the amount they wish to be paid monthly, and the person to whom it should be remitted. That officer will then make the necessary remittance monthly, and he will furnish the Field Paymaster with a list of the sums thus allotted, to enable the latter to make the necessary deduction from officers' pay bills. Remittances to England for the benefit of their families may be made through the Field Paymaster at the official rate of exchange, to the extent of one-half of an officer's clear receipts, exclusive of office and contingent allowances.

38. Officers of the expeditionary force should recover from the pay of followers serving under them the amount that each man may desire to be paid to his family in India, and send to the Controller of Military Accounts, Accounts Branch, Bombay, in time to reach him not later than the 20th of each month, a statement* of such recoveries, according to which the families will be paid under instructions to be issued by that officer. The amount thus recovered should be paid to the Field Paymaster, whose receipt should be entered on, or attached to, the statement.

* Form attached.

39. Every care should be taken to fill in the statements correctly from the tickets given to the men on engagement and the records in the field. 5. Each tender must be accompanied by a receipt from one of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or one of their Branches, or from an Officer in charge of some public Treasury, or by a cheque drawn in favour of the Comptroller General on a Bank in Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay, or by* Government Promissory Notes, standing in the name of or endorsed to the tenderer or the person making the deposit, for not less than one-hundredth, or, if the tender be for less than Five Lakhs of Rupees, then for not less than one-fiftieth part of the tender. If the allotment is not fully taken up, this deposit of one or two per centum will be forfeited; and if one or more Government Promissory Notes have been deposited, such note or notes will be appropriated by the Government and cancelled; otherwise, if the deposit is in cash, it will be treated as in part payment of the last instalment. A cash deposit may, after acceptance of the tender in support of which it is made, be replaced by a Government Promissory Note, as aforesaid.

6. The rate at which a tender is made must not contain a fraction of an anna: if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

7. The rate at which each tender is made must be specified in rupees or rupees and annas: a tender in which no rate is thus specified, but a subscription is offered in some other terms, as, for example, at the recorded minimum, or at some specified percentage in addition to the recorded minimum, or at the average of the accepted tenders, will be rejected as null and void.

8. The minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted will be recorded under the signature of the Comptroller General, and, before the tenders are opened, placed upon the table in a sealed envelope, but will not be declared unless some tender is rejected only because it is below the recorded minimum.

9. Tenders will be opened, publicly, by the Comptroller General at the Currency Office, No. 1, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta, at noon on Wednesday, the 1st November 1882; but the contents of the tenders will not be disclosed otherwise than as provided in clause 11.

10. Tenders at the recorded minimum rate, and at rates above the recorded minimum rate, will be accepted in the order of the rates tendered, beginning with the highest rate; the amount allotted at the lowest rate at which tenders are accepted, will be divided amongst those who have tendered at this rate, in proportion, as nearly as may be found convenient, to the amounts of their tenders.

11. As soon as possible after the 1st November 1882, letters of allotment will be issued to those persons whose tenders are accepted in whole or in part, or to their agents; and an alphabetical list of the names of those to whom such letters of allotment are issued will be posted, for general information, at the Head Offices of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay.

12. Payment of any accepted tender may be made to the account of the Government in the Head Office of one of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, or Bombay, or in any Branch of these Banks, or into any public Treasury or Treasuries in India which may be named in the tender.

13. Accepted tenders must be paid, in equal instalments, as follows:—

One-third on or before Wednesday, the 15th November 1882;
One-third on or before Monday, the 11th December 1882;
One-third on or before Thursday, the 28th December 1882:

but the whole or any part of any accepted tender may be paid at any time after receipt of the letter of allotment.

14. Interest upon each payment will be promptly paid in advance, at the rate of four per centum per annum, from the date of such payment to the last day of January 1883. But, at the option of the allottee and on his paying interest from the first day of August 1882, to date of payment, interest will run from the said first day of August.

15. Scrip receipts for instalments paid will be given by the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, or their Branches, or by the Officers in charge of the Government Treasuries at which payment is made. These receipts will, as soon as possible, be exchanged for Promissory Notes issued under this Notification.

16. Any holder of an allotment may at his option, by paying interest for the difference of time upon any amounts paid up after 1st November 1882, receive in lieu of Promissory Notes in Form A, either Promissory Notes with coupons attached, or Stock Certificates (Form B) with coupons attached, and payable to bearer, in accordance with the Loan Notification of this Department, dated 27th June 1881 (i.e., *The Four Per Cent. NOTICE.

Waste Lands available for Planters in the Tavoy District.

Waste lands, covered at present with forest, bamboos or grass, are available for plantations of coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices at altitudes varying from 100 feet to 6,800 feet above the sea in the Tavoy district. This region is between the 13th and 14th parallels of north latitude, and the rainfall ranges from 190 to 220 inches a year. The lands are mostly within 30 to 50 miles of the steamer station of Thayetchoung on the Tavoy river. Mail steamers ply between Thayetchoung and Moulmein or Rangoon once a week inwards and outwards.

II.—Grants of land in lots ranging from 100 to 1,200 acres can be had for planting tea, coffee, cinchona, or spices on application to the Deputy Commissioner of Tavoy. Such grants will be made in accordance with the "Burma Land and Revenue Act, 1876," and with the rules sanctioned thereunder by the Governor General of India in Council. Copies of the Act and rules can be obtained by intending planters on application to the Deputy Commissioner of Tavoy, the Commissioner of Tenasserim at Moulmein, or the Secretariat, Rangoon.

III.—In addition to the concessions and conditions laid down in the Act and rules, the following special concessions will be made to persons taking up land for plantations of coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices in Tavoy, namely,—

(1) A grantee must bring under cultivation one-third of his grant within 12 years from the date of his obtaining the grant. If, after the expiration of 12 years, any surplus uncultivated land, in excess of two acres of waste for each acre of cultivated land, shall remain on the grant, such surplus waste shall then revert to Government; and the grantee shall have no further claim or right in the surplus which has so reverted.

(2) A grantee will not be liable to pay any land revenue or any price for the land of his grant until the end of the tenth year after he enters on possession, provided that he takes bonâ fide steps to cultivate a reasonable proportion of the grant with coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices. In the event of any grantee desiring a more precise definition of a "reasonable proportion," the Chief Commissioner may decide beforehand in each case what proportion of the grant ought to be thus cultivated in each year.

(3) After the end of the tenth year the grantee will be liable to pay land revenue at the rate of Rs. 1-4-0 per acre and cesses at the rate of two annas per acre on one-third of his grant up to the year 1900 A. D.; after the expiration of such year he will be liable to pay for one-third of his grant the same revenue rate as is paid for garden lands in the nearest revenue circle where a garden rate obtains.

(4) A grantee will not be called upon to pay anything for timber, bamboos, or grass which he may cut upon his grant, provided he takes bonâ fide steps as aforesaid to cultivate coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices.

IV.—The only payment which a grantee will have to make on receiving his grant will be eight annas an acre for the cost of survey and demarcation. In consideration of such payment the Deputy Commissioner will cause a survey to be made of the grant, will furnish the grantee with a copy of such survey, and will cause boundary marks to be erected at suitable points in the outer boundary of the grant.

V.—The wishes of applicants will be met as far as possible in regard to the situation and shape of their grants. But ordinarily—

(a) no grant will be given where the Forest Department intend to make a forest reserve;

(b) no grant will be given on such a place as will unduly circumscribe the extension of cultivation of the grazing grounds of any neighbouring village or hamlet;

(c) grants facing a road or navigable stream will have to be of a depth double the length facing such road or navigable stream;

(d) small strips will be reserved leading to landing places for the benefit of neighbouring villages and grantees.

VI.—The Government is now spending much larger sums than heretofore on roads in the Tavoy district. If planters settle in the district, further funds will be allotted for roads from their neighbourhood to the steamer station at either Tavoy or Thayetchoung.

VII.—In order to encourage pioneers in the coffee and cinchona enterprise in Tavoy, the Government will pay to the first four grantees who begin bonâ fide planting operations Rs. 15 per head for every Indian or Chinese coolie, male or female, over 16 years of age, who may be settled and housed on their plantations before the 1st March 1885.

VIII.—In any case of doubt regarding the bonâ fide character of operations for the purposes of concessions III and VII, the Deputy Commissioner will decide, and his decision will be subject to appeal to the Commissioner of Tenasserim, whose decision will be final.

IX.—All minerals and metals under and within the lands granted under these rules are reserved by Government, together with a right to enter upon and resume such portion of land as may be necessary for examining or working mines upon payment of just compensation to the grantee for loss of, or injury done to, the surface.

G. D. BURGESS,
Secy. to the Chief Commr., British Burma.

The 6th April 1882.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

IRRIGATION BRANCH.

IRRIGATION OPERATIONS OF THE NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES FOR THE KHARIF SEASON 1881-82.

No. 454I., dated Allahabad, the 1st March 1882.

RESOLUTION—By the Government, North-Western Provinces and Oudh.

Read—

Statements A, B and C-14 for kharíf, 1881-82.

OBSERVATIONS.—The kharíf season of the year 1881 was characterised by moderate and seasonable rains through June, July and August, when water is in greatest request for kharíf grain crops, and by a scanty fall in September. Thus the season differed in character from that of the preceding year, when the almost entire cessation of rain during August and the first half of September caused a great deal of canal-water to be taken for the grain crops.

In spite, however, of the season of 1880 being apparently more favourable to canal-irrigation than that of 1881, there is a slight increase on the latter: the total area of 1881 being 706,025 acres against 700,139 in 1880.

The differences of the two seasons are, however, at once apparent in the details of the irrigation given below, which show the increase of cotton and indigo at the expense of food-crops—

	1880-81.	1881-82.
Sugarcane . . .	135,292	164,569
Food-grains . . .	277,317	135,159
Dyes, fibres and others . .	287,530	406,297
TOTAL .	700,139	706,025

The above table indicates how readily the irrigation now adapts itself to the wants of the season, and what a permanent hold it has taken of the agriculture of the canal-irrigated districts.

2. The following statement shows in detail the areas of the principal crops irrigated during the last four years :—

	1878.	1879.	1880.	1881.
Sugarcane	147,661	165,661	135,292	164,569
Rice	79,257	75,903	135,570	101,755
Bajra and juar	12,079	6,635	43,266	4,141
Maize	65,818	17,265	89,274	22,376
Other food-grains	19,326	12,535	9,207	6,887
Fodder crops	17,155	5,996	7,924	4,554
Fibres	74,532	59,580	63,680	63,247
Dyes	228,284	185,195	194,983	319,992
Miscellaneous	15,914	26,871	20,943	18,504
TOTAL	660,026	555,641	700,139	706,025

Sugar, following probably the fluctuations of the market, has risen again to the area of 1879. There was a decrease in rice everywhere except in the Northern Division of the Ganges Canal and on the Eastern Jumna Canal, where it is a firmly established staple crop. There was a decrease also on the Rohilkhand Canals, but the large area irrigated on the latter canals in 1880 was quite exceptional. The decrease in food-grains has already been commented on. The area of cotton for the two years was nearly the same. Dyes increased by 125,009 acres, which is 64 per cent. of the area of 1880. Of this increase, however, 36,707* acres was due to the spread of irrigation on the Lower Ganges and Agra Canals. At the same time there was a very large increase in the Anúpshahr, Bulandshahr, and Aligarh Divisions of the Ganges, and in the Cawnpore and Etáwah Divisions of the Lower Ganges Canals, so that the aggregate area is very much in excess of the highest area hitherto recorded.

* Lower Ganges Canal	21,890
Agra Canal	14,817

3. The following compares the areas of the two years 1880 and 1881 by canals :—

On the Upper Ganges Canal the increase was in indigo, which was more than double the area of the preceding years, and the decrease was chiefly in food-grains; but there was a decrease of 5,000 acres in cotton also, due doubtless to the difference in the two seasons.

The increase in the Lower Ganges Canal was due entirely to the new Divisions, as shown in the margin.* The Bhognipur Division shows 21,266 acres as its first kharíf irrigation, and of this 16,794 acres is indigo,—a crop which is sure to maintain its area.

The following gives further details of the areas for the two years on the newly opened lines of the Lower Ganges Canal :—

	1880.	1881.
Sugarcane	2,739	6,652
Indigo	13,171	51,855
Cotton	1,220	250
Others	11,587	7,770

The large proportion of sugarcane and indigo during 1881 is an encouraging sign of the future of this canal.

There is an increase of 20,470 acres on the Agra Canal. This, again, has been in the more valuable crops, as shown below :—

	1880-81.	1881-82.
Sugarcane . . .	1,063	2,148
Cotton, &c. . . .	16,546	27,665
Indigo . . .	7,865	22,682
Others . . .	10,553	4,002

There is, however, no rice irrigation at present.

In the Rohilkhand Canals the decrease was wholly in sugarcane and rice, which indeed absorb 98 per cent. of the irrigation. The irrigation in Rohilkhand is materially affected by the season and by the supply of water in the streams. In 1880 there was a scarcity of rain on the plains, while there was a good supply of water in the hill streams. In 1881 the rainfall in the plains was more seasonable, and so less irrigation was done.

The decrease in the Dún irrigation was in sugarcane, and was due to the same cause.

4. The following statement compares the assessment on account of occupiers' rates for the last four years :—

TOTAL .	18,56,440	17,42,699	18,92,735	21,15,706

The rate per acre is close to Rs. 3, which is higher than the rate of any other year except that of 1879, when the rate was Rs. 3·14. The slightly lower rate of 1881 is due to the very large proportion of indigo. As the irrigation on the new canals increases, the higher rates assessed on this irrigation will begin to tell.

ORDERED, that copies of this Resolution be submitted to the Government of India for information; that it be circulated as usual to other Governments and Departments; and that it be published in the Government Gazette.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING THE 2nd MAY 1882.

GENERAL REMARKS.—There has been some rain in most districts of the Madras Presidency, and slight showers in two districts of Mysore. In the Bombay Presidency light rain has occurred in two districts, and in the Central Provinces in one district. Assam still continues to record more or less heavy showers.

The harvesting of a few crops is still going on in some districts of the Madras Presidency. Coffee blossoms and rice ears are setting in Coorg. In the Mysore State wet crops have withered in parts, but elsewhere are in a fair condition; and harvesting of sugarcane continues. In the Bombay Presidency the rabi harvest has now been completed. In the Punjab it is progressing. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh it has been completed, and sugarcane is being irrigated. In Bengal standing crops are doing well.

Preparations for kharif sowings have either just begun or are progressing in the Central Provinces, in the Bombay Presidency, in Berar. In Bengal rain is reported to be much wanted in several districts for cultivation of the autumn crops, and the spring rice harvest is expected to yield a good crop. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh the produce of the late harvest is coming into the markets. In Dharwar rain is now urgently wanted, and in a part of Ahmednagar the water-supply is failing. The want of water is also felt in some taluks of the Nizam's Territories. In the Mysore State water and pasturage are scarce, and prospects depend on seasonable rain. In the Madras Presidency standing crops are generally fair or good, and preparations for the next crop have begun in Malabar and Travancore.

NOTICE.

Waste Lands available for Planters in the Tavoy District.

Waste lands, covered at present with forest, bamboos or grass, are available for plantations of coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices at altitudes varying from 100 feet to 6,800 feet above the sea in the Tavoy district. This region is between the 13th and 14th parallels of north latitude, and the rainfall ranges from 190 to 220 inches a year. The lands are mostly within 30 to 50 miles of the steamer station of Thayetchoung on the Tavoy river. Mail steamers ply between Thayetchoung and Moulmein or Rangoon once a week inwards and outwards.

II.—Grants of land in lots ranging from 100 to 1,200 acres can be had for planting tea, coffee, cinchona, or spices on application to the Deputy Commissioner of Tavoy. Such grants will be made in accordance with the "Burma Land and Revenue Act, 1876," and with the rules sanctioned thereunder by the Governor General of India in Council. Copies of the Act and rules can be obtained by intending planters on application to the Deputy Commissioner of Tavoy, the Commissioner of Tenasserim at Moulmein, or the Secretariat, Rangoon.

III.—In addition to the concessions and conditions laid down in the Act and rules, the following special concessions will be made to persons taking up land for plantations of coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices in Tavoy, namely,—

(1) A grantee must bring under cultivation one-third of his grant within 12 years from the date of his obtaining the grant. If, after the expiration of 12 years, any surplus uncultivated land, in excess of two acres of waste for each acre of cultivated land, shall remain on the grant, such surplus waste shall then revert to Government; and the grantee shall have no further claim or right in the surplus which has so reverted.

(2) A grantee will not be liable to pay any land revenue or any price for the land of his grant until the end of the tenth year after he enters on possession, provided that he takes bonâ fide steps to cultivate a reasonable proportion of the grant with coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices. In the event of any grantee desiring a more precise definition of a "reasonable proportion," the Chief Commissioner may decide beforehand in each case what proportion of the grant ought to be thus cultivated in each year.

(3) After the end of the tenth year the grantee will be liable to pay land revenue at the rate of Rs. 1-4-0 per acre and cesses at the rate of two annas per acre on one-third of his grant up to the year 1900 A. D.; after the expiration of such year he will be liable to pay for one-third of his grant the same revenue rate as is paid for garden lands in the nearest revenue circle where a garden rate obtains.

(4) A grantee will not be called upon to pay anything for timber, bamboos, or grass which he may cut upon his grant, provided he takes bonâ fide steps as aforesaid to cultivate coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices.

IV.—The only payment which a grantee will have to make on receiving his grant will be eight annas an acre for the cost of survey and demarcation. In consideration of such payment the Deputy Commissioner will cause a survey to be made of the grant, will furnish the grantee with a copy of such survey, and will cause boundary marks to be erected at suitable points in the outer boundary of the grant.

V.—The wishes of applicants will be met as far as possible in regard to the situation and shape of their grants. But ordinarily—

(a) no grant will be given where the Forest Department intend to make a forest reserve;

(b) no grant will be given on such a place as will unduly circumscribe the extension of cultivation of the grazing grounds of any neighbouring village or hamlet;

(c) grants facing a road or navigable stream will have to be of a depth double the length facing such road or navigable stream;

(d) small strips will be reserved leading to landing places for the benefit of neighbouring villages and grantees.

VI.—The Government is now spending much larger sums than heretofore on roads in the Tavoy district. If planters settle in the district, further funds will be allotted for roads from their neighbourhood to the steamer station at either Tavoy or Thayetchoung.

VII.—In order to encourage pioneers in the coffee and cinchona enterprise in Tavoy, the Government will pay to the first four grantees who begin bonâ fide planting operations Rs. 15 per head for every Indian or Chinese coolie, male or female, over 16 years of age, who may be settled and housed on their plantations before the 1st March 1885.

VIII.—In any case of doubt regarding the bonâ fide character of operations for the purposes of concessions III and VII, the Deputy Commissioner will decide, and his decision will be subject to appeal to the Commissioner of Tenasserim, whose decision will be final.

IX.—All minerals and metals under and within the lands granted under these rules are reserved by Government, together with a right to enter upon and resume such portion of land as may be necessary for examining or working mines upon payment of just compensation to the grantee for loss of, or injury done to, the surface.

G. D. BURGESS,
Secy. to the Chief Commr., British Burma.

U. S. F. P. FUND OFFICE,

The 20th April 1882.

NOTIFICATION.

With the consent of the Government of India, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore is prepared to receive tenders for a Debenture Loan of (Rs. 20,00,000) twenty lakhs of Rupees on the security of the general revenues of the Mysore Province. The amount of the Loan is to be expended entirely on the construction of an important line of railway from Bangalore to Tiptoor, a distance of about 85 miles.

2. Debentures will be issued for the said amount bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 15th February and 15th August of each year and having a currency of twenty years. The interest will be payable at any of the Government Treasuries of the Mysore Province or at the Banks of Bengal, Madras or Bombay and their branches.

3. The form of Debenture Bonds will be that given below. Each Debenture will be issued for the sum of Rs. (500) five hundred, or some multiple of Rs. 500.

4. Tenders for the whole or any part of the above-named sum of Rs. (20,00,000) twenty lakhs will be received by the Comptroller to the Mysore Government at Bangalore up to noon on the 1st July 1882.

5. Each tender should be in the form hereto annexed, and enclosed in a sealed cover superscribed "Tender for the Mysore Railway Loan of 1882," and sent to the Comptroller to the Government of Mysore at Bangalore.

6. The tenders will be opened at the Dewan's Office at Bangalore in the presence of the Dewan and other members of the Mysore Government on the 1st July 1882 at noon, a minimum rate having first been fixed by the Dewan.

7. Each tender must be accompanied by the deposit of a sum equal to 2 per cent. of the amount tendered. Such deposit may be made by paying the amount to the credit of the Dewan of Mysore at the Banks of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, or at any of their branches, or at any of the Treasuries of the Mysore Government, and forwarding with the tender the receipt of such Bank or Treasury or by a Money Order payable to the Dewan of Mysore, or by Government of India Promissory Notes duly endorsed in favor of the Dewan of Mysore.

8. If the tender be accepted either in whole or in part, the deposit made will be taken in part payment, and the tenderer must arrange for the payment of the remainder of the amount of the loan allotted to him on or before the 15th August 1882 into any of the Treasuries of the Mysore Government, or into the Banks of Bengal, Madras or Bombay or any of their branches to the credit of the Dewan of Mysore, failing which the deposit made will be forfeited.

9. Debentures will be issued as soon as possible after receipt of the amount of allotment.

10. The deposit on tenders which may not be accepted will be returned on application.

11. In the case of two or more tenders at the same rate (not being below the minimum), a pro rata allotment will, if necessary, be made.

12. The rate stated in a tender must not contain any fraction of an anna; if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out, and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

13. In order to avoid mistakes, a separate tender must be made at each rate tendered, and a separate deposit must accompany each tender.

14. The annual revenues of the Mysore Province amount at present to Rs. 1,06,00,000 (one hundred and six lakhs of Rupees), and are expected to yield an annual surplus of five lakhs after defraying all charges and providing for repayments on account of the Famine Loan due to the Government of India.

15. Arrangements will be made for securing negotiability to the Debentures in British India free of Stamp Duty.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE INDIAN TELEGRAPH DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1880-81.

Nos. 186-202T., dated Simla, the 29th April 1882.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Read—

Letter No. 601T., dated the 10th January 1882, from the Director General of Telegraphs, together with its enclosure, the Administration Report of the Indian Telegraph Department for the year 1880-81.

RESOLUTION.—The result of operations for the five years from 1876-77 to 1880-81 shows that, in the year under review, the surplus of revenue receipts over the charges has for the first time more than covered the interest on the capital, calculated at the rate of 4½ per cent.

2. The surplus, after deducting interest, is Rs. 2,01,556, which is highly satisfactory, even allowing for the reduction of the total capital expenditure, which has been effected under the orders of Government for the recasting of the Capital Account of the Department. Under these orders the Capital Account has been reduced from Rs. 3,41,02,791, at which it stood in 1879-80, to Rs. 2,54,95 420 at the close of the year under review, the cost of abandoned lines having been struck out of the account.

3. The Ceylon Government resumed charge of its telegraph system from the 1st July 1880.

4. Some lines in Biluchistan and Afghanistan were abandoned during the year, and owing to this, and the transfer of the Ceylon Telegraphs, the line mileage has been reduced from 20,468 to 19,679; but the erection of additional wires on existing posts, &c., has increased the wire mileage from 51,945 to 54,433.

5. The value of stores purchased in India bears as yet a very small proportion (only about 15 per cent.) to those purchased in London. The quality of stores required for the Department is not such as can, as a rule, be procured in India.

6. Certain alterations in the Inland Tariff came into operation on the 1st April 1880, generally resulting in a reduction of charges. Notwithstanding this, however, the total number and value of paid messages exceeded those of the previous year.

7. The changes in the Foreign Tariff tended rather to an increase in the rates, but the percentages, both of number and value, were considerably greater than those of the previous year.

8. The average speed of transmission of messages over the main lines is, on the whole, satisfactory, as is also the fact that fewer interruptions to traffic occurred than in the previous years.

9. The report under review is noticeable as containing a reference to telephones, which have already been established in Simla, and were also used during the siege of Kandahar in August 1880.

10. The reorganisation of the Telegraph Department was sanctioned in the year under review, but was allowed to have retrospective effect from the 1st April 1880.

11. In future reports, one system of orthography should be adopted, and also one system of nomenclature for the different lines. At present, in some cases, the same names are differently spelt, and the same lines are differently named.

12. Private lines should in future be kept distinct from local lines, and the telephone lines separate from both.

13. Diagram B should also in future reports show the capital cost of telegraph lines, as well as the total collections.

14. The Government of India records, with much satisfaction, its appreciation of the able manner in which the Department has been administered during the year, and of the results of the year's operations.

Madras, Bombay, Bengal, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, Punjab, Central Provinces, British Burma, Assam, Hyderabad, Central India, and Rajputana.

ORDER.—Ordered, that copies of this Resolution and of the Report be forwarded to the Secretary of State, and to the Local Governments and Administrations noted in the margin, and to the Government of Ceylon and the Commissioner in Sind.

Also, to the Foreign Department for communication to the Resident at Mysore and Coorg.

Also, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Director General of Telegraphs for information and guidance.

Also, that a copy of this Resolution and of the Report and Appendices A, B and F, be forwarded to the Home Department of the Government of India for information, and be published in the Gazette of India.

W. S. TREVOR, Colonel, R. E.,

ADMINISTRATION REPORT

OF

FOR

1880-81.

THE operations of the Department for the year 1880-81 continue to be satisfactory, and, by a most singular coincidence, show precisely the same total result as that of last year, viz., a surplus of earnings over working expenses of Rs. 13,19,363,* the total working expenses being Rs. 32,00,967 and the earnings Rs. 45,20,330. In reality the results are more satisfactory than those of last year, inasmuch as the same net profit has been arrived at, though the value of free copies of Government and Press messages, credited to Revenue in previous years, has been omitted from the accounts of the present year.

2. The number of paid telegrams increased from 1,562,511 in 1879-80 to 1,656,230, of which latter 1,358,477 were inland and 297,753 foreign.

3. The miles of lines decreased from 20,468 to 19,679, and the miles of wires increased from 51,945 to 54,433. In addition 1,655 miles of wire, not the property of Government, were maintained by the Department for the service of Railway Companies, as against 1,761 during the previous year. The decrease in the miles of lines is owing to the re-transfer to the Ceylon Government of the lines in Ceylon, and also to the dismantling of the lines in Afghanistan. The increase in the mileage of wire is due to the erection of additional wires on the existing supports. The decrease in the mileage of wire, not the property of Government but maintained by this Department, is also due to the re-transfer to the Ceylon Government of the Ceylon Railway lines.

4. The number of Departmental Offices decreased from 276 to 254, and at the close of the year 680 Railway Telegraph Offices were technically supervised by the Department as against 633 during the previous year.

5. Notwithstanding the increase of traffic, the speed of transmission has been well maintained, and on the main routes, Calcutta to Bombay and Calcutta to Madras, has slightly increased. Details will be found at paragraph 27.

* After providing for a loss of Rs. 10,804 sustained in working the Ceylon system of Telegraphs for three months 1st April to 30th June 1880.

6. A clear idea of the progress that has been made year by year will be readily obtained from the following table and from diagrams A, B, C, attached to this Report:—

REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE.

7. The total net capital expenditure of the Department during the year amounted to Rs. 9,88,543. Under orders of Government the capital account has been reduced by deducting the cost of abandoned lines, &c., and now stands at the close of the year 1880-81 at Rs. 2,54,99,765.

8. The following is a brief statement of receipts and expenditure on revenue account of the whole Department, including India and Ceylon, for the year 1880-81:—

9. The following is an abstract revenue account for India only for 1880-81, with corresponding figures for 1879-80 :—

Grand Total	42,51,446	45,01,637	Total Receipts	42,51,446	45,01,637

From the foregoing statement it will be seen that the revenue expenditure this year is more than that of last year by Rs. 2,61,478. This increase is attributable to expenditure for repairs of lines and maintenance of Railway Offices being more than in the previous year, also to share of establishment, less charged to works, annual increments to signallers, &c., and return of establishment lent for Afghan War. The increase of message revenue over that of last year, excluding Ceylon, is Rs. 2,12,454. This is due to the natural growth of traffic. Receipts from Railways show an increase of Rs. 90,318. This is due to the management of additional Railways having been taken over by this Department. The proformâ message revenue shows a decrease of Rs. 67,475, due principally to the value of free copies of Government and Press messages having been excluded from the revenue for 1880-81.

10. Summaries of the financial results obtained in working the telegraphs in India and Ceylon for the year 1880-81 are shown in Appendix A, together with the results of the operations for the last five years.

Complaints.

23. In Appendix F will be found particulars of all the complaints received from the public during the year, those in which this Department was concerned being separated from those chargeable to Railway or foreign Telegraph lines. For facility of comparison the figures of the previous year are given underneath in antique type.

24. The number of complaints received from the public in which this Department is concerned, compared with those received in the previous year, shows a decrease of 6 per cent. against an increase of traffic of about 6* per cent., a result which may be considered satisfactory. There is a slight increase in the Railway and foreign message complaints, but the total numbers are small.

25. The complaints of non-delivery in which this Department is concerned show a satisfactory result, as the number is less by 19 per cent. than that of the preceding year, against an increase of 5 per cent. in the total number of undelivered messages. The number of complaints rejected, being groundless and for want of documents, &c., is greater than the number of those admitted. The number of complaints under the head Miscellaneous is also less than that of last year.

26. The number of admitted complaints in which other administrations are concerned is about 51 per cent. in excess of last year, against an increase of traffic in Railway and foreign telegrams of about 23 per cent. This increase of complaints is chiefly due to the inexperience of the signalling staff on the State Railway lines.

Speed of Transmission.

27. The average time occupied in the transmission of messages over the long main routes during the year under review and the four previous years was as follows :—

	1876-77.		1877-78.		1878-79.		1879-80.		1880-81.

* The increase of traffic, exclusive of Ceylon, is 9·3 per cent.

† Average of first three months only. Paumben cable interrupted 34 days.

The speed of transmission for the last 14 years is shown in Diagram C.

News-free Messages.

28. Reports of the state of the weather, of the arrivals of mail steamers, &c., show a decrease both in number and value, owing chiefly to the withdrawal of a large number of meteorological reports from the free list.

	No.	Value. Rs.

Traffic with Railway Telegraphs.

29. Appendix G shows the number and value of messages exchanged with State and Guaranteed Railways during the past eight years. A comparison of the figures of the period under report with those of the preceding three years shews the following result:—

Particulars.	1877-78.			1878-79.			1879-80.			1880-81.

Press Messages.

30. The number and value of Press messages sent at reduced rates during the year by Reuter's Telegraph Company, and by other associations or individuals, are given in Appendix H. As compared with last year, the number is more by 848, but the value is less by Rs. 4,725. This result is due to the introduction from April last of the deferred rate for Press messages.

Undelivered Messages.

31. The number of undelivered messages during 1880-81 was 5,250, as against 4,992 of the previous year. The causes of non-delivery were as follows:—

	No.
1. Not found, address insufficient	1,282
2. Not found at address given	1,678
3. Address changed in transmission	71
4. Left station, new address not known	347
5. Left India	195
6. Left for original station	1,099
7. Refused	120
8. Returned by Dead Letter Office	194
9. Addressee, or the address given, unknown	125
10. Other reasons	139
Total	5,250

There is an absolute increase of 258 undelivered messages or 5·16 per cent. over the figures of the preceding year. Of this increase, however, the net increase under items 2, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, which are beyond departmental control, is 174 or 3·48 per cent.; while under items 1, 3, 9 and 10, which alone can be influenced by the action of the Department, the increase is only 84 or 1·68 per cent., against an increase of traffic of 9·31 per cent.

Interruptions on Departmental Lines.

32. The following figures show that there has been a decrease in both the number and duration of interruptions, as compared with those of previous years. The statement includes interruptions due to extraordinary causes, details of which are given further on :—

	1877-78.	1878-79.	1879-80.	1880-81.
Total number of interruptions .	386	350	310	300

Interruptions for every 100 miles of line . . .	0·92	0·80	0·59	0·54

33. The interruptions during the year due to extraordinary causes, and included in the above figures, were as follows :—

July 1880.—Between Ngathineyoung and Bassein, lasting 139 hours. Country flooded, line broken in several places and submerged. Great flood in the Irrawaddy River. The whole country below the embankment under water to a considerable depth for a mile on either side of the river.

July 1880.—Between Amritsar and Dharmsala, lasting 150 hours. Top of standard in Chukky River, 73 miles from Amritsar, broken, and about 200 yards of wire carried away by the current.

September 1880.—Between Naini Tâl and Ranikhet, lasting 328 hours. Line greatly damaged by landslips at and near Naini Tâl.

September 1880.—Between Moradabad and Naini Tâl, lasting 200 hours. The masts at the Kossee and Ramgunga Rivers were washed down by very heavy floods.

September 1880.—Between Chandausie and Bareilly and Chandausie and Aligarh, lasting 180 hours. Five posts were washed down between the 2nd and 16th mile from Chandausie during heavy floods. About 8 miles of posts and wires were also washed down by heavy floods between the Bijhoi and Babrala Railway Stations.

October 1880.—Between Naini Tâl and Ranikhet, lasting 206 hours. Continuation of previous months' interruptions caused by heavy rain and landslips at Naini Tâl.

November 1880.—Between Bangalore and Bellary, lasting 136 hours. Both wires caught in branches of a tree which was floating down the river during heavy floods near Jogunhally Tank, 87 miles from Bangalore: two posts washed down and a portion of the line imbedded in the river, and also carried away.

Signalling Establishment.

34. There were 942 departmental and 181 Military Telegraph Masters and Signallers on the strength of the establishment on the 31st March 1881, as compared with 903 and 205, respectively, on the 31st March 1880. Of the Military Telegraph Masters and Signallers, 128 were employed in departmental offices, and 53 in purely military offices.

35. In addition, 172 Military Signallers were trained during the year and obtained certificates of proficiency, and 75 were under training when the year closed.

36. The casualties among departmental Telegraph Masters and Signallers have been 25, as per margin, against 31 during the previous year, a percentage of 2·65 against 3·43 of last year.

Electrical.

37. In the report for 1879-80 it was stated that on the 1st of August 1879 the services of the Electrician, Mr. C. L. Schwendler, were temporarily placed at the disposal of the East Indian Railway Company for work in connection with the electric light, and that Mr. W. P. Johnston had been appointed to officiate as Electrician. Mr. Johnston continued in that appointment up to the 8th of June 1880, when he was relieved by the return to duty of Mr. Schwendler, who retained the office for the remainder of the year.

EXTENSIONS OF LINES AND WIRES AND LINE MAINTENANCE.

38. Appendix I is a classified list of all Telegraph lines in India and Burma on the 31st March 1881. The following are the total mileages of line, wire, and cable contrasted with those existing on the same date in 1880:—

	Line. Miles.	Wire. Miles.	Cable. Miles.
1879-80	20,468	51,834	111
1880-81	19,679	54,318	115

39. In addition to the above, the Department maintained 667 miles of line and 1,655 miles of wire, the property of Railway Companies, particulars of which are given in Appendix J.

40. The principal works executed in each Division are as follows:—

Arracan Division.

41. A private line of 3·7 miles in length was constructed for Messrs. Mohr Brothers at Akyab: a new cable laid across the Mayu River in place of the old India-rubber cable laid in 1870, which failed, and the India-rubber cable of 1870 across the Kureedey River repaired. The replacing of the iron-hooded insulators on sections Chittagong to Roo and Roo to Tounghoop by old pattern Prussian porcelain insulators was in progress: 282 new iron-wood posts and 4 new masts were erected in place of others that had become unserviceable, and the usual heavy jungle-clearing and repairs were carried out.

Assam Division.

42. REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING THE 9th MAY 1882.

GENERAL REMARKS.—More or less heavy showers have again fallen in Assam, and also in almost all districts of Bengal. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh heavy rain fell in Gorakhpur, and slight showers in eight other districts. In the Central Provinces there have been occasional showers in a few places. In the Mysore State rain has been reported in two districts. In the Madras Presidency fair showers have been recorded in some districts and good rain in the extreme south-west. In British Burma there has been rain in several districts.

The harvest of certain crops continues in the Madras Presidency, with an outturn either fair or below average. The harvest of spring rice has commenced in parts of the Mysore State. Indigo, sugarcane, and other crops on the ground are doing well in Bengal, where also the reaping of spring rice is progressing, with a good outturn on the whole. The rabi harvest still continues in the Punjab and is yielding a good outturn.

General prospects may be said to be favourable throughout Northern India. In Bengal and Assam the recent rain has been highly beneficial to ploughing and sowing, which are now progressing satisfactorily. In the Central Provinces, in Berar, and in the Bombay Presidency land continues to be prepared for the kharif sowings. Rain is, however, urgently wanted in Dharwar, and scarcity of drinking-water is felt in parts of Ahmednagar and Belgaum, as well as in parts of the Nizam's Territories. In the Mysore State the standing crops are in bad condition, except those under large tanks; but prospects are reported to be fairly good on the whole. In Coorg rain is much wanted in the south and north-east. In the Madras Presidency standing crops are generally fair, ploughing and sowing are progressing in the extreme south, and general prospects are fair.

NOTICE.

Waste Lands available for Planters in the Tavoy District.

Waste lands, covered at present with forest, bamboos or grass, are available for plantations of coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices at altitudes varying from 100 feet to 6,800 feet above the sea in the Tavoy district. This region is between the 13th and 14th parallels of north latitude, and the rainfall ranges from 190 to 220 inches a year. The lands are mostly within 30 to 50 miles of the steamer station of Thayetchoung on the Tavoy river. Mail steamers ply between Thayetchoung and Moulmein or Rangoon once a week inwards and outwards.

II.—Grants of land in lots ranging from 100 to 1,200 acres can be had for planting tea, coffee, cinchona, or spices on application to the Deputy Commissioner of Tavoy. Such grants will be made in accordance with the "Burma Land and Revenue Act, 1876," and with the rules sanctioned thereunder by the Governor General of India in Council. Copies of the Act and rules can be obtained by intending planters on application to the Deputy Commissioner of Tavoy, the Commissioner of Tenasserim at Moulmein, or the Secretariat, Rangoon.

III.—In addition to the concessions and conditions laid down in the Act and rules, the following special concessions will be made to persons taking up land for plantations of coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices in Tavoy, namely,—

(1) A grantee must bring under cultivation one-third of his grant within 12 years from the date of his obtaining the grant. If, after the expiration of 12 years, any surplus uncultivated land, in excess of two acres of waste for each acre of cultivated land, shall remain on the grant, such surplus waste shall then revert to Government; and the grantee shall have no further claim or right in the surplus which has so reverted.

(2) A grantee will not be liable to pay any land revenue or any price for the land of his grant until the end of the tenth year after he enters on possession, provided that he takes bonâ fide steps to cultivate a reasonable proportion of the grant with coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices. In the event of any grantee desiring a more precise definition of a "reasonable proportion," the Chief Commissioner may decide beforehand in each case what proportion of the grant ought to be thus cultivated in each year.

(3) After the end of the tenth year the grantee will be liable to pay land revenue at the rate of Rs. 1-4-0 per acre and cesses at the rate of two annas per acre on one-third of his grant up to the year 1900 A. D.; after the expiration of such year he will be liable to pay for one-third of his grant the same revenue rate as is paid for garden lands in the nearest revenue circle where a garden rate obtains.

(4) A grantee will not be called upon to pay anything for timber, bamboos, or grass which he may cut upon his grant, provided he takes bonâ fide steps as aforesaid to cultivate coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices.

IV.—The only payment which a grantee will have to make on receiving his grant will be eight annas an acre for the cost of survey and demarcation. In consideration of such payment the Deputy Commissioner will cause a survey to be made of the grant, will furnish the grantee with a copy of such survey, and will cause boundary marks to be erected at suitable points in the outer boundary of the grant.

V.—The wishes of applicants will be met as far as possible in regard to the situation and shape of their grants. But ordinarily—

(a) no grant will be given where the Forest Department intend to make a forest reserve;

(b) no grant will be given on such a place as will unduly circumscribe the extension of cultivation of the grazing grounds of any neighbouring village or hamlet;

(c) grants facing a road or navigable stream will have to be of a depth double the length facing such road or navigable stream;

(d) small strips will be reserved leading to landing places for the benefit of neighbouring villages and grantees.

VI.—The Government is now spending much larger sums than heretofore on roads in the Tavoy district. If planters settle in the district, further funds will be allotted for roads from their neighbourhood to the steamer station at either Tavoy or Thayetchoung.

VII.—In order to encourage pioneers in the coffee and cinchona enterprise in Tavoy, the Government will pay to the first four grantees who begin bonâ fide planting operations Rs. 15 per head for every Indian or Chinese coolie, male or female, over 16 years of age, who may be settled and housed on their plantations before the 1st March 1885.

VIII.—In any case of doubt regarding the bonâ fide character of operations for the purposes of concessions III and VII, the Deputy Commissioner will decide, and his decision will be subject to appeal to the Commissioner of Tenasserim, whose decision will be final.

IX.—All minerals and metals under and within the lands granted under these rules are reserved by Government, together with a right to enter upon and resume such portion of land as may be necessary for examining or working mines upon payment of just compensation to the grantee for loss of, or injury done to, the surface.

G. D. BURGESS,
Secy. to the Chief Commr., British Burma.

The 6th April 1882.

Advertisements and Notices by Private Individuals and Corporations.

NOTIFICATION.

With the consent of the Government of India, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore is prepared to receive tenders for a Debenture Loan of (Rs. 20,00,000) twenty lakhs of Rupees on the security of the general revenues of the Mysore Province. The amount of the Loan is to be expended entirely on the construction of an important line of railway from Bangalore to Tiptoor, a distance of about 85 miles.

2. Debentures will be issued for the said amount bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 15th February and 15th August of each year and having a currency of twenty years. The interest will be payable at any of the Government Treasuries of the Mysore Province or at the Banks of Bengal, Madras or Bombay and their branches.

3. The form of Debenture Bonds will be that given below. Each Debenture will be issued for the sum of Rs. (500) five hundred, or some multiple of Rs. 500.

4. Tenders for the whole or any part of the above-named sum of Rs. (20,00,000) twenty lakhs will be received by the Comptroller to the Mysore Government at Bangalore up to noon on the 1st July 1882.

5. Each tender should be in the form hereto annexed, and enclosed in a sealed cover superscribed "Tender for the Mysore Railway Loan of 1882," and sent to the Comptroller to the Government of Mysore at Bangalore.

6. The tenders will be opened at the Dewan's Office at Bangalore in the presence of the Dewan and other members of the Mysore Government on the 1st July 1882 at noon, a minimum rate having first been fixed by the Dewan.

7. Each tender must be accompanied by the deposit of a sum equal to 2 per cent. of the amount tendered. Such deposit may be made by paying the amount to the credit of the Dewan of Mysore at the Banks of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, or at any of their branches, or at any of the Treasuries of the Mysore Government, and forwarding with the tender the receipt of such Bank or Treasury or by a Money Order payable to the Dewan of Mysore, or by Government of India Promissory Notes duly endorsed in favor of the Dewan of Mysore.

8. If the tender be accepted either in whole or in part, the deposit made will be taken in part payment, and the tenderer must arrange for the payment of the remainder of the amount of the loan allotted to him on or before the 15th August 1882 into any of the Treasuries of the Mysore Government, or into the Banks of Bengal, Madras or Bombay or any of their branches to the credit of the Dewan of Mysore, failing which the deposit made will be forfeited.

9. Debentures will be issued as soon as possible after receipt of the amount of allotment.

10. The deposit on tenders which may not be accepted will be returned on application.

11. In the case of two or more tenders at the same rate (not being below the minimum), a pro rata allotment will, if necessary, be made.

12. The rate stated in a tender must not contain any fraction of an anna; if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out, and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

13. In order to avoid mistakes, a separate tender must be made at each rate tendered, and a separate deposit must accompany each tender.

14. The annual revenues of the Mysore Province amount at present to Rs. 1,06,00,000 (one hundred and six lakhs of Rupees), and are expected to yield an annual surplus of five lakhs after defraying all charges and providing for repayments on account of the Famine Loan due to the Government of India.

15. Arrangements will be made for securing negotiability to the Debentures in British India free of Stamp Duty.

Power to suspend or remove special Judge.

The Local Government may, at any time, by a like notification, suspend or remove any special Judge so appointed.

CHAPTER III.

OF THE APPLICATION AND PRELIMINARY INQUIRY.

Application for benefit of Act.

4. (1) At any time within twelve months after a special Judge is appointed for any local area, any zamíndár owning land in that area may apply, in writing, to the Commissioner of the Jhánsí Division, stating that the zamíndár is subject to, or that his immoveable property or any part thereof is encumbered with, private debts, and requesting that the provisions of this Act be applied to him.

(2) The like application may be made with respect to any such zamíndár by an officer appointed for the purpose by the Local Government:

(3) Provided that, where the zamíndár is a disqualified proprietor within the meaning of section 194 of the North-Western Provinces Land-revenue Act, 1873, the application shall be made—

(a) if his property is under the superintendence of the Court of Wards—by the manager of his property, with the consent of that Court; and

(b) if his property is not under such superintendence—by the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the property is situate.

Power to extend time for making applications.

(4) The Local Government may, from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, extend the time prescribed for making applications under this section.

Order to inquire.

5. When any such application is made in the case of any zamíndár, the Commissioner shall direct an inquiry to be made by the special Judge—

(a) into the nature and amount of the zamíndár's private debts, and

(b) into the sufficiency of his property, whether moveable or immoveable (exclusive of his proprietary rights in land and of the property mentioned in the first proviso to section 266 of the Code of Civil Procedure), to discharge his private debts.

Written statement to be submitted.

6. (1) When an inquiry has been directed under section five, the applicant shall, within a period to be fixed by the Commissioner, submit to the special Judge a written statement containing, so far as may be practicable,—

(a) such particulars as the special Judge may require respecting the private debts to which the zamíndár is subject, or with which his immoveable property or any part thereof is encumbered;

(b) the nature and value of the zamíndár's property (exclusive of his proprietary rights in land and of the property mentioned in the first proviso to section 266 of the Code of Civil Procedure); and

(c) the names and residences of his creditors, so far as they are known to, or can be ascertained by, the zamíndár.

Verification of statement.

(2) The statement must be verified by the applicant or by some other competent person, in the manner required by law for the verification of plaints; and if it contains any averment which the person making the verification knows or believes to be false, or does not know or believe to be true, he shall be deemed to have intentionally given false evidence within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code:

Proviso.

(3) Provided that, when the application is made by an officer appointed under section four, clause (2), or by the Deputy Commissioner, it shall not be necessary to verify the statement; but the zamíndár shall, so far as may be practicable, within a period to be fixed by the special Judge, furnish such information regarding the matters mentioned in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of this section, as the Judge may require.

CHAPTER IV.

PROOF OF DEBTS AND PROCEDURE OF SPECIAL JUDGE.

Publication of notice to claimants against zamíndár.

7. (1) When the statement or information referred to in section six has been submitted or furnished, the special Judge shall publish in the official Gazette a notice in the vernacular language of the district, calling upon all persons having claims against the person or the property of the zamíndár by or with respect to whom the application was made under section four, to present to the special Judge, within two months from the date of the publication, a written statement of their claims.

Copies of notice to be exhibited.

(2) The special Judge shall also cause copies of the notice to be exhibited at his own office, at the offices of the Commissioner of the Jhánsí Division and the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the land of the zamíndár is situate, and at some conspicuous place in the village where the zamíndár resides.

Provision for admission of claims within further period of two months.

(3) The statement must be presented within the period specified in the notice, unless the claimant satisfies the special Judge that he had sufficient cause for not presenting the statement within that period, in which case the special Judge may receive the statement within a further period of two months from the expiration of the period so specified.

Consequences of notice.

8. After the publication of the notice, the following consequences shall ensue (namely):—

(a) all proceedings pending at the date of the publication, in any civil or revenue Court in British India in respect of any private debt to which the zamíndár is subject, or with which his immoveable property is encumbered, shall be for ever stayed; and all processes, executions and attachments issued by any such Court, and then in force, in respect of any such debt shall become null and void;

(b) in respect of any such debt no fresh proceeding, process, execution or attachment shall, except as hereinafter provided, be instituted in, or issued by, any civil or revenue Court in British India;

(c) until the Commissioner has declared, as hereinafter provided, that the zamíndár has ceased to be subject to the disabilities mentioned in this clause—

(1) the zamíndár shall be incompetent to sell, mortgage, exchange, give, or, without the consent of the Commissioner, lease his proprietary rights in land or any part thereof; and

(2) no proceeding, process, execution or attachment shall be instituted in, or issued by, any civil or revenue Court in British India against those rights, in respect of any private debt contracted by the zamíndár after the publication of the notice.

Claim to contain full particulars.

9. (1) Every claimant referred to in section seven shall, in the written statement of his claim, present full particulars thereof.

Documents to be given up.

(2) Every document on which the claimant founds his claim, or on which he relies in support thereof, shall be delivered to the special Judge along with the written statement.

Entries in books.

(3) If the document is an entry in any book, the claimant shall produce the book to the special Judge together with a copy of the entry on which he relies. The special Judge shall mark the book for the purpose of identification, and, after examining and comparing the copy with the original, shall return the book to the claimant.

Exclusion of documents not produced.

(4) If any document in the possession or under the control of the claimant is not delivered or produced by him, as required by this section, the special Judge may refuse to receive that document in evidence on the claimant's behalf at the investigation of the case.

Claim not duly notified to be deemed discharged.

10. Every claim against the zamíndár in respect of a private debt shall, unless made within the time and in the manner required by this Act, be deemed, for all purposes, and on all occasions, to have been duly discharged.

Order appointing time for inquiry.

11. The special Judge shall, by an order in writing, appoint a time for inquiring into each claim made as aforesaid, and a copy of that order shall be served on the claimant and on the zamíndár, or, when the application has been made on behalf of a disqualified proprietor, on the manager of his property, or the Deputy Commissioner, as the case may be.

History of transactions with zamíndár to be investigated.

At the time so appointed, or at any subsequent time to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the special Judge shall hear such of the parties as appear, and, if the amount of any claim (other than a claim decreed by a competent Court) is disputed, shall inquire into the history and merits of that claim from the commencement of the transactions between the parties, and shall, as hereinafter provided, determine the amount (if any) justly due to the claimant.

Explanation.—Subject to the right of appeal and power of revision hereinafter conferred, the effect of this determination is to extinguish the previously existing right (if any) of the claimant, together with all rights (if any) of mortgage or lien by which the same is secured, and, where any amount is determined to be due to him, to substitute for those rights a right to recover that amount in the manner and to the extent hereinafter prescribed, and not otherwise.

Mode of taking account.

12. When the special Judge inquires, under section eleven, into the history and merits of a claim, he shall—notwithstanding any agreement between the zamíndár and the claimant, or the persons (if any) through whom they claim, as to allowing compound interest, or as to setting off the profits of mortgaged property in lieu of interest without an account, or otherwise determining the manner of taking the account, and notwithstanding any statement or settlement of account, or any contract purporting to close previous dealings and create a new obligation, open the account from the commencement of the transactions between the parties, and take that account according to the following rules (that is to say) :—

(a) separate accounts of principal and interest shall be taken;

(b) in the account of principal, there shall be debited to the zamíndár such money as may, from time to time, have been actually received by him, or on his account, from the claimant, and the price of goods (if any) sold to him by the claimant as part of the transactions between them;

(d) in the account of principal, there shall not be debited to the zamíndár any accumulated interest which has been converted into principal at any statement or settlement of account, or by any contract made in the course of the transactions, unless the special Judge, for reasons to be recorded by him in writing, deems such debit to be reasonable;

(e) in the account of interest, there shall be debited to the zamíndár, monthly, simple interest on the balance of principal for the time being outstanding, at the rate allowed by the special Judge as hereinafter provided;

(f) all money paid by, or on account of, the zamíndár to the claimant, or on his account, and all profits, service or other advantages of every description received by the claimant in the course of the transactions, shall be credited first in the account of interest, and, when any payment is more than sufficient to discharge the balance of interest due at the time it is made, the residue of that payment shall be credited to the zamíndár in the account of principal:

Explanation.—The advantages mentioned in this clause shall be estimated, if necessary, at such money-value as the special Judge may determine in his discretion, or with the aid of arbitrators appointed by him;

(g) the accounts of principal and interest shall be made up to the date of making the claim; and the aggregate of the balances (if any) appearing due on both the accounts against the zamíndár at that date shall be deemed to be the amount due at that date, except when the balance appearing due on the account of interest exceeds that appearing due on the account of principal, in which case double the latter balance shall be deemed to be the amount then due.

Interest to be allowed.

13. The interest to be awarded in taking an account, according to the rules set forth in section twelve, shall be—

(a) the rate (if any) agreed upon between the zamíndár and the claimant, or the persons (if any) through whom they respectively claim, unless that rate is deemed by the special Judge to be unreasonable; or

(b) if that rate is deemed by the special Judge unreasonable, or if no rate was agreed upon, or, when any agreement to set off profits in lieu of interest without an account, entered into between the zamíndár and the claimant, or the persons (if any) through whom they respectively claim, has been set aside by the special Judge, such rate as the special Judge deems reasonable.

Proceedings when amount determined to be due is paid into court.

14. If, on the termination of the inquiries by the special Judge, the zamíndár forthwith pays into court the aggregate amount of the claims determined to be due, together with the aggregate of such costs (if any) as the special Judge may in each case award against the zamíndár, the special Judge shall submit a report of his proceedings to the Commissioner, and shall, on the application of each claimant, pay to him such portions (if any) of the said aggregate amounts as may be due to him.

Power to rank debts and fix future interest.

15. If the zamíndár does not pay the said amounts under section fourteen, and these amounts cannot, in the opinion of the special Judge, be paid from the proceeds of the sale of the zamíndár's property (exclusive of his proprietary rights in land and of the property mentioned in the first proviso to section 266 of the Code of Civil Procedure), the special Judge shall make an order ranking the claims and costs according to the order in which they shall be paid or discharged, and fixing the interest (if any) to be paid on the amounts thereof respectively from the date of the final decision thereon to the date of the payment or discharge thereof.

Power to eject mortgagee, &c.

16. When any person whose claim has been determined by the special Judge, or whose claim is, under section ten, to be deemed to be discharged, has, as mortgagee or otherwise, obtained possession of any land of the zamíndár as security for his claim and continues in possession of that land, the special Judge may order him to be ejected therefrom.

Any order passed under this section shall be executed as nearly as may be in accordance with the rules prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure for the execution of decrees.

Report to be submitted by special Judge in certain cases.

17. When the proceedings hereinbefore prescribed have been concluded otherwise than under section fourteen, the special Judge shall submit a report to the Commissioner, showing the nature and amount of the claims and costs as determined and awarded by him, the nature and amount of all the zamíndár's property (exclusive of his proprietary rights in land and of the property mentioned in the first proviso to section 236 of the Code of Civil Procedure) which may be available for the payment or discharge of the same, and, when an order has been made under section fifteen, the particulars of such order.

CHAPTER V.

PROCEDURE OF COMMISSIONER AND MODE OF LIQUIDATION.

On report of special Judge, Commissioner to sell property reported by special Judge, and, if necessary, to direct valuation of proprietary rights.

18. On receiving a report under section seventeen, the Commissioner shall direct that the property reported by the special Judge as available for the payment or discharge of the claims and costs determined and awarded by him, or any specified portion of that property, be sold by public auction, and, from the proceeds thereof, shall pay or discharge, so far as practicable, the amount of the said claims and costs.

If those proceeds are not sufficient to pay or discharge in full that amount, the Commissioner shall direct the value of the zamíndár's proprietary rights in land to be ascertained in the manner following:—

For the purposes of a loan, the value of those rights shall be estimated to be a sum amounting to six times the nett annual profits of the zamíndár.

For the purposes of purchase by Government, the value of those rights shall be estimated to be a sum amounting to ten times those nett annual profits.

"Nett annual profits."

Explanation.—The expression "nett annual profits" means the balance left, after deducting the amount of the annual Government revenue and the rates payable annually by the zamíndár under the North-Western Provinces Local Rates Act, 1878, or any other Act for the time being in force, from the aggregate amount of—

(a) the rents which he is entitled to receive annually from his tenants;

(b) the rent which he would have to pay annually for his sír-land (if any), if he were an ex-proprietary tenant thereof;

(c) all other profits annually receivable by him as zamíndár; and

(d) in the case of profits occasionally receivable or varying in amount from year to year, the average annual amount of such profits during the ten years next preceding the valuation.

Proceedings in liquidation.

19. When the value of the zamíndár's proprietary rights has been ascertained as directed in section eighteen, the Commissioner shall proceed as follows:—

(a) If the sum at which the rights have been valued for the purposes of a loan is sufficient to pay or discharge the unpaid balance of the claims and costs determined and awarded by the special Judge, together with the zamíndár's public debts, the Commissioner may, with the consent of the zamíndár, direct such sum as may be necessary, not being more than the amount of such valuation, to be advanced from the public treasury as a loan to the zamíndár, repayable, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent. per annum, by instalments, within a term not exceeding ten years, and shall, from the sum so advanced, pay or discharge in full the said balance and the said public debts.

(b) If the zamíndár does not consent to accept such loan, or if the sum at which his proprietary rights in land have been valued for the purposes of a loan is not sufficient to discharge the said balance and the said public debts, the Commissioner may order that any portion, or, if necessary, the whole, of those rights shall be sold in the manner hereinafter prescribed in order to discharge such balance and debts.

Attachment of proprietary rights.

20. When an order for the sale of the proprietary rights of any zamíndár has been made under section nineteen, the Commissioner may order those rights to be attached and taken under the management of the Deputy Commissioner, who shall have, for this purpose, the same powers as are conferred, for the management of a mahál, on a Collector by the North-Western Provinces Land-revenue Act, 1873, section 155.

The management shall continue until the rights are sold under this Act.

Mode of selling proprietary rights.

21. (1) All sales under this Act of proprietary rights in land shall be made by public auction in the manner prescribed by the said North-Western Provinces Land-revenue Act, 1873, for the sale of immoveable property for arrears of land-revenue.

(2) If, at the public auction of any zamíndár's proprietary rights in land, any bid is made for those rights above the sum at which they have been valued for the purposes of purchase by Government, the rights shall be sold to the highest bidder; and the proceeds of the sale shall be paid to the Deputy Commissioner or such officer as the Commissioner may direct.

(3) If no such bid is made, the Commissioner shall direct a sum of money equal to the amount of that valuation to be paid from the public treasury to the Deputy Commissioner or such officer.

Duty of Deputy Commissioner.

22. The Deputy Commissioner or such officer, as the case may be, shall thereupon, subject to the control of the Commissioner,— first, pay, from the money which he has received under section twenty-one, the zamíndár's public debts;

secondly, out of the balance of that money, pay or discharge, so far as may be practicable, the unpaid balances of the claims and costs determined and awarded by the special Judge, in the order in which they are ranked under section fifteen by that Judge;

thirdly, pay the surplus (if any) to the zamíndár.

When the whole of a zamíndár's proprietary rights in land have been sold in execution of an order passed under section nineteen, clause (b), and the proceeds of the sale are insufficient to discharge in full the amounts referred to in this section, the unpaid balance of those amounts shall nevertheless be deemed to have been duly discharged.

Consequences of loan.

23. When a sum of money has been lent, under section nineteen, clause (a), to a zamíndár, and applied as provided in that clause, and he fails to pay any instalment of principal or interest on the day fixed for the payment thereof, the whole sum remaining unpaid on account of principal or interest, or both, shall be recoverable at once as if it were an arrear of land-revenue due by him in respect of the land comprised in the valuation made under section eighteen.

Conditions of purchase by Government.

24. When a sum of money has been paid from the public treasury in respect of any proprietary rights of a zamíndár as provided in section twenty-one, and has been applied as provided in section twenty-two, the following consequences shall ensue (namely) :—

(a) all such proprietary rights shall vest in Her Majesty ;

(b) in respect of any of his sír-land, the proprietary rights in which are, under this section, vested in Her Majesty, the zamíndár shall be deemed to be an ex-proprietary tenant holding the land directly under the Government.

Power to declare that zamíndár has ceased to be subject to disabilities.

25. In each of the following cases (namely),—

(a) when a report has been submitted to the Commissioner under section fourteen, or

(b) when the claims and costs determined and awarded by the special Judge have been paid or discharged in full under section eighteen, or

(c) when the amount lent, under section nineteen, to a zamíndár has been repaid, together with the interest due thereon, or

(e) when the whole, or, where it is necessary to sell only a portion, that portion, of his proprietary rights in land has been sold under this Act to the highest bidder, or those rights have vested in Her Majesty under section twenty-four,

the Commissioner shall declare that the zamíndár has ceased to be subject to the disabilities mentioned in section eight, clause (c) :

Provided that, in cases coming under clause (d) of this section, no such declaration shall be made without the previous sanction of the Local Government.

Returns of Accidents to Trains, &c., on the open lines of Railways in India for the quarter ending 31st December 1881.

OBSERVATIONS.—As compared with the corresponding quarter of the previous year, with an increase of 801½ miles, or 8·98 per cent., in the open mileage, and of 1,400,577 miles, or 17·91 per cent., in the train mileage, the number of accidents to trains, rolling stock, permanent-way, &c., shows a decrease of 14, or 2·14 per cent. The numbers chiefly vary on the following Railways:—

	Increase.	Decrease.
East Indian Railway, including the State branches worked by it	...	17
South Indian	.	43
Great Indian Peninsula	17	...
Bombay, Baroda and Central India	12	...
Rajputana	44	...
Punjab Northern	...	15
Indus Valley and Kandahar	...	24

2. The reduction on the East Indian Railway mainly took place under "Collisions between goods trains or parts of goods trains," "Goods trains or parts of goods trains, engines, &c., leaving the rails," and "Trains running over cattle," the numbers under these heads being nil against 13, 4 against 8, and 13 against 16, respectively. There were, on the other hand, 9 cases of collisions between "Passenger trains and goods or mineral trains, engines, and vehicles standing foul of the line" against 2.

3. The large decrease on the South Indian Railway was due to there being only 27 cases of "Trains running over cattle" against 46; 1 of "Passenger trains or parts of passenger trains leaving the rails" against 5; and 1 of "Goods trains or parts of goods trains, engines, &c., leaving the rails" against 8.

4. The total number of accidents on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway, including the State lines worked by it, was more by 17: under "Fire in trains" there were 13 cases against nil; under "Failure of axles" 3 against 1; and under "Other accidents" 5 against nil. The number of accidents from "Trains running over cattle" decreased from 16 to 9.

5. On the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway the number of accidents increased by 12, owing principally to the number of accidents from "Goods trains or parts of goods trains, engines, &c., leaving the rails," being 8 against nil.

6. On the Rajputana Railway the increase appears under several heads, especially under "Trains running over cattle," "Trains running over obstructions on the line," and "Failure of couplings." The accidents under these heads numbered 33 against 12, 9 against nil, and 8 against 2, respectively.

7. The number of accidents on the Punjab Northern State Railway decreased by 15, as there were no cases of "Passenger trains or parts of passenger trains leaving the rails" against 8; 1 of "Trains or engines travelling in the wrong direction through points" against 5; 1 of "Trains running over obstructions on the line" against 5; and 6 of "Fire in trains" against 9. There were, however, 6 cases of "Other accidents" against 3; and 3 "Failures of machinery, springs, &c., of engines" against nil.

8. On the Indus Valley and Kandahar State Railways the number diminished from 153 to 129, as there were no cases of "Collisions between goods trains or parts of goods trains" against 8; 6 of "Goods trains or parts of goods trains, engines, &c., leaving the rails" against 14; 41 of "Trains running over cattle" against 54; and 28 "Failures of machinery, springs, &c., of engines" against 30. The number of "Fires in trains," however, increased from 20 to 26; and of "Other accidents" from 1 to 7.

9. The casualties resulting from accidents to trains, &c., were among passengers 18 injured against 1, and among servants 5 killed and 16 injured against 1 killed and 2 injured. The largest number appears to have occurred on the Great Indian Peninsula Railway, where 13 passengers and 7 servants were injured. Three of the 7 servants and the 13 passengers were injured by No. 54 up passenger train running into No. 44 down goods outside the distant signal at Chinchvad on the 26th October 1881. The injuries were mostly of a trivial nature, and the Driver and Guard of the goods train and the Assistant Station Master, who were to blame, have been suitably punished.

10. The following table exhibits the number of accidents under the different classes, and the number of persons killed and injured thereby:—

	Number of Accidents.	Number of Passengers and others.		Number of Servants.		Total.

Letter No. 553T., dated the 2nd November 1881, from the Director General of Telegraphs, to the Secretary to Government, Public Works Department.
Resolution, Public Works Department, No. 410—42 T., dated 14th November 1881.

RESOLUTION.—In the Resolution of the 14th of November 1881 it was stated that "the Government of India is willing and anxious to forward any scheme for developing and facilitating communication by telegraph, so far as this can be done without risk to the interests of the general tax-paying community; but in the interests of that community, it is essential that the telegraph service should be self-supporting."

2. In accordance with this Resolution, the attention of the Government of India has been drawn—

I—to the relation which the railway telegraphs should bear to the Imperial Telegraph System, in so far as they may be permitted to be the carriers of public messages; and

II—to the economy that must result in the combination of the maintenance of the Government and railway telegraphs whenever practicable.

3. The State Railway Telegraph Rules of 1874 were designed—

Primarily—To make the railway telegraph lines subsidiary and auxiliary to the Government Trunk System; and as such, they were allowed to retain certain shares of the receipts, varying in proportion to the distances messages were carried.

Secondarily—To provide for the construction and maintenance, by the Government Telegraph Department, of all telegraph lines and apparatus which might be required by the State Railways.

4. The experience of working these rules for over 7 years has shown that, however justly they were designed, on the principle of the division of receipts varying in proportion to work, such differential division has, in practice, caused an amount of account-keeping not justified by the sums involved.

5. The Director General of Telegraphs has represented, that the shares of receipts in favour of railways under the above rules are out of all proportion to the work done, and has urged, therefore, that, in future, all telegrams should be regarded as appertaining to the Telegraph Department, on the principle in force in England, by which railway telegraphs act only as agents for the Government system, and receive merely a fixed commission for carrying each message.

6. The Governor General in Council, however, whilst admitting the force of the Director General's arguments and the equity of his proposals, is nevertheless desirous, in the interests of the senders of telegrams, that railways should be encouraged to carry public telegraphic messages, to as great an extent as is compatible with the proper use of their telegraphs for the primary purpose of railway traffic; and has therefore decided, after duly considering the present revenue of the Government Telegraph Department, to waive the claims of the latter to a share of the receipts; in the anticipation that any loss thereof will be more than compensated for by the effect of the additional facilities thus given to the public.

7. With this object, and also to simplify account-keeping, to ensure uniformity of procedure, and to develop telegraphic communication, it is resolved—

I—to extend to canal telegraphs also the privilege of carrying telegraphic messages for the general public;

II—that in future, every railway or canal, or other duly licensed telegraph office, at which a message may be tendered for despatch, shall retain the value of the message it sends, excepting such amounts as have to be again disbursed under the rules, for instance, for reply paid, post registered messages, &c.;

III—that there shall be but one public telegraph message system throughout India, applicable to railway, canal or any other telegraphic system licensed to carry messages for the public; and

8. The accompanying sets of rules, viz.,—

I—General Rules relating to the conduct of all Electric Telegraphs licensed under the Telegraph Act to transmit "Paid messages" for the public,

II—Rules relating to the provision and maintenance of Electric Telegraphs for the use of railways and canals, are therefore published, and are to come into force on the 1st of June 1882.

I.

General Rules for the conduct of all Electric Telegraphs licensed under the Telegraph Act to transmit "Paid messages" for the public.*

The Governor General in Council is pleased, under the provisions of Act I of 1876, entitled an Act to amend the law relating to Telegraphs in India, to prescribe the following Rules for the conduct of all Electric Telegraphs, other than those appertaining to the Government Telegraph Department, established or maintained within British India by any Company or person licensed under the above Act to transmit "Paid messages" for the public:—

Government Telegraph officers allowed on railway premises.

1. The licensed telegraph authorities shall allow all officers, inspectors, artificers, workmen and others employed by the Government Telegraph Department, in the construction or repair of the lines of telegraph within their boundaries to enter on their premises, and shall give such persons all reasonable facilities for travelling and for transporting material along the lines.

Instruments to be approved of by Telegraph Department.

2. The instruments in the licensed offices shall be of a pattern approved by the Government Telegraph Department.

Licensed offices to be connected with Government offices when desired

3. The Government Telegraph Department may, at its own expense, connect any of its own offices by wire with any licensed Telegraph Office, and the licensed authorities shall afford every necessary facility for establishing and maintaining the connection, and for the interchange of messages thereby.

Signalling staff of licensed Telegraph Offices to be controlled by Railway authorities, &c.

4. The signalling staff of each licensed Telegraph Office shall be wholly and exclusively controlled and paid by the licensed authorities, but shall be amenable to the penal clauses of the Telegraph Act No. I of 1876, in the same manner as if they were employés of the Government Telegraph Department.

* N B.—For the purposes of these rules, telephones and their apparatus are at present not included in the term "Electric Telegraphs."

Government system to be adopted for instruments, tariff, &c.

5. The system adopted in the Government Telegraph Department in respect of instruments, forms connected with public messages, receipt, transmission and check of messages, alphabet and code signals, shall be adopted and strictly followed by every licensed Telegraph Office, so far as the Government Telegraph Department may require.

Inland messages.

6. Inland messages, not relating to the business of the licensed authorities, shall, with due regard, in the case of railways, to the necessities of their traffic, be received at any licensed Telegraph Office when open, under the following conditions:—

Inland messages.

(a) They shall be transmitted to their destination by the quickest route, whether that be by Government or licensed Telegraph wires; and shall be received, charged for, despatched and delivered without undue delay, under the General Rules and Rates for Inland Telegrams sanctioned by the Governor General in Council from time to time.

Fees for inland messages.

(b) The fees paid for all inland messages shall be retained by the Administration receiving them, except in the cases of deposits for "Prepaid replies," "Postage," "Registration," and "Express charges," the amounts of which will be credited in account by the Government Telegraph Check Office to the Paying Office, and debited to the Receiving Office.

(c) The Telegraph Offices of any intermediate or terminal Railway, Canal or other Administration will be bound to forward or deliver messages passing on to its wires free of charge, except what may be due to it under (b).

Foreign messages.

7. Foreign messages may be accepted by licensed Telegraph Offices specially authorized to receive them, and must be received, charged for and despatched under the Rules and Rates for Foreign Telegrams, sanctioned by the International Telegraph Convention and in force for the time being.

Fees for foreign messages.

For the transmission of foreign messages, except in the case of those for Ceylon and Upper Burmah, licensed Telegraph Offices will be credited in account by the Government Telegraph Check Office with the sum of two annas a word, and debited with the full charge of the message. In the case of messages for Ceylon and Upper Burmah, the licensed Telegraph Office share will be half an anna per word.

Payments by cash or stamps optional.

8. Inland or foreign messages tendered for transmission at a licensed Telegraph Office may be paid for either in cash or by affixing Government telegraph stamps, at the option of the sender:—

Use of postage stamps.

(a) Messages received at a licensed Telegraph Office by post from a place where there is no Telegraph Office may be paid for by postage stamps.

Credits for telegraph or postage stamps.

(b) Whenever telegraph or postage stamps may be used for the payment of messages, the Office receiving them will be credited in account by the Government Telegraph Check Office.

Message drafts to be sent to Check Office.

9. Drafts and copies of any messages, not on the business of the licensed authorities, received at, or transmitted from, any of their Offices, shall be forwarded post-paid to the Government Telegraph Check Office if demanded, under instructions which shall be issued by the Director General of Telegraphs in India.

Complaints and refunds.

10. Complaints respecting messages and applications for refunds should be addressed to the Government Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta.

Message drafts to be preserved for six months.

11. To admit of the investigation of complaints, the licensed authorities are to provide for the preservation of all message drafts for a period of six months, at the expiration of which term, unless previously demanded under Rule 9, they must be transmitted, post-paid, to the Government Telegraph Check Office, Calcutta. They may, however, be sent to the Check Office immediately after audit of the accounts of the Telegraph Office concerned.

Service messages to be sent free.

12. Messages on the service of the Government Telegraph Department shall be transmitted, without charge, to or from all licensed Telegraph Offices.

Order of transmission of messages

13. Private and State messages shall, as a rule, be sent as directed in the Rules and Rates for Inland Telegrams; but a State message marked "clear the line" or "precedence" shall take precedence of all other messages. Provided that if sent by any Railway Telegraph Office, its transmission shall be consistent with the safe working of the railway traffic.

Director General of Telegraphs in India may inspect licensed Telegraph Offices.

14. The Director General of Telegraphs in India, or any officer deputed by him, may at any time inspect any licensed Telegraph Office, or messages sent from, or received at, any of them; and the licensed authorities shall give all facilities for such inspections, and shall submit for inspection any books or accounts connected with the working of their telegraphs, or any originals or copies of messages sent or received, which the Director General or such officer may require.

tried in different places, in order to test by practical experience what arrangements are best suited to the ways of thinking, habits, and other idiosyncrasies of the heterogeneous populations of the Empire. But there are, nevertheless, fundamental principles which, after every allowance has been made for local peculiarities, must be universally followed and frankly adopted, if the system is to have anywhere a fair trial.

10. The Government of India desires, then, that, while maintaining and extending, as far as practicable, the plan of municipal government in the cities and towns of each province, the Local Governments will also maintain and extend throughout the country, in every district where intelligent non-official agency can be found, a network of local boards, to be charged with definite duties and entrusted with definite funds. The Governor General in Council considers it very important that the area of jurisdiction allotted to each board should in no case be too large. If the plan is to succeed at all, it will be necessary to secure among the members both local interest and local knowledge. Experience proves that District Committees are, as a rule, very badly attended by members not actually residing in the vicinity of the head-quarters' station. Those who do attend have frequently no intimate acquaintance with the wants of outlying parts of the district. The consequence is, either that undue attention is given to the requirements of the immediate neighbourhood of the central station, or that the business falls entirely into the hands of the district officer, the Committee contenting itself with formally endorsing his proposals. Modifying, therefore, to some extent the suggestions made in paragraph 8 of the Circular letters of the 10th October last, the Governor General in Council desires that the smallest administrative unit—the sub-division, the taluka, or the tahsil—shall ordinarily form the maximum area to be placed under a local board. He would not indeed object to even smaller jurisdictions where these were deemed suitable. In some provinces it may be found possible to leave these sub-divisional boards to their own independent working, arranging for a periodical District Council, to which delegates from each local board might be sent, to settle such common matters as the rate of land cess to be levied during the year, the allotment to be made of district funds, and other questions of general interest. In other provinces, again, it may be thought best to have a District Board with controlling power over the smaller local boards. But whatever system is followed, the cardinal principle, which is essential to the success of self-government in any shape, is this, that the jurisdiction of the primary boards must be so limited in area as to ensure both local knowledge and local interest on the part of each of the members.

11. The Municipal Committees will, of course, remain the local boards for areas included within town limits. The relations between such municipal boards and the sub-divisional or district boards within whose jurisdiction the towns lie must be carefully settled in each case. In some instances the town boards will be left entirely independent and apart. In others it may be found desirable to give the rural boards a certain share in the settlement of questions of common interest. In others, again, the town boards would be required to send delegates to the District Board or Council.

12. The local boards, both urban and rural, must everywhere have a large preponderance of non-official members. In no case ought the official members to be more than one-third of the whole, unless in places in which the elective system is followed, when there would be no ground for objecting to an elected member merely on the ground that he was in the service of Government. The Governor General in Council is disposed to think that the non-official members of the boards should hold office for at least two years after election or appointment; but probably the best plan to follow would be that of the compulsory retirement by rotation of a fixed proportion of members, those retiring being eligible to sit again. A detail of this description may, however, fitly be left to the Local Governments.

13. Members of boards should be chosen by election wherever it may, in the opinion of the Local Governments, be practicable to adopt that system of choice. The Governor General in Council does not require the adoption of the system of election in all cases, though that is the system which he hopes will ultimately prevail throughout the country, and which he wishes to establish now as widely as local circumstances will permit. Election in some form or other should be generally introduced in towns of any considerable size, but may be extended more cautiously and gradually to the smaller municipalities and to backward rural tracts. Even as regards these last, however, the Governor General in Council is disposed to think that if the Government officers cordially accept the principle, and set themselves to make it successful, a great advance might be made with comparatively little difficulty. Thus when the Local Governments had determined the nature of the qualifications suited to such a district (and these might ordinarily at first be fairly high), each sub-divisional officer might be instructed to prepare a list or register of candidates qualified to sit upon the local board, and might invite all those residing in any particular area, such as a police (thana) jurisdiction, to meet him on a day fixed at some convenient spot near their homes. He might then explain to them the objects of Government, and the nature of the duties they were invited to undertake, and call upon them to elect then or on a future day the number of representatives that had been fixed for the area in question. In the course of a few years, when the members of the board find that they have real powers and responsibilities entrusted to them, any Government interference will become unnecessary. The electors may safely then be left to conduct their own elections under such rules as may be from time to time laid down.

14. As to the system of election to be followed, the Governor General in Council would here also leave a large discretion to the Local Governments. Experience is wanting to determine the most suitable general system for each province; and it is desirable that a variety of plans should be tried in order to a future comparison of results. The simple vote, the cumulative vote, election by wards, election by the whole town or tract, suffrage of more or less extended qualification, election by castes or occupations—these and other methods might all be tried. New methods, unthought of in Europe, may be found suitable to India; and after a time it will probably be possible to say what forms suit best the local peculiarities and idiosyncrasies of the different populations. The Provincial Governments should, through their district officers, consult the leading Natives of each locality, not only as to the possibility of introducing the elective system, but as to the arrangements most likely to meet their local circumstances; and should use every effort to make the schemes adopted as consonant as possible to the feelings and habits of the people.

15. Doubtless the first consequence of this mode of proceeding will be that the electoral system, viewed as a whole, will present for a time a very diversified appearance, and in some places arrangements made will turn out badly and call for change; but the Governor General in Council is not disposed to attach undue importance to this. The problem before the Government is one of no slight difficulty; being that of discovering in what manner the people of the towns and districts of British India can be best trained to manage their own local affairs intelligently and successfully. The attempts hitherto made with this object have met with but little success. The best men in many cases do not at present present themselves as candidates for municipal office. The number of voters is generally insignificant compared with the number on the registers. And yet there can be no doubt that among the more intelligent classes of the community there is a real and growing interest being taken in administrative matters. It may be suspected, therefore, that the cause of comparative failure in the efforts hitherto made is to be found rather in the character of those efforts than in the nature of the object pursued. They have been, it seems to the Governor General in Council, wanting to a great degree in earnestness and in real endeavours to adapt the system adopted to the feelings of the people by whom it has to be worked. If this is so, the remedy must lie in ascertaining by patient and practical experiment how best to call forth and render effective that desire and capacity for self-government which all intelligent and fairly educated men may safely be assumed to possess.

16. With a view to stimulating the candidature of men of respectable standing in Native society, and to mark the importance of the functions of these local boards in the eyes of Government, the Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that the courtesy titles of "Rai (or Rao) Bahadur" or "Khan Bahadur" shall in all official correspondence be applicable to Native members of all local boards during their term of office.

17. Turning now to the second division of the subject—the degree of control to be retained by the Government over the local boards, and the manner in which that control should be exercised; the Governor General in Council observes that the true principle to be followed in this matter is, that the control should be exercised from without rather than from within. The Government should revise and check the acts of the local bodies, but not dictate them. The executive authorities should have two powers of control. In the first place, their sanction should be required in order to give validity to certain acts, such as the raising of loans, the imposition of taxes in other than duly authorised forms, the alienation of municipal property, interference with any matters involving religious questions or affecting the public peace, and the like. (The cases in which such sanction should be insisted upon would have to be carefully considered by each Government, and they would at the outset be probably somewhat numerous, but, as the boards gained in experience, might be reduced in number.) In the second place, the Local Government should have power to interfere either to set aside altogether the proceedings of the board in particular cases, or, in the event of gross and continued neglect of any important duty, to suspend the board temporarily, by the appointment of persons to execute the office of the board until the neglected duty had been satisfactorily performed. That being done, the regular system would be re-established, a fresh board being elected or appointed. This power of absolute supersession would require in every case the consent of the Supreme Government. A similar power is reserved to the Executive Government under several English statutes; and if required in England, where local self-government is long established and effective, it is not probable that it could be altogether dispensed with in India. It should be the general function of the executive officers of Government to watch, especially at the outset, the proceedings of the local boards; to point out to them matters calling for their consideration, to draw their attention to any neglect of duty on their part, and to check by official remonstrance any attempt to exceed their proper functions, or to act illegally or in an arbitrary or unreasonable manner.

18. It does not appear necessary, for the exercise of these powers, that the chief executive officers of towns, sub-divisions or districts should be Chairmen or even members of the local boards. There is indeed much reason to believe that it would be more convenient that they should supervise and control the acts of those bodies, without taking actual part in their proceedings. The Governor General in Council is aware that many high authorities hold that the district officer should always be ex-officio Chairman of all the local boards within the district, and should directly guide and regulate their proceedings. This was indeed the view taken by the Government of India itself in the Circular letters of the 10th October last, so far as the constitution of district boards was concerned. But even then the Governor General in Council did not see his way to accepting the principle in the case of Municipal Boards; and further consideration has led him to the belief that, on the whole, it is better to lay down no such general rule in the case of any class of local boards. There appears to him to be great force in the argument that so long as the chief executive officers are, as a matter of course, Chairmen of the Municipal and District Committees, there is little chance of these Committees affording any effective training to their members in the management of local affairs, or of the non-official members taking any real interest in local business. The non-official members must be led to feel that real power is placed in their hands, and that they have real responsibilities to discharge. It is doubtful whether they have under present arrangements any sufficient inducement to give up their time and attention to the transaction of public business. There is this further objection to the district officer acting as Chairman, that if the non-official members are independent and energetic, risk may arise of unseemly collision between the Chairman and the board. The former would be in a far more dignified and influential position if he supervised and controlled the proceedings of the Board from outside, acting as arbiter between all parties, and not as leader of any.

19. The Governor General in Council therefore would wish to see non-official persons acting, wherever practicable, as Chairmen of the local boards. There may, however, be places where it would be impossible to get any suitable non-official Chairman, and there may be districts where the chief executive officer must for the present retain these duties in his own hands. But His Excellency in Council trusts that the Local Governments will have recourse sparingly to the appointment of executive officers as Chairmen of local boards; and he is of opinion that it should be a general rule that when such an officer is Chairman of any local board, he shall not in that capacity have a vote in its proceedings. This arrangement will, to some extent, tend to strengthen the independence of the non-official members, and keep the official Chairman, where there must be such, apart from the possible contentions of opposing parties.

The appointments of Chairmen should always be subject to the approval of the Local Government, but need not be always made by it. The Governor General in Council would be glad to see the boards allowed, in as many cases as possible, to elect their own Chairman. But this matter is one which must be left to the discretion of Local Governments.

20. These, then, are the principles upon which the Governor General in Council desires to see the experiment of local self-government introduced throughout the several provinces of India; and he would ask the Local Governments to revise their several schemes and shape any proposed legislation in general accordance with these principles. On such of the local schemes as have already come before the Government of India separate orders will, as already intimated, be passed in accordance with the foregoing exposition of policy. There are, however, one or two points to which attention has been drawn by a perusal of the orders of the Local Governments, which, though matters of detail, are still of sufficient importance to warrant their being noticed in this Resolution.

21. In the orders of the 10th October last the Government of India laid special stress on the importance of entrusting to the local boards, not merely the expenditure of fixed allotments of funds, but the management of certain local sources of revenue. Sufficient regard does not as yet appear to have been paid to this part of the scheme. Not only should every local board have the entire control over the proceeds of all local rates and cesses levied within its jurisdiction for its own special purposes, but along with the charge of any expenditure that is at present Provincial should be transferred, where possible, the management of equivalent revenue. The License Tax assessments and collections, for example, might very well be made over to the local boards, municipal and rural, in many parts of the country, subject to the control provided by the existing law. Pounds and ferry receipts have been already indicated as suited for transfer. The allotment of lump grants from Provincial Revenues should be reserved as much as possible to balance the receipts and expenditure of the local boards. The Governor General in Council hopes that this part of the scheme will receive very careful consideration from all Local Governments, with a view to giving full effect to the policy which the Government of India has laid down on this point.

22. Another point deserving of notice is the control that should be exercised over the execution of local works. It will not always be possible for a local board to entertain a competent engineer of its own; and in any case, when Government buildings and important works of other kinds are made over for maintenance, there must be some effective guarantee for thoroughness of execution. It will probably be most convenient that, while all subordinate establishments are entirely under the control of the boards, Government should supply the district engineer and furnish professional supervision, the boards defraying in such manner as may be determined by the Local Governments with reference to the amount of work done for each board the payments to be made to Government on this account. Care must, however, be taken that the boards are left unfettered in the initiation and direction of operations, and that the engineer is placed in the position of their servant and not of their master. The power of check vested in the district officer will suffice to remedy any carelessness or improper working on the part of the boards. If this arrangement is carried out, it will probably be found possible to make over to the charge of the boards most of the public buildings in the districts, and other works of various kinds which would otherwise have to be kept in the hands of the Government officers. Double establishments will thus be avoided, and public money saved.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of the above Resolution be forwarded to the Local Governments and Administrations and to the Departments of the Government of India noted on the margin for information; and that it be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

CLOTHING.

No. 289.—The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following correspondence for general information:—

No. 260. Simla, 22nd July, 1881.

To Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—Having noticed the heavy expenditure annually incurred by the Indian revenues on account of stores imported from England, we have now under consideration the question how best to develop such branches of local manufactures as may admit of reducing as far as practicable the expenditure incurred on the importation of stores from England.

2. There appear good grounds for the expectation that, if the Government of India publicly express their willingness to accept articles of local manufacture in preference to obtaining them from England, private enterprise in many branches of manufacture will sooner or later be forthcoming to compete for such supply. We do not anticipate that articles of local manufacture can in the beginning be equal in all respects to those imported; still we see no reason why they should not in many cases be as durable; and by offering every encouragement to local industry, we hope to obtain articles at rates equivalent to, if not less than, those paid by the Store Department, India Office.

3. We have been led to these remarks by a question recently submitted to us regarding the supply of cloth for the uniform of the Army. At present no cloth suitable for British troops is manufactured in India, but we believe that the fabrication of such cloths in India is by no means impossible; and we would therefore beg to enquire whether there is any objection on the part of Her Majesty's Government to accept for British troops returning home clothing made of any other material save that bearing the Pimlico mark, at the full value of English clothing, if it be of equally good quality. We would at the same time strongly recommend, for the reasons above set forth, that, if suitable cloth of local manufacture should be offered for sale at a favorable price, we be empowered to accept it.

MILITARY, INDIA OFFICE;
No. 423. London, 15th December, 1881.

To His Excellency the Most Hon'ble the Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD MARQUIS,—

Para. 1. I have considered in Council your Military letter No. 260 of the 22nd July, 1881, in which you represent that your attention has been drawn to the heavy expenditure annually incurred by your Government on account of stores imported from England, and to the question of the best means of developing such branches of local manufactures as may tend to reduce this expenditure.

2. Your Government entertain the expectation that, if you publicly express your willingness to accept articles of local manufacture in preference to those obtainable from home, private enterprise in many branches of manufacture will be prepared to undertake the supplies needed by the several Departments of the State. You do not anticipate that locally manufactured articles can at the outset be equal to importations, but you see no reason to doubt their durability in many cases, and you hope, by offering every encouragement to local industry, to obtain articles at rates equivalent to, if not less than, those paid by the Store Department of this Office.

3. You proceed to remark that these observations have arisen in consequence of a question recently submitted to you regarding the supply of cloth for the uniform of the Army. At present no cloth suitable for British troops is manufactured in India, but you believe that the fabrication of such cloths in India is by no means impossible; and you therefore desire to be informed whether there is any objection on the part of Her Majesty's Government to accept for British troops returning home clothing made of any other material save that bearing the Pimlico mark, at the full value of English clothing, if it be of equally good quality.

4. Fully sharing the views of your Government as to the importance of developing to the utmost local industries and manufactures, and of rendering India as independent as possible of home supplies, I caused an inquiry to be addressed to the War Office on the subject of your present letter.

5. You will observe from the reply received from the War Office,* copy of which is enclosed for your information, that the Secretary of State for War states that, although he is not at present in a position to give an unqualified assent to this proposition, inasmuch as no experience has yet been gained as to whether cloth made in India would be equal in quality, color, and general durability to that manufactured in this country, he will be prepared to give the subject fair consideration when the occasion arises.

* No. 2494 of 19th November, 1881.

6. It will now rest with your Government to adopt such measures as you may deem most conducive to stimulate the growth and development of local manufactures essential to the needs of the State in its several departments, and you may rely on my hearty co-operation in any steps which your Government may take with the object of dispensing with supplies from home.

7. In conclusion, I have to add that, in accordance with your recommendation, I entirely approve of your Government accepting any suitable cloth of local manufacture that may be offered for sale at a favorable price.

8. I observe that your Government still indent for clothing for the Native troops and even for the police, and it seems to me desirable that your efforts should first be directed to the object of providing fitting materials for this purpose. The difficulties connected with any change in the material for clothing British troops will not have escaped the notice of your Lordship's Government.

I have, &c.,

SIR,—I am directed by the Secretary of State for War to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th instant, M.-893-W., forwarding a copy of a letter received from the Government of India, in which enquiry is made whether there would be any objection on the part of Her Majesty's Government to accept for British troops returning to this country clothing made up of cloth manufactured in India of any other material save that bearing the Pimlico mark, at the full value of English clothing, and in reply to acquaint you, for the information of the Secretary of State for India in Council, that, although Mr. Childers is not at present in a position to give an unqualified assent to this proposal, inasmuch as no experience has yet been gained as to whether cloth made in India would be equal in quality, color, and general durability to that manufactured in this country, he will be prepared to give the subject fair consideration when the occasion arises.

NOTICE.

Waste Lands available for Planters in the Tavoy District.

Waste lands, covered at present with forest, bamboos or grass, are available for plantations of coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices at altitudes varying from 100 feet to 6,800 feet above the sea in the Tavoy district. This region is between the 13th and 14th parallels of north latitude, and the rainfall ranges from 190 to 220 inches a year. The lands are mostly within 30 to 50 miles of the steamer station of Thayetchoung on the Tavoy river. Mail steamers ply between Thayetchoung and Moulmein or Rangoon once a week inwards and outwards.

II.—Grants of land in lots ranging from 100 to 1,200 acres can be had for planting tea, coffee, cinchona, or spices on application to the Deputy Commissioner of Tavoy. Such grants will be made in accordance with the "Burma Land and Revenue Act, 1876," and with the rules sanctioned thereunder by the Governor General of India in Council. Copies of the Act and rules can be obtained by intending planters on application to the Deputy Commissioner of Tavoy, the Commissioner of Tenasserim at Moulmein, or the Secretariat, Rangoon.

III.—In addition to the concessions and conditions laid down in the Act and rules, the following special concessions will be made to persons taking up land for plantations of coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices in Tavoy, namely,—

(1) A grantee must bring under cultivation one-third of his grant within 12 years from the date of his obtaining the grant. If, after the expiration of 12 years, any surplus uncultivated land, in excess of two acres of waste for each acre of cultivated land, shall remain on the grant, such surplus waste shall then revert to Government; and the grantee shall have no further claim or right in the surplus which has so reverted.

(2) A grantee will not be liable to pay any land revenue or any price for the land of his grant until the end of the tenth year after he enters on possession, provided that he takes bonâ fide steps to cultivate a reasonable proportion of the grant with coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices. In the event of any grantee desiring a more precise definition of a "reasonable proportion," the Chief Commissioner may decide beforehand in each case what proportion of the grant ought to be thus cultivated in each year.

(3) After the end of the tenth year the grantee will be liable to pay land revenue at the rate of Rs. 1-4-0 per acre and cesses at the rate of two annas per acre on one-third of his grant up to the year 1900 A. D.; after the expiration of such year he will be liable to pay for one-third of his grant the same revenue rate as is paid for garden lands in the nearest revenue circle where a garden rate obtains.

(4) A grantee will not be called upon to pay anything for timber, bamboos, or grass which he may cut upon his grant, provided he takes bonâ fide steps as aforesaid to cultivate coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices.

IV.—The only payment which a grantee will have to make on receiving his grant will be eight annas an acre for the cost of survey and demarcation. In consideration of such payment the Deputy Commissioner will cause a survey to be made of the grant, will furnish the grantee with a copy of such survey, and will cause boundary marks to be erected at suitable points in the outer boundary of the grant.

V.—The wishes of applicants will be met as far as possible in regard to the situation and shape of their grants. But ordinarily—

(a) no grant will be given where the Forest Department intend to make a forest reserve;

(b) no grant will be given on such a place as will unduly circumscribe the extension of cultivation of the grazing grounds of any neighbouring village or hamlet;

(c) grants facing a road or navigable stream will have to be of a depth double the length facing such road or navigable stream;

(d) small strips will be reserved leading to landing places for the benefit of neighbouring villages and grantees.

VI.—The Government is now spending much larger sums than heretofore on roads in the Tavoy district. If planters settle in the district, further funds will be allotted for roads from their neighbourhood to the steamer station at either Tavoy or Thayetchoung.

VII.—In order to encourage pioneers in the coffee and cinchona enterprise in Tavoy, the Government will pay to the first four grantees who begin bonâ fide planting operations Rs. 15 per head for every Indian or Chinese coolie, male or female, over 16 years of age, who may be settled and housed on their plantations before the 1st March 1885.

VIII.—In any case of doubt regarding the bonâ fide character of operations for the purposes of concessions III and VII, the Deputy Commissioner will decide, and his decision will be subject to appeal to the Commissioner of Tenasserim, whose decision will be final.

IX.—All minerals and metals under and within the lands granted under these rules are reserved by Government, together with a right to enter upon and resume such portion of land as may be necessary for examining or working mines upon payment of just compensation to the grantee for loss of, or injury done to, the surface.

G. D. BURGESS,
Secy. to the Chief Commr., British Burma.

The 6th April 1882.

Advertisements and Notices by Private Individuals and Corporations.

NOTIFICATION.

With the consent of the Government of India, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore is prepared to receive tenders for a Debenture Loan of (Rs. 20,00,000) twenty lakhs of Rupees on the security of the general revenues of the Mysore Province. The amount of the Loan is to be expended entirely on the construction of an important line of railway from Bangalore to Tiptoor, a distance of about 85 miles.

2. Debentures will be issued for the said amount bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 15th February and 15th August of each year and having a currency of twenty years. The interest will be payable at any of the Government Treasuries of the Mysore Province or at the Banks of Bengal, Madras or Bombay and their branches.

3. The form of Debenture Bonds will be that given below. Each Debenture will be issued for the sum of Rs. (500) five hundred, or some multiple of Rs. 500.

4. Tenders for the whole or any part of the above-named sum of Rs. (20,00,000) twenty lakhs will be received by the Comptroller to the Mysore Government at Bangalore up to noon on the 1st July 1882.

5. Each tender should be in the form hereto annexed, and enclosed in a sealed cover superscribed "Tender for the Mysore Railway Loan of 1882," and sent to the Comptroller to the Government of Mysore at Bangalore.

6. The tenders will be opened at the Dewan's Office at Bangalore in the presence of the Dewan and other members of the Mysore Government on the 1st July 1882 at noon, a minimum rate having first been fixed by the Dewan.

7. Each tender must be accompanied by the deposit of a sum equal to 2 per cent. of the amount tendered. Such deposit may be made by paying the amount to the credit of the Dewan of Mysore at the Banks of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, or at any of their branches, or at any of the Treasuries of the Mysore Government, and forwarding with the tender the receipt of such Bank or Treasury or by a Money Order payable to the Dewan of Mysore, or by Government of India Promissory Notes duly endorsed in favor of the Dewan of Mysore.

8. If the tender be accepted either in whole or in part, the deposit made will be taken in part payment, and the tenderer must arrange for the payment of the remainder of the amount of the loan allotted to him on or before the 15th August 1882 into any of the Treasuries of the Mysore Government, or into the Banks of Bengal, Madras or Bombay or any of their branches to the credit of the Dewan of Mysore, failing which the deposit made will be forfeited.

9. Debentures will be issued as soon as possible after receipt of the amount of allotment.

10. The deposit on tenders which may not be accepted will be returned on application.

11. In the case of two or more tenders at the same rate (not being below the minimum), a pro rata allotment will, if necessary, be made.

12. The rate stated in a tender must not contain any fraction of an anna; if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out, and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

13. In order to avoid mistakes, a separate tender must be made at each rate tendered, and a separate deposit must accompany each tender.

14. The annual revenues of the Mysore Province amount at present to Rs. 1,06,00,000 (one hundred and six lakhs of Rupees), and are expected to yield an annual surplus of five lakhs after defraying all charges and providing for repayments on account of the Famine Loan due to the Government of India.

15. Arrangements will be made for securing negotiability to the Debentures in British India free of Stamp Duty.

Power to suspend or remove special Judge.

The Local Government may, at any time, by a like notification, suspend or remove any special Judge so appointed.

CHAPTER III.

OF THE APPLICATION AND PRELIMINARY INQUIRY.

Application for benefit of Act.

4. (1) At any time within twelve months after a special Judge is appointed for any local area, any zamíndár owning land in that area may apply, in writing, to the Commissioner of the Jhánsí Division, stating that the zamíndár is subject to, or that his immoveable property or any part thereof is encumbered with, private debts, and requesting that the provisions of this Act be applied to him.

(2) The like application may be made with respect to any such zamíndár by an officer appointed for the purpose by the Local Government:

(3) Provided that, where the zamíndár is a disqualified proprietor within the meaning of section 194 of the North-Western Provinces Land-revenue Act, 1873, the application shall be made—

(a) if his property is under the superintendence of the Court of Wards—by the manager of his property, with the consent of that Court; and

(b) if his property is not under such superintendence—by the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the property is situate.

Power to extend time for making applications.

(4) The Local Government may, from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, extend the time prescribed for making applications under this section.

Order to inquire.

5. When any such application is made in the case of any zamíndár, the Commissioner shall direct an inquiry to be made by the special Judge—

(a) into the nature and amount of the zamíndár's private debts, and

(b) into the sufficiency of his property, whether moveable or immoveable (exclusive of his proprietary rights in land and of the property mentioned in the first proviso to section 266 of the Code of Civil Procedure), to discharge his private debts.

Written statement to be submitted.

6. (1) When an inquiry has been directed under section five, the applicant shall, within a period to be fixed by the Commissioner, submit to the special Judge a written statement containing, so far as may be practicable,—

(a) such particulars as the special Judge may require respecting the private debts to which the zamíndár is subject, or with which his immoveable property or any part thereof is encumbered;

(b) the nature and value of the zamíndár's property (exclusive of his proprietary rights in land and of the property mentioned in the first proviso to section 266 of the Code of Civil Procedure); and

(c) the names and residences of his creditors, so far as they are known to, or can be ascertained by, the zamíndár.

Verification of statement.

(2) The statement must be verified by the applicant or by some other competent person, in the manner required by law for the verification of plaints; and if it contains any averment which the person making the verification knows or believes to be false, or does not know or believe to be true, he shall be deemed to have intentionally given false evidence within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code:

Proviso.

(3) Provided that, when the application is made by an officer appointed under section four, clause (2), or by the Deputy Commissioner, it shall not be necessary to verify the statement; but the zamíndár shall, so far as may be practicable, within a period to be fixed by the special Judge, furnish such information regarding the matters mentioned in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of this section, as the Judge may require.

CHAPTER IV.

PROOF OF DEBTS AND PROCEDURE OF SPECIAL JUDGE.

Publication of notice to claimants against zamíndár.

7. (1) When the statement or information referred to in section six has been submitted or furnished, the special Judge shall publish in the official Gazette a notice in the vernacular language of the district, calling upon all persons having claims against the person or the property of the zamíndár by or with respect to whom the application was made under section four, to present to the special Judge, within two months from the date of the publication, a written statement of their claims.

Copies of notice to be exhibited.

(2) The special Judge shall also cause copies of the notice to be exhibited at his own office, at the offices of the Commissioner of the Jhánsí Division and the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the land of the zamíndár is situate, and at some conspicuous place in the village where the zamíndár resides.

Provision for admission of claims within further period of two months.

(3) The statement must be presented within the period specified in the notice, unless the claimant satisfies the special Judge that he had sufficient cause for not presenting the statement within that period, in which case the special Judge may receive the statement within a further period of two months from the expiration of the period so specified.

Consequences of notice.

8. After the publication of the notice, the following consequences shall ensue (namely):—

(a) all proceedings pending at the date of the publication, in any civil or revenue Court in British India in respect of any private debt to which the zamíndár is subject, or with which his immoveable property is encumbered, shall be for ever stayed; and all processes, executions and attachments issued by any such Court, and then in force, in respect of any such debt shall become null and void;

(b) in respect of any such debt no fresh proceeding, process, execution or attachment shall, except as hereinafter provided, be instituted in, or issued by, any civil or revenue Court in British India;

(c) until the Commissioner has declared, as hereinafter provided, that the zamíndár has ceased to be subject to the disabilities mentioned in this clause—

(1) the zamíndár shall be incompetent to sell, mortgage, exchange, give, or, without the consent of the Commissioner, lease his proprietary rights in land or any part thereof; and

(2) no proceeding, process, execution or attachment shall be instituted in, or issued by, any civil or revenue Court in British India against those rights, in respect of any private debt contracted by the zamíndár after the publication of the notice.

Claim to contain full particulars.

9. (1) Every claimant referred to in section seven shall, in the written statement of his claim, present full particulars thereof.

Documents to be given up.

(2) Every document on which the claimant founds his claim, or on which he relies in support thereof, shall be delivered to the special Judge along with the written statement.

Entries in books.

(3) If the document is an entry in any book, the claimant shall produce the book to the special Judge together with a copy of the entry on which he relies. The special Judge shall mark the book for the purpose of identification, and, after examining and comparing the copy with the original, shall return the book to the claimant.

Exclusion of documents not produced.

(4) If any document in the possession or under the control of the claimant is not delivered or produced by him, as required by this section, the special Judge may refuse to receive that document in evidence on the claimant's behalf at the investigation of the case.

Claim not duly notified to be deemed discharged.

10. Every claim against the zamíndár in respect of a private debt shall, unless made within the time and in the manner required by this Act, be deemed, for all purposes, and on all occasions, to have been duly discharged.

Order appointing time for inquiry.

11. The special Judge shall, by an order in writing, appoint a time for inquiring into each claim made as aforesaid, and a copy of that order shall be served on the claimant and on the zamíndár, or, when the application has been made on behalf of a disqualified proprietor, on the manager of his property, or the Deputy Commissioner, as the case may be.

History of transactions with zamíndár to be investigated.

At the time so appointed, or at any subsequent time to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the special Judge shall hear such of the parties as appear, and, if the amount of any claim (other than a claim decreed by a competent Court) is disputed, shall inquire into the history and merits of that claim from the commencement of the transactions between the parties, and shall, as hereinafter provided, determine the amount (if any) justly due to the claimant.

Explanation.—Subject to the right of appeal and power of revision hereinafter conferred, the effect of this determination is to extinguish the previously existing right (if any) of the claimant, together with all rights (if any) of mortgage or lien by which the same is secured, and, where any amount is determined to be due to him, to substitute for those rights a right to recover that amount in the manner and to the extent hereinafter prescribed, and not otherwise.

Mode of taking account.

12. When the special Judge inquires, under section eleven, into the history and merits of a claim, he shall—notwithstanding any agreement between the zamíndár and the claimant, or the persons (if any) through whom they claim, as to allowing compound interest, or as to setting off the profits of mortgaged property in lieu of interest without an account, or otherwise determining the manner of taking the account, and notwithstanding any statement or settlement of account, or any contract purporting to close previous dealings and create a new obligation,

open the account from the commencement of the transactions between the parties, and take that account according to the following rules (that is to say) :—

(a) separate accounts of principal and interest shall be taken;

(b) in the account of principal, there shall be debited to the zamíndár such money as may, from time to time, have been actually received by him, or on his account, from the claimant, and the price of goods (if any) sold to him by the claimant as part of the transactions between them;

(d) in the account of principal, there shall not be debited to the zamíndár any accumulated interest which has been converted into principal at any statement or settlement of account, or by any contract made in the course of the transactions, unless the special Judge, for reasons to be recorded by him in writing, deems such debit to be reasonable;

(e) in the account of interest, there shall be debited to the zamíndár, monthly, simple interest on the balance of principal for the time being outstanding, at the rate allowed by the special Judge as hereinafter provided;

(f) all money paid by, or on account of, the zamíndár to the claimant, or on his account, and all profits, service or other advantages of every description received by the claimant in the course of the transactions, shall be credited first in the account of interest, and, when any payment is more than sufficient to discharge the balance of interest due at the time it is made, the residue of that payment shall be credited to the zamíndár in the account of principal:

Explanation.—The advantages mentioned in this clause shall be estimated, if necessary, at such money-value as the special Judge may determine in his discretion, or with the aid of arbitrators appointed by him;

(g) the accounts of principal and interest shall be made up to the date of making the claim; and the aggregate of the balances (if any) appearing due on both the accounts against the zamíndár at that date shall be deemed to be the amount due at that date, except when the balance appearing due on the account of interest exceeds that appearing due on the account of principal, in which case double the latter balance shall be deemed to be the amount then due.

Interest to be allowed.

13. The interest to be awarded in taking an account, according to the rules set forth in section twelve, shall be—

(a) the rate (if any) agreed upon between the zamíndár and the claimant, or the persons (if any) through whom they respectively claim, unless that rate is deemed by the special Judge to be unreasonable; or

(b) if that rate is deemed by the special Judge unreasonable, or if no rate was agreed upon, or, when any agreement to set off profits in lieu of interest without an account, entered into between the zamíndár and the claimant, or the persons (if any) through whom they respectively claim, has been set aside by the special Judge, such rate as the special Judge deems reasonable.

Proceedings when amount determined to be due is paid into court.

14. If, on the termination of the inquiries by the special Judge, the zamíndár forthwith pays into court the aggregate amount of the claims determined to be due, together with the aggregate of such costs (if any) as the special Judge may in each case award against the zamíndár, the special Judge shall submit a report of his proceedings to the Commissioner, and shall, on the application of each claimant, pay to him such portions (if any) of the said aggregate amounts as may be due to him.

Power to rank debts and fix future interest.

15. If the zamíndár does not pay the said amounts under section fourteen, and these amounts cannot, in the opinion of the special Judge, be paid from the proceeds of the sale of the zamíndár's property (exclusive of his proprietary rights in land and of the property mentioned in the first proviso to section 266 of the Code of Civil Procedure), the special Judge shall make an order ranking the claims and costs according to the order in which they shall be paid or discharged, and fixing the interest (if any) to be paid on the amounts thereof respectively from the date of the final decision thereon to the date of the payment or discharge thereof.

Power to eject mortgagee, &c.

16. When any person whose claim has been determined by the special Judge, or whose claim is, under section ten, to be deemed to be discharged, has, as mortgagee or otherwise, obtained possession of any land of the zamíndár as security for his claim and continues in possession of that land, the special Judge may order him to be ejected therefrom.

Any order passed under this section shall be executed as nearly as may be in accordance with the rules prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure for the execution of decrees.

Report to be submitted by special Judge in certain cases.

17. When the proceedings hereinbefore prescribed have been concluded otherwise than under section fourteen, the special Judge shall submit a report to the Commissioner, showing the nature and amount of the claims and costs as determined and awarded by him, the nature and amount of all the zamíndár's property (exclusive of his proprietary rights in land and of the property mentioned in the first proviso to section 266 of the Code of Civil Procedure) which may be available for the payment or discharge of the same, and, when an order has been made under section fifteen, the particulars of such order.

CHAPTER V.

PROCEDURE OF COMMISSIONER AND MODE OF LIQUIDATION.

On report of special Judge, Commissioner to sell property reported by special Judge, and, if necessary, to direct valuation of proprietary rights.

18. On receiving a report under section seventeen, the Commissioner shall direct that the property reported by the special Judge as available for the payment or discharge of the claims and costs determined and awarded by him, or any specified portion of that property, be sold by public auction, and, from the proceeds thereof, shall pay or discharge, so far as practicable, the amount of the said claims and costs.

If those proceeds are not sufficient to pay or discharge in full that amount, the Commissioner shall direct the value of the zamíndár's proprietary rights in land to be ascertained in the manner following:—

For the purposes of a loan, the value of those rights shall be estimated to be a sum amounting to six times the nett annual profits of the zamíndár.

For the purposes of purchase by Government, the value of those rights shall be estimated to be a sum amounting to ten times those nett annual profits.

"Nett annual profits."

Explanation.—The expression "nett annual profits" means the balance left, after deducting the amount of the annual Government revenue and the rates payable annually by the zamíndár under the North-Western Provinces Local Rates Act, 1878, or any other Act for the time being in force, from the aggregate amount of—

(a) the rents which he is entitled to receive annually from his tenants;

(b) the rent which he would have to pay annually for his sír-land (if any), if he were an ex-proprietary tenant thereof;

(c) all other profits annually receivable by him as zamíndár; and

(d) in the case of profits occasionally receivable or varying in amount from year to year, the average annual amount of such profits during the ten years next preceding the valuation.

Proceedings in liquidation.

19. When the value of the zamíndár's proprietary rights has been ascertained as directed in section eighteen, the Commissioner shall proceed as follows:—

(a) If the sum at which the rights have been valued for the purposes of a loan is sufficient to pay or discharge the unpaid balance of the claims and costs determined and awarded by the special Judge, together with the zamíndár's public debts, the Commissioner may, with the consent of the zamíndár, direct such sum as may be necessary, not being more than the amount of such valuation, to be advanced from the public treasury as a loan to the zamíndár, repayable, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent. per annum, by instalments, within a term not exceeding ten years, and shall, from the sum so advanced, pay or discharge in full the said balance and the said public debts.

(b) If the zamíndár does not consent to accept such loan, or if the sum at which his proprietary rights in land have been valued for the purposes of a loan is not sufficient to discharge the said balance and the said public debts, the Commissioner may order that any portion, or, if necessary, the whole, of those rights shall be sold in the manner hereinafter prescribed in order to discharge such balance and debts.

Attachment of proprietary rights.

20. When an order for the sale of the proprietary rights of any zamíndár has been made under section nineteen, the Commissioner may order those rights to be attached and taken under the management of the Deputy Commissioner, who shall have, for this purpose, the same powers as are conferred, for the management of a mahál, on a Collector by the North-Western Provinces Land-revenue Act, 1873, section 155.

The management shall continue until the rights are sold under this Act.

Mode of selling proprietary rights.

21. (1) All sales under this Act of proprietary rights in land shall be made by public auction in the manner prescribed by the said North-Western Provinces Land-revenue Act, 1873, for the sale of immoveable property for arrears of land-revenue.

(2) If, at the public auction of any zamíndár's proprietary rights in land, any bid is made for those rights above the sum at which they have been valued for the purposes of purchase by Government, the rights shall be sold to the highest bidder; and the proceeds of the sale shall be paid to the Deputy Commissioner or such officer as the Commissioner may direct.

(3) If no such bid is made, the Commissioner shall direct a sum of money equal to the amount of that valuation to be paid from the public treasury to the Deputy Commissioner or such officer.

Duty of Deputy Commissioner.

22. The Deputy Commissioner or such officer, as the case may be, shall thereupon, subject to the control of the Commissioner,— first, pay, from the money which he has received under section twenty-one, the zamíndár's public debts;

secondly, out of the balance of that money, pay or discharge, so far as may be practicable, the unpaid balances of the claims and costs determined and awarded by the special Judge, in the order in which they are ranked under section fifteen by that Judge;

thirdly, pay the surplus (if any) to the zamíndár.

When the whole of a zamíndár's proprietary rights in land have been sold in execution of an order passed under section nineteen, clause (b), and the proceeds of the sale are insufficient to discharge in full the amounts referred to in this section, the unpaid balance of those amounts shall nevertheless be deemed to have been duly discharged.

Consequences of loan.

23. When a sum of money has been lent, under section nineteen, clause (a), to a zamíndár, and applied as provided in that clause, and he fails to pay any instalment of principal or interest on the day fixed for the payment thereof, the whole sum remaining unpaid on account of principal or interest, or both, shall be recoverable at once as if it were an arrear of land-revenue due by him in respect of the land comprised in the valuation made under section eighteen.

Conditions of purchase by Government.

24. When a sum of money has been paid from the public treasury in respect of any proprietary rights of a zamíndár as provided in section twenty-one, and has been applied as provided in section twenty-two, the following consequences shall ensue (namely) :—

(a) all such proprietary rights shall vest in Her Majesty ;

(b) in respect of any of his sír-land, the proprietary rights in which are, under this section, vested in Her Majesty, the zamíndár shall be deemed to be an ex-proprietary tenant holding the land directly under the Government.

Power to declare that zamíndár has ceased to be subject to disabilities.

25. In each of the following cases (namely),—

(a) when a report has been submitted to the Commissioner under section fourteen, or

(b) when the claims and costs determined and awarded by the special Judge have been paid or discharged in full under section eighteen, or

(c) when the amount lent, under section nineteen, to a zamíndár has been repaid, together with the interest due thereon, or

(e) when the whole, or, where it is necessary to sell only a portion, that portion, of his proprietary rights in land has been sold under this Act to the highest bidder, or those rights have vested in Her Majesty under section twenty-four,

the Commissioner shall declare that the zamíndár has ceased to be subject to the disabilities mentioned in section eight, clause (c) :

Provided that, in cases coming under clause (d) of this section, no such declaration shall be made without the previous sanction of the Local Government.

CHAPTER VI.

OF APPEAL AND REVISION.

Appeals.

26. An appeal against any decision or order of the special Judge, under this Act, shall lie to the Commissioner if preferred within one month from the date of the decision or order, and not later, unless the appellant satisfies the Commissioner that he had sufficient cause for not presenting the appeal within that period.

Subject to the power of revision next hereinafter provided, the decision of the Commissioner on an appeal under this section shall be final.

Power to call for proceedings and pass order thereon.

27. The Board of Revenue or the Commissioner may, of its or his own motion, or on the application of any person concerned, call for and revise the proceedings in any case under this Act, and pass such order thereon, consistent with the provisions herein contained, as it or he thinks fit :

Provided that nothing in this section shall empower the Commissioner to pass any order reversing or modifying an order passed by the Board of Revenue.

CHAPTER VII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Death of zamíndár during proceedings.

28. If a zamíndár with regard to whom a notice has been published under section seven dies before a declaration has been made in respect of him under section twenty-five,

(a) the proceedings under this Act shall be continued as nearly as may be possible in all respects as if the zamíndár were still living ; and

(b) any person succeeding to the whole or any portion of the zamíndár's proprietary rights in land shall become subject in respect of those rights to the disabilities imposed by section eight, clause (c), and shall continue so subject until a declaration has been made in respect of him under section twenty-five.

Investigation to be deemed a judicial proceeding.

29. Every investigation conducted by the special Judge with reference to any claim made to him under this Act, or to any matter connected with any such claim, shall be deemed to be a judicial proceeding within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code ;

Special Judge deemed public servant within meaning of Indian Penal Code.

and the special Judge shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of that Code.

Power to summon witnesses, compel production of documents and award costs.

30. For the purposes of compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents, and of awarding costs, the special Judge shall have the powers conferred on a Civil Court by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Bar of suits.

31. No suit or other proceeding shall be maintained against any person in respect of anything done by him in good faith pursuant to this Act.

Power to make rules.

32. The Local Government may, from time to time, make rules consistent with this Act—

(a) to regulate the procedure in all cases under this Act ;

(b) to declare what shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the vernacular language of any specified district ; and

(c) generally to carry out the provisions of this Act.

Such rules shall be published in the official Gazette, and, when so published, shall have the force of law.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE INDO-EUROPEAN TELEGRAPH DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1880-81.

Nos. 149-57 T., dated Simla, the 13th April 1882.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department.

Read—

Letter from the Director-in-Chief, Indo-European Telegraph Department, No. 279, dated 24th August 1881.

OBSERVATIONS.—The Capital Account has been increased during the year by £276-4-9 only, and stood at the end of the year approximately at £1,154,429-4-9.

2. The receipts amounted to £88,474-12-10, showing an increase of £7,330-5-11 over those of the previous year; most of the increase being due to increased receipts from the common purse arrangement. In the Administration Report of 1879-80 the Director-in-Chief reported that the earnings for that year, subject to correction, were £82,710-16-3, the difference between this amount and the sum now reported as the earnings of that year, or £81,144-6-11, should be explained at an early date. In submitting future accounts all such differences should invariably be explained.

3. The expenditure of the year was £73,113-2-10, being somewhat higher than the normal expenditure of the previous year, owing to increased cost of repairs.

4. The net balance of the year's revenue over working expenses amounted to £15,361-10-0; but this does not include the earnings of the Patrick Stewart, for services rendered to other departments, amounting to £1,078-6-0, and the value of the Amberwitch, £4,000 transferred to the Marine Department. Including these items the net revenue is increased to £20,439-16-0, representing a profit of £1·77 per cent. on the capital outlay.

5. Considerable damage was done to the lines in Persia by the storms during the winter, which was exceptionally severe, and the cost of repairs has been consequently somewhat heavier than usual; but, on the other hand, the wilful damage done to the lines was only of a trivial nature.

6. The general results of the year's operations are very satisfactory, so far as the working of the Telegraph service and the efficiency of the lines are concerned, and the Government of India concurs in the commendations by the Director-in-Chief of the staff, through whose exertions such good results have been obtained. But the financial condition of the administration requires careful consideration. The Government of India notes with approval that efforts are being made to increase the traffic, and it may be noted that some reductions have been made in the cost of working since the Report under review was written.

7. The total revenue is the largest that has been earned since the alternative route viâ Suez was completed, and there seems to be a fair prospect of the revenue increasing; but as yet it does not yield an adequate return on the capital invested, and endeavours must not be relaxed to secure such a diminution of working expenses as shall, without risking efficiency of the service, leave a fair balance for interest on the capital invested.

8. The figures quoted in the Report relating both to the Capital and Revenue Accounts differ somewhat from those in the annual accounts submitted by the Examiner of Telegraph Accounts: this is unavoidable as the figures shown in the Administrative Accounts are the actual earnings whether received or not, and the actual expenditure incurred whether paid or not. On the other hand, the Financial Accounts exhibit the transactions which actually occur during the year. It is manifest, therefore, that the two sets of figures can never agree.

9. The differences between the two sets of figures are brought out in the subjoined statement:—

	As per Administration Report.	As per Finance Accounts.	Difference.
			More.	Less.
	£	£	£	£
Capital Expenditure—
During the year 1880-81 . . .	276	290	...	14
To end of 1880-81	1,154,429	1,153,755	674	...
Revenue Receipts—
During the year 1880-81 . . .	88,475	84,219	4,256	...
Revenue Expenditure—
During the year 1880-81 . . .	73,113	69,632	3,481	...

The difference of £14 under Capital expenditure during the year 1880-81 is explained to be due to approximate figures having been entered in the Administration Report, while the Finance Accounts contain actuals. The difference under Capital expenditure to end of 1880-81 is partly due to the difference of £14 shown above, and partly to certain adjustments of previous year's expenditure. The difference under Revenue receipts is due to the Administration Report dealing with net revenue from messages earned by the Department for the complete year; while the Finance Accounts bring to account the actual receipts of the year, whether pertaining to the year alone or to previous years. The difference under Revenue expenditure is partly due to adjustments, subsequent to the submission of the Administration Report, and partly to the refund from common purse to other Telegraph Administrations, being treated in the Administration Report as reduction of receipts, while in the Finance Accounts it has been treated as expenditure.

Order.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Director-in-Chief, Indo-European Telegraph Department, for information and guidance.

Also, that copies of the Report and Resolution be forwarded to the Department of Finance and Commerce, and to the Foreign, Military (Marine), Home, and Revenue and Agricultural Departments for information.

Also, to the Government of Bombay, and to the Director General of Telegraphs in India for information, and to the Publisher of the Gazette of India, for publication in the Supplement to the Gazette.

Ordered further, that the Report and Resolution be forwarded to the Secretary of State for the information of Her Majesty's Government.

W. S. TREVOR, Colonel, R.E.,
Secretary to the Government of India.

No. 279, dated 24th August 1881.

From—Lieut-Col. J. U. Bateman-Champain, R. E., Director-in-Chief, Indo-European Government Telegraph Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, P. W. Dept.

I beg to submit the following Administration Report of the Indo-European Government Telegraph Department for the year ending 31st March 1881, and I class my observations in the same order and under the same general heads as those in last year's statement :—

CAPITAL.

Capital Account, Appendix A.

2. In my Report for 1879-80, the Capital Account was stated to be, approximately, on 31st March, £1,154,333-0-3, which figure was subsequently corrected to £1,154,153. On the 31st March 1881, the account stood, subject to slight modifications, at £1,154,429-4-9, showing an increase during the year of £276-4-9 to the Capital Account of the Department. Full particulars are given in the Appendix A.

REVENUE.

Revenue Account for 1880-81, Appendix B.

3. The receipts during the year amounted to £88,474-12-10 which, compared wtih £81,144-6-11, received during the previous year, shows an increase in 1880-81 of £7,330-5-11, of which sum £7,244-12-9 is due to our increased receipts from the common purse.

Expenditure for 1880-81.

4. The expenditure of the year was £73,113-2-10, but in order to compare this properly with the previous year's figures, it is necessary to eliminate from that year's expenditure the large abnormal debit, transferred from Capital Account of £26,534-12-10, part cost of the new departmental steamer Patrick Stewart. The normal expenditure for 1879-80 is then seen to be £68,175-4-11, showing an increase to expenditure in 1880-81 of £4,937-17-11, the principal items of difference being as follows :—

	Increase. £	Decrease. £
1. Repairs	3,725	...
2. Establishment	...	753
3. Tools and Plant	...	1,141
4. Cable Steamer and Marine charges	834	...
5. Advertising and Agencies, (2 years)	994	...
6. Stores for Turkish Government, cost since recovered	959	...
7. Public Works charges	181	...
	6,693	1,894

The remaining differences are unimportant.

I should point out that items 5 and 6 are not bonâ fide expenditure during the year. The charges for advertising, &c., are for previous years, while the cost of the stores lent to the Turkish Government has since been repaid, so that the real increase was not £4,937-17-11, but £2,984-17-11.

Net gain on year.

5. The net balance of the year's Revenue Account is £15,361-10-0, and shows an improvement upon last year, allowing for the abnormal entry above referred to of £2,392-8-0.

ADMINISTRATION ACCOUNT.

Extra earnings.

6. The following items, for which I am not authorized to take credit under Revenue, although in fairness due to that account, are—

	Rs.
Earnings of Patrick Stewart	10,783
Estimated value of Amberwitch transferred to Marine Department without charge	40,000 50,783
	or £ 5,078-6-0

This amount if credited to our Revenue Account would increase the balance for 1880-81 to £20,439-16-0, even if the temporary loan to the Turkish Department of £959 be included in the year's expenditure.

Transfer of Amberwitch.

7. With regard to the item entered as "Value of the Amberwitch," I have already ventured to point out to the Government of India that, in accordance with the order by which the cost of the new ship was actually deducted last year from our departmental earnings, the proceeds of the sale of the old ship were, on the other hand, to be credited. In consequence, however, of the Amberwitch having been transferred to another branch of the service and not sold, an inaccurate impression of the real financial results of our working is given by the figures I have to submit.

8. Para. 4 of the Government of India Resolution on my last year's Report clearly lays down that the sale proceeds of the Amberwitch will be credited to our revenue, yet by letter No. 234S., Marine Department, dated Simla, 4th May 1881, this ruling is nullified, and the Marine Department obtains for nothing a ship for which this Department paid.

LINES, MAINTENANCE AND REPAIRS.

No change in Persian Division.

9. The lines which constitute the Persian Division have been practically unaltered since my last annual Report was submitted. No extensions have been carried out nor are any in contemplation, and the outdoor work of the Inspectors has been confined to repairs.

Decrease of wilful damage in Persia.

10. Lieutenant-Colonel Smith observes that wilful damage to the poles and wires has been only of a trivial nature, not greater than probably occurs on telegraph lines in other countries.

Present length of Persian Gulf cables.

11. In the Persian Gulf Division owing to the abandonment of our station on the small Island of Henjam and the consequent joining up of the Jashk-Bushire gutta-percha cable, the length of the latter has been very slightly increased. From Fao viâ Bushire-Jashk and Gwadur to Karachi the total amount of gutta-percha cable is now 1217·37 nautical miles. The India-rubber cable between Bushire and Jashk measures the same as last year, viz., 498·46; the total of our submarine wires being therefore 1715·83 nautical miles.

Mr. Mance's Report.

12. The annual Report submitted by Mr. Mance, the Engineer and Electrician, contains so much information which may be of great value to all engaged in submarine telegraphy, that I forward it as received with the following general remarks.

Insulation of cables.

13. It will be seen that the eletrical condition of the cables is, as compared with the insulation at the beginning of the year, decidedly satisfactory.

Faults in cables during 1880-81.

14. There were 12 deep sea faults, 11 of which have been successfully repaired. The twelfth developing itself on the Bushire-Jashk gutta-percha section on the 26th March, just after our repairing vessel, the Patrick Stewart, had sailed for Bombay for alterations to diminish her rolling. After much consideration, and acting under the advice of Mr. Ffinch and Mr. Mance, I decided not to recall the ship, but to postpone repairs to the gutta-percha and trust to the India-rubber cable to carry our traffic.

Remark on recent break of both Eastern cables.

15. Happily the confidence reposed in the latter has been justified by the results, and even when both the cables of the Eastern Company became interrupted in June and July of the current year, the whole of the telegraphic business between Europe and India and the Far East was satisfactorily transmitted by our single India-rubber cable with very little delay indeed.

16. The history of the recent unusual pressure on this Department is not, however, to be entered upon here, but will be related in the Report for the year 1881-82.

Cause of faults.

17. All these 12 deep sea faults except one occurred on the same section of cable and are ascribed to the corrosion of the guard wires causing breaks where the cable happens to rest on uneven ground.

Accuracy of tests.

18. Mr. Mance's tests for discovering the situation of an interruption have been singularly accurate, the average distance between the calculated and the actual position being only about a quarter of a mile.

Condition of India-rubber (Hooper's) cable.

19. During the year under review the (Hooper's) India-rubber cable has given no trouble at all. Its insulation is rather variable owing to the existence of a very minute defect which does not, however, interfere in any way with the working.

Brown and Allan relay.

20. The value of the Brown and Allan relay now regularly used on our main circuit has even exceeded our expectations, and during the past year a formal agreement was entered into with the inventor to allow of our employing as many as we wish over our Persian Gulf Division. Owing to a slight misunderstanding during my absence from England, some delay (referred to in Mr. Mance's Report) took place in shipping the additional instruments wanted, but the difficulty was overcome on my return, and the Department is now completely supplied. Mr. Mance has devised a new system of translation for use with this relay, and has thus increased the signalling speed in a marked degree.

Cable work at Manora-Karachi Harbour.

21. During the year the new cable factory at Manora was completed, and I was much pleased with the building and with the new machinery when I inspected the place in January last. Fifty-five miles of old cable were thoroughly overhauled and made almost as good as new. The effect of the establishment of these works will be that at a comparatively small annual outlay for wire and taping, we shall gradually renew the cables which are now respectively 18 and 12 years old.

Length of Mekran land line.

22. The Mekran Coast land line has been greatly improved by the extended use of the oil insulators introduced by Messrs. Johnson and Phillips. The length of this section is now 680 miles, carrying 1,360 miles of wires, the slight addition to the length of last year being due to a diversion which has been carried out between Karachi and Ormara. Formerly, the line zigzagged up the lofty Malan Cliff close to the sea, and accidents were somewhat frequent and repairs most difficult to effect.

Diversion of land line at Malan Cliff.

23. The route selected by Mr. Newnham, the Assistant Superintendent in charge, after a careful survey of the country, cuts out more than 50 miles of the old line and runs inland. It is slightly longer, but much more accessible than the former route. Mr. Ffinch speaks most warmly of Mr. Newnham's exertions and of the great advantage of the change from the Malan. In order to save expense, the diversion was carried out slowly during three seasons, and almost entirely by the permanent staff employed on the line. Both the Assistant Superintendents on the Mekran Coast Telegraph, Messrs. Newnham and Pierce, have been very assiduous and successful in their labours to improve this important section.

INTERRUPTIONS.

Unprecedented severity of season in Persia.

24. The winter of 1880-81 was one of almost unexampled severity all over Persia, and, notwithstanding the efforts of our maintenance staff, the interruptions were, in comparison with previous years, numerous and of long duration. In December, large tracts of country, especially in the south, were literally flooded by continuous heavy rain which not only washed down many telegraph poles but made travelling impossible. In the alluvial plain of Persepolis the damage to our line was very serious, and as nearly all the bridges over the narrow deep streams were carried away, repairs to the line were most tedious and difficult to effect. In one place near Bushire the Inspector succeeded in restoring communication through one wire by arranging relays of men to hold up the posts until the water subsided sufficiently to admit of their being replaced. In the case of another break near Shiraz, the Inspector had to open his way at considerable risk through the deep drifts of snow by driving bullocks in front of him. Heavy rains all over Persia were succeeded by snow and hard frost, so that the wires were literally broken down by the weight of the icicles and frozen snow, and it is not surprising that the interruptions to traffic, that is to say when all three wires were disabled, amounted in the aggregate to 7 days 19 hours and 55 minutes. In the previous year they were but 4 hours and 40 minutes. The interruptions of 2 wires amounted to 8 days 12 hours 45 minutes as compared with 2 days 23 hours 24 minutes, and of 1 wire to 19 days 15 hours 21 minutes compared with 13 days 4 hours 9 minutes in 1879-80.

Interruptions in Persia.

25. I can from personal observation assert that the increased interruptions were not due to diminished activity or attention on the part of the staff, nor to decay of the posts or wires, but solely to the disastrous weather which prevailed.

26. In the Persian Gulf through communication was not once interrupted during the year under reveiw. The gutta-percha Bushire-Jashk cable was however broken for 175 days 15 hours, and has in fact only been mended in August 1881. It might have been put right when we pleased, but the alternative India-rubber cable was well able to carry all our business, and as stated above, our vessel, the Patrick Stewart, had been ordered into dock at Bombay just as the last cable defect in the Gulf was developed.

Interruptions in Gulf.

27. The Mekran land line was out of order for 169 hours 10 minutes, chiefly in consequence of landslips at the Malan Cliff, which dangerous place is now avoided by the Buzi diversion mentioned in para. 23.

Interruptions on land line, Mekran Coast.

28. The total interruptions to traffic on the Teheran route amounted during 1880-81 to 14 days 18 hours 47 minutes, of which 6 days 22 hours 52 minutes are chargeable to the Indo-European Company's section between London and Teheran, and 7 days 19 hours 55 minutes to our own Persian Section between Teheran and Bushire. The Turkish lines were broken for 147 days 4 hours and 16 minutes.

29. It may therefore be pointed out that, notwithstanding the bad breaks in Persia, the Indo-European "through" line was interrupted in 1880-81 rather less than the preceding year, viz., 14 days 18 hours 47 minutes, as compared with 15 days 14 hours 27 minutes as entered in para. 24 of my last year's Report.

Interruptions on through line somewhat less than last year.

TRAFFIC.

30. The rules and tariffs of the London International Convention came into force on the 1st April 1880, and remained in operation during the year.

London Convention in force.

31. In the tariffs the only alteration affecting India was an increase of 10 centimes to the terminal rate which, having been unsuccessfully applied for at the Rome Conference in 1872 and at the St. Petersburg Conference in 1875, was at length accorded at the London Conference of 1879. To meet this increase in India the British Post Office and the English Companies raised their collection in the United Kingdom from 4*s.* 6*d.* to 4*s.* 7*d.* per word, although the former amount would have sufficed to cover the revised charge of fcs. 5·60. The raising of the collection at the English end of this lines was opposed by this Department, but without success.

Slight change of tariff.

Total revenue.

32. In 1880-81, as stated above, our receipts were £ 88,475 made up as follows :—

Earnings	69,192
Profit from common purse	18,887
Miscellaneous	396
TOTAL	88,475

This is actually the largest revenue to the Department since the rival Suez line was completed.

Remarks on proportion of work done by the two main systems.

33. Although the earnings, £ 69,192, are some £ 5,000 in excess of those of last year, the proportion of messages carried by the Department has not kept pace with the business done viâ Suez. The Eastern Company have one enormous advantage over ourselves in the circumstance of their owning special offices in Liverpool and Manchester besides those in London, with wires from those important cities to the metropolis. The conveniences thus offered to the mercantile public are great, and since the close of the year under review, the whole question has been carefully considered by the Indo-European Company and myself, and with the approval of the Secretary of State, measures will shortly be adopted which will, we hope, tend to improve our earnings and lessen the profit we now derive from the joint purse.

34. Last year we earned 80 per cent., this year 78 per cent., of our total revenue.

Remarks by Mr. Brasher.

35. In relation to this question of why the Red Sea line succeeds in obtaining more than its former share of the public patronage, Mr. Brasher, after enumerating several reasons, observes that "the Eastern Company's Association with the Extension Company is so close that the latter gives it practically all the Far East traffic. The Indian Government having from the outset granted to the Extension Company the privilege of an unconditional free label across India, the Extension Company takes advantage of it to label all its traffic viâ Suez. By International rules, it is the senders of the telegrams who ought to place the labels on their messages, the Administrations having only the reversion of this right if the senders fail to make use of it.

"I do not know what was the intention of Government in granting the free label to the Extension Company, without a guarantee that it must be written by the senders and at their own free will; but in the days of our strongest competition with the Eastern Company, conclusive evidence used to be laid before the Indian Telegraph Department that residents in the Far East were not allowed the power to label their homeward messages by any other than the Eastern route. No effective action was, however, apparently taken on this evidence, and the same state of things still exists up to the present day.

"The fact of messages coming home from the Far East viâ Suez, leads to messages going out to the Far East viâ Suez, and the quasi-monopoly of the Far East traffic thus secured to the Eastern Company has given to that Company a great deal of Indian traffic also, for merchants and banks doing business with India and beyond naturally prefer to send all their messages by one route and so avoid multiplying their accounts. The remedy, so far as practicable, would be for Government to withdraw the right of way across India for the label on Far East messages except where it was added by the sender. Free transmission should apparently be for the public label only, and not for that of the Extension Company. Messages not labelled by the public should be sent home from India by the route working best, in accordance with Reg. XXXVIII of the London Convention.

"As its association with the Extension Company's lines beyond India gives the Eastern Company an enormous advantage in the East, so the possession of Branch Offices at Manchester and Liverpool, with special wires to London, gives it the bulk of the provincial traffic of the United Kingdom, for no merchants will use the omnibus lines of the Post Office where special wires exist and are available for their service.

"The only means of recovering our share of the provincial traffic of the United Kingdom will be for the Indo-European route also to rent special wires to Manchester and Liverpool, and this is being done."

36. It may be interesting to note that prior to the establishment of the Indo-European and the Eastern Companies in 1870 when the entire traffic passed by the lines of this Department and across Turkey, the average number of paid words per annum was about 755,000.

Number of paid words which passed during year.

37. The number, counting the traffic viâ the Persian Gulf and viâ the Red Sea combined, has increased to 3,187,211 during 1880-81, of which 2,303,721 were transmitted by the Eastern Company and 883,490 by ourselves. There were besides messages between the several Gulf stations, between Persia and Turkey, &c., which are distinct from the joint purse messages and which raise the total number of paid words from 883,490 to 924,292.

38. During the year moreover 612 Government press messages or 43,851 words of the net value of Rs. 38,369-12 were despatched from Karachi to the Resident at Bushire without charge to Government.

39. Mr. Herbage in his Report gives the following table of the annual growth of the traffic over the Gulf cables during the past four years which shows that since 1877-78 there has been the very substantial increase in—

	Per cent.
Messages	70½
Number of words	53½
Net receipts	74
Gross value	79

Year.	Number of messages.	Containing words.	Net receipts to the Persian Gulf Section.			Gross value of traffic.
			Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
1877-78	29,363	601,523	3,72,672	8	0	9,04,949	14	0

1879-80	42,487	872,796	6,01,023	4	0	13,97,687	1	0

Speed of transmission.

40. The mean rate of transmission between London and Karachi was highly satisfactory: the average time occupied being precisely the same as last year, viz., 39 minutes; the time between London and Calcutta viâ Teheran was 1 hour 18 minutes against 2 hours 22 minutes viâ Suez where the traffic was, as already stated, much heavier.

Irregularity of the working viâ Turkey.

41. The working viâ Turkey has been irregular and unsatisfactory as compared with that of last year. This may be accounted for in great measure by the severity of the winter and the heavy floods between Baghdad and Bussorah.

Accuracy of the signalling.

42. The accuracy of the signalling has been decidedly good. The errors made on the Persian Gulf Section were 0·301 per cent. of the words transmitted. Lieutenant-Colonel Smith's return for Persia has not been made out on a correct principle: errors classed as "extremely trivial" not having been noted at all. I have drawn Colonel Smith's attention to this matter and have instructed him in future to enter every mistake, no matter how insignificant in appearance.

43. Mr. Herbage concludes his annual letter as follows:—

Remarks by Mr. Herbage.

"The Report for 1879-80 showed most satisfactory results in traffic, speed and accuracy, and although during the year under review our transactions have not developed in the same proportion as in the preceding year, yet they are in all particulars favourable and progressive, and may be briefly summarized under one head."

INCREASE.

	1880-81 compared with 1879-80.	1879-80 compared with 1878-79.	Total increase for past 2 years.
Number of messages	17¾ %	19 %	36¾ %
Number of words	6 %	24 %	30 %
Net receipts, Persian Gulf Section	7¾ %	34 %	41¾ %
Gross value of traffic	23 %	27 %	50 %

Objection rather generally entertained to one of the new Convention Rules.

44. Under this heading "Traffic" I may allude briefly to one of the new rules of the London Convention which is considered faulty by the Indian Department and my own. I refer to Reglement XIX relating to rectifying messages. It would be inconvenient to enter fully into the matter here, and

I will content myself with stating that I am now in communication with the Indian Department and the London Companies on the subject, and I hope some method may be devised of removing the difficulty which at present certainly exists.

INSPECTIONS, &c.

Lieutenant-Colonel Smith's inspections in Persia.

45. At the beginning of the year Lieutenant-Colonel Smith, the Director, had just returned from his inspection of the lines between Teheran and Bushire, and in the autumn he accompanied me again, returning to his head-quarters in January 1881. Mr. Ffinch visited the Mekran land line and its stations in September 1880, and subsequently in January he and I inspected all the cable and land line offices from Fao to Karachi.

Mr. Ffinch in Persian Gulf.

Mr. Palmer's inspection of the Head Office at Karachi.

46. During the year Mr. Palmer, the Examiner of Telegraph Accounts, was good enough to visit Karachi at my request, and he examined very closely the system of accounts and the various forms in use. He suggested some valuable modifications of the latter, and since his inspection, we have been able to do away with a considerable amount of clerical work at the Gulf head-quarters. Mr. Palmer afterwards informed me that he was much pleased with the way in which the work was carried on at Karachi.

Journeys of Director-in-Chief during 1880-81.

47. My own journeys during 1880-81 were as follows:—In May I received orders from the Secretary of State to proceed to Constantinople to re-open negotiations with regard to the Fao line of telegraph. The idea was to work the wire which connects Constantinople with the Persian Gulf cable at the cost of the joint purse. Difficulties, however, arose soon after I had commenced talking the matter over with the Turkish Director General, but they were by no means raised by the latter. The English Companies who are with this Department parties to the joint purse, withdrew their consent to aid in the project unless certain terms (which had no direct connection with Turkey) were granted them by the Government of India. These terms not being considered reasonable, it was decided that I should abandon the attempt, and I accordingly returned to London at the end of July.

48. In October I started once again for Teheran travelling out by Russia and the Caspian Sea. On this occasion, instead of landing at the usual port of disembarkation, Enzelli, I left the steamer at Meshed-i-Sar, considerably further east than the former place, having availed myself of the opportunity of seeing the Russian stations of Krasnovodsk, Chikishlar and Ashouradeh on my way.

49. A full account of my journey was addressed to the Under Secretary of State on the 22nd April 1881, and a copy forwarded to you on the 27th with my note No. 190.

50. It will therefore be unnecessary for me to describe my inspection at any length in this Report.

51. Colonel Smith marched with me from Teheran on the 21st November, and we continued our travels in company along the line until the 28th December. A severe attack of illness brought on by the cold and wet obliged Colonel Smith to turn back when nearly at the end of the journey. On the 31st I succeeded, after some difficulty, in reaching Bushire.

52. Here I was met by Mr. Ffinch and the cable steamer Patrick Stewart, and I visited all the offices at Fao-Bushire, Henjam (then being dismantled), Jashk, Charbar, Gwadur and Ormara, eventually reaching Karachi on the 18th January 1881. Thence I proceeded to Calcutta, where I remained about a fortnight, during which time I had the honor of fully discussing with yourself the several matters connected with this Department which required consideration. I then returned to England, where I arrived on the 10th March.

ESTABLISHMENTS.

Changes effected in Persian staff.

53. In Persia some changes in the Establishment were made during the year. Lieutenant Wells, R.E., was appointed Assistant to the Director, and the two Superintendentships were done away with. On this point Lieutenant-Colonel Smith writes as follows:—

Lieutenant-Colonel Smith's observations.

"In the old arrangement the line was divided into two Divisions, each under a Superintendent, who had charge both of the line maintenance and of the offices, and who prepared and submitted all the accounts of the Division. The local traffic accounts and checking of messages were specially provided for in the budget. The survivor of the two Superintendents, Mr. Daniell, having become supernumerary, as specially sanctioned by Government, I gave him, under the new organization, charge of all the expenditure accounts, also of the local traffic accounts and the checking of messages. Each expending officer keeps an imprest account, and one general account of expenditure for the whole Department is prepared by Mr. Daniell, and submitted monthly to the Examiner of Telegraph Accounts. The line maintenance is placed under the Assistant Director, and the offices under the Assistant Superintendents. The new organization will, I have every reason to believe, work well."

54. In the Gulf Division no changes worthy of special remark were introduced during the year. Some reductions were made as soon as Henjam Station was closed, and proposals for further economies have been submitted for the approval of Government.

DEPARTMENTAL STEAMERS.

Improvements in the Patrick Stewart.

55. The cable steamer Patrick Stewart has, as shown in Appendix D, been very busy throughout the year. I spent 14 or 15 days on board in January, and was exceedingly well pleased with the vessel's accommodation and equipment. As I have had occasion to report to the Government, the excessive rolling in a cross sea was the great defect of the ship, and I am now happy to state that the measures adopted by the Bombay Marine authorities have completely fulfilled their object, and I learn from Captain Bishop that the ship is now perfectly steady and comfortable.

56. The Amberwitch was transferred to the Marine Department, and the steam barge Rose, no longer wanted, was sold to the Karachi Harbour Board for Rs. 10,000.

STORES.

Expenditure of material in the Persian Gulf.

57. During the year 1880-81 very little was expended in Persia under the head of Stores. But, owing to the great number of interruptions on the cables, an unusual quantity of material was used in the Gulf Division.

At the close of the previous year —	Rs.
The balance of stores in hand was	2,56,652
The receipt during the year 1880-81	47,034
TOTAL .	3,03,686
The issues amounted to	1,11,652
Leaving a balance of .	1,92,034

to be carried forward on the 31st March 1881. Including the outlay of cable on the Henjam Diversion, 47·11 knots of gutta-percha cable were laid during the year and 2·54 of India-rubber, leaving a stock in hand of 41·94 knots gutta-percha and 14·77 India-rubber.

Remarks on recent breaks of both the Eastern cables. These, however, occurred in 1881-82.

58. The conduct of the staff has been, generally speaking, excellent, and I shall on a future occasion point out how well the duties of the Department were carried on during the recent interruption of the Eastern Company's system. One of that Company's cables was broken early in June 1881, and, not long afterwards, the second was also interrupted, so that the whole of the traffic between India and the West was for a time thrown on our lines. Notwithstanding the fact that one of our cables was out of order at the same time, the work of some 700 to 800 messages per diem was carried on by the remaining single conductor with gratifying efficiency. Much credit for these results is due to Captain Gabler, acting for Mr. Ffinch, and especially to Mr. Mance.

Conduct of staff.

59. Lieutenant-Colonel Smith, R.E., in Persia and Mr. Ffinch in the Persian Gulf, with their Assistants, have performed their duties during the past year in a thoroughly satisfactory way, while Mr. Mance and Captain Bishop have been almost constantly engaged in the arduous work of cable repairs. To all these officers as well as to Mr. Brasher, to Mr. Herbage, and their Assistants, my thanks are due for the results above set forth, which show, I think, that the history of 1880-81 has been the most encouraging, so far, in the annals of the Indo-European Telegraph Department.

APPENDIX E.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT, 1880-81.

The Engineering staff has been as fully occupied in repairing the cable both on shore and at sea as during the preceding year. The number of faults removed from the cable during deep sea repairs is exactly the same as in 1879-80, but there has been in addition the diversion of the cable from the Henjam Station, and an amount of work at Manora far in excess of that carried out during any previous year.

FAULTS.

2. The total number of faults which occurred during the year on all sections of the cable was—

12 deep sea faults,
4 faults in harbour and camp cables.

3. The faults in the Karachi Harbour cables require but little comment. Three were caused by the perishing of the gutta-percha core in dry ground and one by a bugla anchoring close in shore, and fouling the cable with her grapnel. These faults were repaired without difficulty, and required only a trifling expenditure of cable.

4 The whole of the deep sea faults were caused by corrosion of the guards at points where the cable rested on an uneven bottom. In the majority of cases the core of the cable has gradually stretched at a weak place in the iron sheathing until the copper conductor has parted inside the percha. This is a description of fault with which we are now tolerably familiar. Wherever these interruptions occur, it is invariably noticed that the cable has only been touching the ground at intervals of from ten to thirty yards. The growth of marine life round the cable proves this conclusively. As a general rule, these irregularities in the bottom are extremely shallow, and the strain on the cable necessary to prevent it resting fairly on the bottom must therefore have been considerable. As wire after wire of the outside guards perishes by the corrosion which always takes place when the cable is not resting in the mud, the remaining wires straighten themselves out under the strain, and the core must of necessity stretch to accommodate itself to the elongation of the outer covering. If the strain on the cable as it rests at the bottom does not exceed three hundredweights, no fracture will occur unless the cable is exposed to some chafing action, but should the strain approach four or five hundredweights, the core, directly it loses the support of the iron guards, must either stretch or break. A length of two or three feet will stretch as much as four or five inches before the copper conductor parts, and after this occurs, the percha will occasionally stretch for two or three inches additional before giving way. This being the case, it may easily be understood that many such weak places might exist at which the tension has been relieved and reduced below the breaking strain by a slight elongation of the core, and, if at such points, no chafing action subsequently occurs, the cable, either imbedded in mud or protected by a growth of shell fish, may remain without further injury for an indefinite period.

INTERRUPTIONS.

5. The following interruptions have occurred on the various sections during the past year:—

Fao-Bushire.—Communication always perfect.

Bushire-Jashk (India-rubber).—Communication always perfect.

Gwadur-Manora.—Communication always perfect.

Jashk-Gwadur.—Interrupted 6 days 19 hours.

Bushire-Jashk (old gutta-percha).—Interrupted 175 days 15 hours.

6. The latter length includes what was formerly designated the Bushire-Henjam and Henjam-Jashk sections. The number of faults which occurred in this section was eleven (the same as during the previous year). But the unusual length of time during which this cable has been interrupted is due chiefly to the fact that, to avoid the necessity for such frequent repairing expeditions, the work was occasionally deferred for a while to enable two or more faults to be removed during the same trip. The last interruption occurred a few days before the end of the official year, and this fault, which is in the neighbourhood of Mussendom, still exists in consequence of the cable ship Patrick Stewart being under alterations in Bombay and not available for work. One line, however, is, and has always been, in perfect order during interruptions on the alternative section, and no stoppage of traffic has occurred on the cables during the year. As a matter of fact, perfect communication between Karachi and Bushire has now been maintained continuously on the Persian Gulf Line for upwards of thirteen years.

7. As the Bushire-Jashk cable is now, in consequence of the extensive diversion carried out in February last, altogether removed from the island of Henjam, in the vicinity of which the ground has proved to be very unfavorable for a cable, it is to be hoped that interruptions on this circuit will be less frequent in future.

REPAIRS AND DIVERSIONS.

8. The twelve deep sea faults necessitated nine distinct repairing operations in the execution of which and carrying out the diversion of the Henjam cable the engineering staff made six journeys with the repairing vessel Patrick Stewart, traversing during the year over 9,000 miles and being absent from headquarters 82 days. The particulars of the various repairs are shown in Appendix B, to which the following details may be added with advantage :—

	Knots.
The average difference between the assumed and actual position of the faults was	·25
Average extent of cable disturbed during the year in repairing each fault	2·25
Average amount of cable expended from stock in the removal of each fault	2·40
Average amount, each repair, of old cable left on the ground unrecoverable	·45
Average amount, per fault, of good cable recovered fit for re-use at sea	·55
Average, per repair, of cable recovered useless for sea work and only fit for stripping for sake of core	1·25
Average quantity of good core in long pieces recovered, per fault	·30

Much of the cable recovered during the Henjam diversion had only been down a short time, and is consequently fit for re-use at sea.

9. The average amount of cable disturbed to repair each fault during 1879-80 was 1·79 knots; during 1880-81 the average was 2·25 knots, and this will probably increase with succeeding years, as the increasing age of the cable will render it advisable to make more extensive renewals than formerly at every repair.

HISTORY OF THE CABLES DURING 1880-81.

Fao-Bushire, 152·61 knots.

10. This section has given no trouble whatever, and its insulation remains unaltered.

BUSHIRE-JASHK (GUTTA-PERCHA CABLE).

504·19 knots.

11. This cable, at the time of the last annual Report, was divided at the island of Henjam, into two sections, designated the Bushire-Henjam and Henjam-Jashk cables; their lengths being respectively 362·1 and 142·71 knots. On the 11th December the island was abandoned as a telegraph station, and the cables joined direct a short distance from the beach, thus cutting off the station from telegraphic communication. During the month of February the course of the cable was diverted to the southward of the island in order to avoid the unfavorable ground in the immediate vicinity of the station, where frequent interruptions have occurred. About 8 miles of cable to the eastward of Henjam and 12 miles to the west were picked up during the diversion, and 18 miles expended from stock to relay the line by a more direct route to the southward of the island. As a good deal of the cable recovered will be fit for re-use after repair, the diversion may be considered as having been effected without any cost to Government. The station of Henjam was useless so far as any assistance to the working of the cables is concerned, while, looked at from an engineering point of view, the removal of the cable to better ground will be a decided benefit. One fault existed in this section at the commencement of the year, and one now remains unrepaired in consequence of the absence of the repairing steamer, but eleven fresh defects occurred during the year 1880-81, six being to the east of Henjam and five to the west towards Bushire. Notwithstanding the numerous repairs, the insulation of this section, just previous to the development of the last fault, stood at 215 megohms per knot, being a little higher than the combined insulation of the two sections during the corresponding month for 1879-80.

BUSHIRE-JASHK (INDIA-RUBBER).

498·46 knots.

12. No repairs have been necessary in connection with this section. Its insulation, although usually equal to that of the gutta-percha sections, is variable in consequence of the existence of a very minute defect, too small to be localised or to interfere in any way with the working.

JASHK-GWADUR (GUTTA-PERCHA).

272·01 knots.

13. This section was interrupted for six days in consequence of a fault which occurred off Charbar. As the alternative circuit (the land line) was in good working order during this period, no stoppage to traffic occurred. The cable at this part of the line appeared in fair order excepting near the locality of the fault where the ground appeared uneven.

GWADUR-MANORA (GUTTA-PERCHA).

270·56 knots.

14. No repairs have been necessary in this section.

HARBOUR CABLES, Nos. 1, 2 AND 3.

15. But four faults have occurred during the year. Some repairs to the camp cables having become necessary under the Sind, Punjab and Delhi Railway near the Karachi Office, advantage was taken of the opportunity to lengthen the iron piping put down some years ago under the original line of rails. Since that time the width of the railway at this point has nearly doubled in consequence of the addition of sidings. To reach the cables it was necessary to open a trench under the rails ten or twelve feet deep. To avoid this tedious operation in future, the pipe has been lengthened and the two ends brought just beyond the limits of the railway. Lengths of core have been substituted for cable and fresh pieces can be inserted in a few hours, whenever necessary, by simply opening the ground at each end of the pipe, which at these points is within two feet of the surface.

16. The other work done in connection with these cables has been unimportant.

CABLE LAND LINES.

17. Communication between the cable houses and offices is now generally maintained through the land lines insulated with Johnstone and Phillips fluid insulators, and carefully protected with lightning guards. It is proposed also to erect short land lines over such sections of the Manora cables, where it is impossible to avoid the dry sand in which cable rarely lasts more than three or four years. These short highly insulated land lines have hitherto answered very well in connection with the line and give much less trouble than the under-ground cables laid in dry soil between the offices and cable houses. If eventually the land lines are found unsatisfactory in consequence of atmospheric disturbances, it will be advisable to substitute a system of leads conducted through pipes which can always be kept filled with water in the manner recommended by Mr. Latimer Clark.

18. A new form of cable house has been adopted on the West Bay at Gwadur; instead of being buried outside, the slack cable is coiled in a well to which the sea water has access immediately under the flooring, so that the ends can be cut at any time without any trouble.

19. Attention has been given to the improvement of the lightning guards and a new form of lightning guard clamp has been designed, less liable to damage in exposed positions than the present platinum spirals.

ELECTRICAL-WORKING TESTING.

20. No change has been made in the system of testing the lines. The positions of faults have been determined with accuracy, and the electrical condition of the cable compares on the whole satisfactorily with its insulation at the date of the last annual Report (Appendix C). The Brown Allan relay has been in continuous use on the main circuit throughout the year, and has given every satisfaction. It is to be regretted that more of these valuable instruments have not been available for work, as two are urgently required for the second cable between Bushire and Jashk.

21. The question of Duplex telegraphy for the Persian Gulf cables has again been carefully considered and fully reported on, but in consequence of the traffic being mostly in a continuous stream in one direction at the same time, it has been considered advisable for the present to devote our attention more particularly to increasing the speed of our ordinary direct working. A new system of translation, especially adapted to the requirements of the Brown Allan relay, has been designed to provide for the contingency of our being obliged to increase the working capacity of the line by the introduction of translation at Jashk; and as soon as additional relays are supplied, the carrying capacity of the line will be considerably increased.

EXPENDITURE OF CABLE AND CABLE IN STOCK.

22. The usual statement of cable in stock is given in Appendix D. Our shore end cable in hand has increased to 9 miles in consequence of the recoveries during the Henjam diversion. The reserve of main cable has decreased 22·19 knots, leaving only 30 8 miles of cable in stock. As nearly the whole of this has been either submerged or in the tanks at Manora for more than 17 years, it cannot be expected to be in very good condition. Re-serving it with Johnson and Phillips taping has strengthened it to a certain extent and enabled us to handle it with great facility, but it contains many joints, numerous splices, hundreds of petty repairs, and the sooner it is laid the better. The quantity of short pieces in hand has also decreased considerably, 4·38 knots of the best having been selected and carefully repaired to form a portion of the Henjam diversion, in the laying of which plenty of slack was allowed, and no strain whatever put upon the cable. The stock of good India-rubber cable remains the same, there having been no work in connection with this section, but some short pieces which tested bad, and of which the sheathing was in very indifferent condition, have been condemned and struck off charge.

23. During the repairs of the twelve faults, 28·64 knots of cable were laid, and as a set-off, 6·54 miles of the cable picked up was fit for re-use, showing a net expenditure on account of repairs during the year of 22·1 knots.

24. In carrying out the Henjam diversion the amount of fairly good main cable recovered about equalled that expended from stock, while the 4·38 knots of short pieces expended have been replaced by the much more valuable shore end cable now brought on charge as recovered during the diversion.

MANORA.

25. A very convenient cable factory has been erected during the year, and the cable machinery obtained from England for the purpose of re-serving the core of our present cable with new iron sheathing has been erected in readiness to commence the manufacture of new cable. This work will be taken in hand as soon as the examination, repair and taping of all the old cable on hand is completed. The taping machinery, which binds together and strengthens old cable by the application of a double serving of tarred tape, has been in active work, upwards of 55 miles having been re-served during the year. The introduction of this machinery has proved of the greatest value; but for its assistance many miles of old cable would have been lost, as, in consequence of its increasing age, it becomes impossible to handle it without developing fresh defects at every weak place in the iron guards. The serving of tarred tape prevents this in a very great measure, and the cable passes over the paying out drum without injury. It must be remembered that, although wanting in the strength of new cable, our old stock, once safely laid on favorable ground with a fair allowance of slack, is practically as good as the best. Before passing through the taping machine, the cable is carefully cleaned and every defective place in the guards repaired. The taping therefore of the abovementioned 55 miles represents three or four months' work for the greater portion of the Manora establishment.

26. A small set of stone lascars' quarters, containing four rooms, has been built in substitution of the previous mat huts which required renewal, and a commodious black-smiths' shop has been erected in place of the old one pulled down to allow of the new factory being built.

27. The new landing place, outside the groyne fronting the telegraph compound, has been completed, and the embankment leading to it considerably strengthened. Advantage is being taken of the height of the new Bunder to deliver, through iron piping, the water required by the establishment, direct from the water boats into the tank shed and houses occupied by the European subordinates.

28. The telegraph works were inspected by His Excellency the Viceroy duing his visit to Karachi in November last, and subsequently by Sir James Fergusson, the Governor of Bombay; on the latter occasion the new cable machinery was in a sufficiently advanced state towards completion to allow of the various stages in cable-making being shown experimentally.

STEAM BARGE "ROSE."

29. This vessel has been extensively used during the year for the embarkation of troops at Karachi, under the superintendence of the Port Department, to which she has now been transferred on sale for the sum of Rs. 10,000. Her services have not been required by the Telegraph Department for some years past, and her transfer will result in a saving of the stores and labor required to keep her in thorough order.

GENERAL REMARKS.

30. In a brief statement (Appendix E) the number of faults is shown which have occurred during the past ten years in each section of the cable. The sudden increase in the interruptions on the Bushire-Jashk gutta-percha cable which is observable during the last two years, coupled with the absence of any signs of such deterioration in the other sections, points to the conclusion that the ground on which it rests is not so favorable for the life of a cable as at other parts of the line. It is extremely fortunate that the India-rubber cable, which throughout its course, is laid only a few miles distant from this section, has for a long time given no trouble whatever, although now submerged for more than eleven years. This should encourage us to hope that much of the ground on which the Bushire-Jashk percha cable is laid may be of an equally favorable character, and that, although breakages at various points will be comparatively frequent while the remaining bad places are developing themselves, there will, after a time, as soon as the weak points are brigded over by the insertion of good cable, be a freedom from further interruptions.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

REVIEW OF MILITARY STORES EXPENDITURE FOR 1879-80.

The following is published for general information:—

Memorandum by the Accountant General, Military Department, No. 1763, dated the 15th August, 1881.

The following review of the expenditure of stores in the Military Department is submitted to Government in compliance with the orders issued in Financial Department Resolution No. 1267, dated the 21st July 1871. The Government of India had then under consideration the control which should be exercised over the indents, estimates and accounts of stores obtained from England, and decided that in addition to the checks provided by the existing system of store account and audit, a review of the annual expenditure should be prepared:—

"9. A review of this kind should be in sufficient detail to show the amount and the increase or decrease of expenditure of each of the several classes of stores; the causes of increase or decrease in the expenditure of the several articles should be explained and their cost compared with that of previous years. Instances in which the price of the more important articles obtained from England or purchased locally has exceeded former prices should be carefully noted, and also whether any extra expense or any considerable inconvenience has been incurred from unnecessary delay in supplying stores indented for on England. If there is any reason to believe that the cost of any article has been higher than it would have been if procured in some other way, it should be stated. The additional expenditure caused by the introduction of new kinds of stores or new articles of equipment, or by changes of pattern involving the condemnation of the existing stock of old pattern, should be distinctly shown, and any possible measures of economy suggested."

2. The first of the series of store reviews submitted to Government under the foregoing orders was for the year 1874-75. The materials for the preparation of these reviews were at that time very incomplete. Reports were not received from all departments or from all presidencies, nor were such as were received prepared on any uniform system, and it was evident that improvement in the form and matter of the departmental reports would be a work of time. Subsequent experience showed the desirability of issuing precise instructions for the preparation of these reports, and in the year 1878 definite orders were issued regarding the submission of two reports for each department in each presidency—one by the administrative head of the department to be styled "Administration Report," and the other by the examiner of accounts to be styled "Financial Review."

3. The reports since received show a marked improvement, but they are still far from complete, and exhibit many inaccuracies and imperfections in points of detail, which it will take some time to remedy; the transactions of the military store departments are multifarious, and comprise issues not only for military purposes but also to civil departments, local governments, native states, municipalities, and private individuals.

4. It may be here noted that revised rules for the calculation of stock book rates of Europe stores and of stores of local production or manufacture have recently been issued, which it is hoped will tend to greater accuracy in the conclusions to be drawn from these reviews, while at the same time they will reduce and simplify the work of the account department. An improved system of factory accounts has also been introduced on the recommendation of the late special committee on ordnance, of which Major-General Napier Campbell was the president.

5. As regards the expenditure of stores during the year under review, it is necessary to state at the outset that the normal rate of expenditure has been greatly disturbed by the movement of troops from all three presidencies owing to the war. The accounts are also, it is feared, to a considerable extent, inaccurate and incomplete from the same cause, and they are, moreover, much in arrears, especially in Bengal.

6. In the early part of 1877-78 the Home Government directed that, in the existing unfavourable rate of exchange, every effort should be made to reduce the payment for stores in England by substituting articles of local production or manufacture for articles imported from England wherever this could be done with economy and without sacrificing efficiency. With the view of further relieving the store department of the India Office of petty detail, supplementary orders were issued, authorising certain stores to be obtained locally or direct from Europe, or America, through manufacturers or private agents. These instructions have since been modified in so far that all stores required from Europe must be obtained through the India Office alone, and not through private agents or by direct negotiations with home manufacturers; but the orders regarding the substitution of local products and manufactures for imported stores continue in force.

7. During the early part of this year the Government also had under consideration the question of the utilisation for army purposes of goods manufactured in the jails, and issued orders that the jails should have preference over the local markets whenever they were prepared to furnish goods at rates equal to, or not exceeding, those demanded by local contractors or traders.

8. The two statements appended to the report show—

I.—The cash expenditure in England and in India for the five years ending 1879-80.

II.—The receipts and issues in India during the same period and the store balances at the commencement and end of each of these years.

9. The following abstracts prepared from these statements exhibit the expenditure in each department for all India:—

10. The figures given as the cash expenditure differ considerably from the figures given as issues in the stock returns. An explanation of the causes of this difference was given in the review for 1878-79, and for facility of reference is reproduced here:—

"The figures for the cash expenditure differ so materially from those given as issues in the stock returns that some explanation of the discrepancy seems necessary. The cash expenditure represents simply the payments made in each year for stores, and which obviously will not correspond with the consumption of stores in the same period. Moreover, the payments for stores received in one year frequently run into the accounts of the following year; and, in the case of Europe stores, even supposing that the purchases were intended for immediate consumption, the stores paid for in one year might, owing to the date of its arrival, appear in the Indian stock accounts as the expenditure or issues of the following year. Further, in the stock accounts the stores are valued at stock-book rates, which include freight, landing, and other contingent charges, and this alone, if no other differences existed, would give divergent figures from the actual cash outlay. Again, in the case of ordnance stores, the Indian cash expenditure includes only purchases of camp equipage and of timber, coal, and other stores for arsenals, magazines, and factories; while the stock-book rates are based on valuations of the manufactured articles, which include labor and other subsidiary charges, direct and indirect, connected with the manufacture. It is thus apparent that the two sets of figures cannot correspond, even approximately."

11. The causes of increase or decrease in the expenditure of the several departments in the three presidencies are explained in detail in the latter part of this review. The following resumé of the course of the expenditure, the cost of the supplies and of the circumstances affecting the supply and the consumption of stores, will give a general view of the operations of the year in comparison with those of past years, following the plan indicated in the orders quoted in paragraph 1 of this report.

12. The prices paid generally for all stores, metals, &c., obtained from Europe compare favourably with the prices paid in the preceding year. The rise in the price of quinine will be noticed presently. The prices paid for local stores were also generally lower than in the previous year.

13. The supply of stores from England was made with punctuality and despatch, and no inconvenience resulted from any delay. Small purchases of Europe stores were made in the local markets to meet emergent demands on account of the war at a cost in excess of that at which they could have been imported, but this was unavoidable. The sanctioned reserves provide a sufficient margin for all ordinary requirements.

14. Medical stores.—The total cash expenditure during 1879-80 amounted to £88,709, which, it will be observed, is considerably lower than the expenditure in the four preceding years (vide margin). The cash expenditure represents, however, the payments for stores made during the years and not the actual consumption of stores in those periods. The issues of stores during the same period are given in the margin. The expenditure of 1875-76 was affected by the Perak expedition and the cholera and fever epidemics in Madras; that of 1877-78 by the famine in Madras; while the expenditure of the two last years of the series has been affected by the Malta and Kabul expeditions.

15. The greater portion of this expenditure occurs in the civil departments, the demands from which are continually increasing owing to new dispensaries being opened out every year. The expenditure of medical stores for military purposes, including issues to the value of £18,747 for the army in the field, amounted to only £58,280 out of a total expenditure of £121,219. In the preceding year (1878-79) the military expenditure amounted to £54,604, of which £16,665 was extraordinary or due to the Kabul and Malta expeditions. The expenditure would doubtless have been greater, but for the partial substitution of the cinchona febrifuge (a local preparation) for quinine. The former is now extensively used in civil dispensaries, also in native military hospitals, the issues of quinine being limited to one-fourth of the quantity required, the remaining three-fourths being made up by the cinchona febrifuge. Experiments have also been made in view of ascertaining the effect of this febrifuge on British troops, but the results obtained are not as yet of so decided a character as to justify its adoption in European hospitals.

16. The extension of the use of the cinchona febrifuge is the most important point connected with the expenditure on medical stores. The price of quinine, which ranged from £4-6-9 to £5-9-4 per lb. in 1876-77, has been rising steadily ever since that year and reached £8-15-0 per lb. in 1879-80.

The price of the febrifuge is only Rs. 20 per lb. The expenditure of quinine and of the cinchona preparations during the last four years was as follows:—

These figures show the great progress that has been made in the use of the cinchona alkaloids in place of quinine, and the large saving that has resulted in consequence.

17. The drugs, chemicals, surgical instruments and hospital appliances used in the department are mostly obtained by indent on England, but many drugs of local production are being gradually substituted for the imported articles. Several of the more important medicines of the British pharmacopœia are being cultivated in the three presidencies. Many of the indigenous drugs are being tried in the Calcutta hospitals and elsewhere to ascertain their therapeutic value. Considerable progress has also been made in the local manufacture of the simpler kinds of surgical instruments and in the repair of old instruments; and when the manufactories at the medical store depôts have been properly equipped, further progress in this direction may be looked for. The gain resulting from these measures has not been estimated in all three presidencies, but the reports received from Bombay show that a gain of about Rs. 9,584 resulted from the manufacture at the store depôt of medicines and instruments hitherto obtained from England, and a gain of about Rs. 30,902 from the substitution of indigenous drugs for those hitherto imported.

18. In any comparison of the cost of imported and local supplies it must prominently be borne in view that imported supplies involve the maintenance of reserves, extra storage accommodation and establishments, and a certain amount of waste and deterioration, so that, even if the rates of local supplies are slightly higher than those of imported stores, the former will still be the most economical.

19. Malt liquor and commissariat stores.—The cash expenditure in England and in India on account of malt liquor is given in the margin, and shows a considerable decrease in the year under review. The large reduction in the home expenditure, and the increase in the Indian expenditure, were due to the more extended use of hill beer in the Bengal Presidency, the particulars of which will be noticed further on. The expenditure of malt liquor during the last two years was, however, seriously disturbed by the movement of troops to Afghanistan, as malt liquor is not issued to troops on the line of march.

20. The cash outlay for commissariat stores (vide margin) shows a considerable increase owing to the supplies required for the war. Some of these supplies were of an unusual character owing to the nature of the field of operations, namely, horse biscuits, portable food, German meat biscuits, compressed vegetables, consolidated soups, and the like.

21. The issues from stock are given in the margin, but these figures are of little use in reviewing the store expenditure, as they do not represent the entire expenditure of the department, but only of such articles as are kept in stock. These again vary considerably, as in times of scarcity, or anticipated scarcity, certain articles not ordinarily kept in stock are laid in as a measure of economy, or even necessity, for the purpose of feeding troops, horses, and cattle. Articles issued direct by contractors to the troops are not included, as they are not passed through the store books.

22. The large increase of late years in the use of locally brewed malt liquor is a prominent feature in the expenditure of this department in the Bengal presidency, and there are grounds for hoping that in course of time the supply for the Madras army may also be procured locally. The hill beer is generally liked and in some cases preferred by the troops to English beer. The indents on England for malt liquor for the Bengal presidency have in consequence been much reduced in recent years. In 1880-81 no malt liquor was required from home for the Bengal presidency, and the demands on England for 1881-82 and 1882-83 amount to only 12,400 and 7,300 hogsheads respectively.

23. A three years' contract (for the years 1880, 1881 and 1882) was entered into with the local brewers for the supply of malt liquor at the stations of—

The total quantity to be supplied in the three years is 97,750 hogsheads.

24. The prices paid in England for malt liquor for the three presidencies and the charges for freight are as follows:—Bengal, price £ 2-2-11 per hogshead of ale in 1879-80 against £2-13-0 in 1878-79; freight £0-5-10 per hogshead in 1879-80 against £0-4-9¾ in 1878-79; Madras, price £2-7-6 per hogshead of ale in 1879-80 against £ 2-14-6 in 1878-79; freight £ 0-10-9 in 1879-80 against £0-13-3½ in 1878-79; Bombay, price £2-8-4 per hogshead of porter in 1879-80, and freight £0-9-8.

25. The higher prices paid for malt liquor for Madras and Bombay are due to the period of shipment for those presidencies, the brewers charging more for malt liquor which they have to keep in stock for some time after the brewing season is over. The higher freights charged for shipments to those presidencies is due to the average rates for Madras and Bombay including despatches to Cannanore, Rangoon, Kurrachee and Aden, for which ports high rates are charged by shipowners, while the malt liquor for Bengal is all consigned to Calcutta, for which port favourable rates of freight are always available.

26. The rates for hill beer include the cost of carriage to canteens, the supply being made direct to regiments. The saving from its use varies with the rate of exchange and with the prices paid for malt liquor in England. The saving on the quantity 97,750 hogsheads contracted for was originally estimated at about 13 lakhs of rupees, but the price of English malt liquor has since fallen considerably, and the saving at present rates would amount to about 3¼ lakhs of rupees.

27. Rum is supplied in Bengal by Messrs. Carew and Co., of Rosa Factory, Shajehanpur, at the rate of Rs. 1-3-0 per imperial gallon, including the cost of casks, and also including carriage to certain points on the line of railway. In Madras, by Messrs. Binny and Co., at Rs. 1-1-3 per gallon against Rs. 1-1-7 in the preceding year. In Bombay, by Messrs. Carew and Co., the Bengal contractors, at Rs. 1-7-0 per gallon delivered free of carriage at most stations against Rs. 1-7-8 in 1878-79.

28. As remarked in last year's report, an important change was made during 1878-79 in the system of supply of malt liquor and rum to British troops in India, with a view to discouraging the use of alcoholic drinks in the army, and generally of improving the morale of the soldier by reposing greater trust in his common sense and self-respect.

29. The following figures, showing the consumption of malt liquor and rum in the three presidencies, will indicate the effects of the new canteen system :—

Years.	Malt liquor per man per diem.			Rum per man per diem.
	Bengal.	Madras.	Bombay.	Bengal.	Madras.	Bombay.

1879-80	1·63	1·75	1·44	·49	·22	·30

30. In the Madras presidency, where the new system has been generally introduced, the consumption of rum has decreased by about two-thirds, while malt liquor has increased by only about 10 per cent.

In Bengal and Bombay the new system was only in partial operation during 1879-80; and although a slight decrease is shown in the consumption of rum and a slight increase in malt liquor, these figures must be taken with reserve, as the expenditure in those presidencies was considerably affected by the movement of troops on service, when rum only was issued, and this accounts for the increased receipts for rum as shown in the following paragraph. The experiment thus far, however, continues to work very satisfactorily.

31. In the following statement is shown the receipts obtained from the sale of malt liquor and rum in the three presidencies during the last five years :—

32. The sale of beer at 3 annas the quart under the former system of supply entailed a heavy annual loss to the State, as that price did not cover the cost of the liquor including incidental charges, sea and inland transport, &c. The increase of the price to 4 annas a quart raises the receipts by 33 per cent., so that, adopting Rs. 29,15,761 as the average annual receipts from the sale of malt liquor during the three years preceding 1878-79, the saving effected by the introduction of the new canteen system may be estimated at Rs. 9,71,290 per annum.

33. With one or two trifling exceptions, Indian tea is used at all stations in India. In Bengal, it was obtained at an average rate of annas 8-6¼ per lb. against annas 8-1½ pie in 1878-79; in Madras, at annas 9 per lb. against annas 9-3 in 1878-79; and in Bombay, at annas 9-11 per lb. against annas 10-4 in 1878-79.

34. Ordnance stores.—The cash expenditure in England and in India, and the issues from stock in India, are shown in the following statement:—

35. The large increase during the last two years in the expenditure of Indian stores was due chiefly to large purchases of tents and other requirements in connection with the campaign. The very large reduction in the issues of Europe stores was due to the exceptionally heavy expenditure on changes of equipment,—the issue of Martini-Henry rifles to British troops, Sniders to Native troops, substitution of rifled guns for smooth-bores in the artillery, &c.,—having been mainly completed in the previous years.

36. There is still, however, a considerable expenditure to be incurred in guns, carriages, and ammunition for the armaments of forts in India, but it may be hoped that the expenditure on ordnance stores may continue at the reduced figure in the year under review, or even at a still lower rate, and that the exceptionally heavy expenditure of the previous years will not be repeated. There is a constantly recurring expenditure, of which no doubt much is absolutely necessary, owing to the frequent changes, alterations and additions of equipment which take place every year. On this point it seems desirable to reproduce here an extract from the store review of 1876-77.

'Changes are of course necessary, more especially at home, to keep the army in an equally efficient state with the armies of other powers, and even to put it in a better position in that respect, so that superiority of arms and equipment may compensate for inferiority of numbers.

'The annexed extract from a report by a Committee of the House of Commons puts the question very clearly and forcibly, and is quoted here to show the necessity for a careful scrutiny of all proposals for change:—

"Para. 59. The defences of the Thames were re-armed about eight years ago; they are being re-armed again, and some of the former guns have never been mounted during the period between the changes. Reserves of naval stores have been returned from foreign stations, new, but quite obsolete.

"60. The progress of scientific discovery and invention renders a certain amount of waste and loss in this way unavoidable. The important question, however, remains for consideration whether, in some cases, what may appear to be a promising novelty, in the shape of a new pattern, is not too hastily adopted, and a large expenditure involved by a department which a very brief experience might prove to have been altogether unnecessary. Such a case would appear to have been in the mind of the late Controller of the Navy, who, when before the Committee, stated that on one particular occasion several hundreds of a particular pattern of gun were manufactured for the gunboats in the navy, not one of which was mounted.

"61. In the Clothing Department of the Army, the continuous change of patterns is complained of as a serious addition to the cost."

'It is the more necessary to draw special attention to this point, as proposals for changes of equipment, pattern, &c., are often unaccompanied, and in some cases necessarily so, by any very accurate estimate of cost, and are not therefore subjected to the same strict scrutiny as proposals for extra establishments, pay, &c., where the element of cost is brought into more direct prominence.'

37. These views are confirmed by the following extract from a letter addressed to the Government of Madras by Sir Neville Chamberlain, the Commander-in-Chief in that presidency, in connection with the question of the abolition of the saddle contract fund in the Madras cavalry:—

"Should Government entertain this measure, it will, of course, be necessary for all new saddles, as required, to be furnished by the State, but His Excellency believes this to be preferable to the course now pursued, for circumstances have come under his knowledge to show that saddles condemned by another branch of the service as being of obsolete pattern have been bought up as serviceable saddles for the light cavalry.

"It is the opinion of Sir Neville Chamberlain that throughout the mounted branches of the service, on the introduction of a new pattern of equipment, much money has been wasted by allowing equipment in use, whether serviceable or not, to be condemned wholesale, merely to admit of uniformity, instead of the new pattern being introduced by degrees as the old became unserviceable. His Excellency feels sure no continental nation would ever attempt to encounter the cost of such a system."

38. The substitution of brown leather for buff accoutrements for the Native army in India is expected to result in a considerable saving of expenditure, as the brown leather can be manufactured in India at a cost of about 10 annas per lb., while the buff leather has to be procured from England at a cost of about Rs. 2 per lb. The question of its further introduction for the British army in India is still under consideration. Indian-made leather belting for driving machinery is now used in all Government mills and factories in place of imported belting.

39 The new equipment regulations for the army and the code of regulations for the ordnance department, sanctioned on the recommendations of the special committee on ordnance, will effect a considerable reduction in the reserves of ordnance stores hitherto kept up, especially in small arm ammunition, guns, carriages and ordnance ammunition. A reduced scale of siege trains and ammunition was prescribed during the year.

40. During the year Rs. 55,000 was paid to Mr. Morris for his invention, by which the metal cases of fired ball cartridges are utilised for the local manufacture by regiments of blank cartridges, hitherto supplied from the small arm ammunition factories. The saving by the use of this invention is estimated at Rs. 1,20,000 per annum for all India.

41. Under the orders of Government in the Financial Department, stores issued to civil departments, except for such services as are paid out of provincial revenues, are now written off the books of the Military Department without any corresponding credit from the civil department. The effect of this change is to cause a considerable diminution in the army receipts and in the civil charges.

42. Clothing stores.—The cash expenditure and the issues from stock in India of clothing stores were as follows :—

Years.	Cash expenditure.			Issues from stock.
	In England.	In India.	Total.	Europe stores.	Indian stores.	Total.
	£	£	£	£	£	£
1875-76 ...	235,171	11,615	246,786	259,348	9,375	268,723

1879-80 ...	315,164	12,708	327,872	362,394	27,404	389,798

43. The expenditure of clothing stores in the alternate years of cloth and serge manufacture does not ordinarily vary to any great extent. The increased expenditure of the last two years was due to large quantities of warm clothing having been made up for troops and followers in Afghanistan. The large increase in the consumption of Indian stores was due to emergent purchases in the local markets on account of the war, and not to any extended utilisation of local products and manufactures, for it was found that neither the jail nor the other local manufactures were able to compete either in quality or in price with imported stores.

44. Almost the whole of the stores are obtained from England, the local supplies consisting chiefly of packing materials and small miscellaneous stores.

45. The machine-made boots sent out from England were again reported to have worn badly, and had in some cases to be replaced by a fresh supply of hand-made boots. The imported knee-boots having been found to deteriorate very rapidly, owing, it was believed, to the nature of the dye used, it has been decided to send them out, of brown leather, uncolored.

46. Marine stores.—The expenditure is reviewed in some little detail in the latter portion of this review. The accounts were kept under a somewhat incomplete system in previous years, and are still in a transition state. The imported marine stores consist of metals, paints, canvas, oils, ropes (partially), coal (partially , chain cables, &c., while the local stores consist of timber, coals, ropes, &c.

REVENUE REPORT OF IRRIGATION WORKS IN RAJPUTANA FOR THE YEAR 1880-81.

Nos. 124-132 I., dated Simla, the 26th April 1882.

Read—

Letter No. 2826S., dated 14th November 1881, from the Agent, Governor General, and Chief Commissioner, Rajputana, and its enclosures, the Revenue Report, and a Memorandum on the Report by the Chief Commissioner.

OBSERVATIONS.—The rainfall of 1880 in Ajmir and Merwara was, on the whole, below the average and unfavorable for purposes of storage. Although more or less rain fell during each of the months of July, August, and September, the intervals between the falls were occasionally very long, and only 14 falls were registered of more than 2" in 24 hours. As the supply of the tanks is entirely dependent on heavy or continuous rain, they were only partially filled, and the small amount of water which was stored was still further reduced by the necessity for irrigating the "kharif" crops. The supply was therefore quite insufficient to meet the demand during the "rabi."

2. The direct outlay on Capital Account during the year under review amounted to Rs. 13,239, and the total direct outlay on Capital to the end of the year was Rs. 14,37,033. The total Capital outlay to end of the year, including all direct and indirect charges, amounted to Rs. 14,93,470.

3. The gross revenue assessed amounted to Rs. 79,434 during 1880-81, the average of the two previous years having been Rs. 89,795, the working expenses, inclusive of indirect charges, amounted to Rs. 40,635, the average of the two previous years having been Rs. 59,879, including all charges.

4. The net profit from the assessed revenue amounted therefore to Rs. 38,799, or very nearly 2½ per cent. on the total Capital outlay of all kinds to the end of the year. If the Revenue receipts for the year 1880-81 be taken into consideration instead of the assessments, the net profit amounted to Rs. 53,809*, or 3·6 per cent. on the Capital outlay to the end of the year. The low returns upon outlay are due to the comparatively unprofitable character of the new tanks, for the net assessed revenue of the old tanks during 1880-81 amounted to Rs. 45,004,† or 5·91 per cent. on the Capital outlay of Rs. 7,61,138, while the working expenses of the new tanks exceeded the gross assessed revenue by Rs. 6,205.‡

5. Although the benefit to the country resulting from the construction of these tanks must not be measured entirely by the returns shown in a Revenue Report, yet the figures given in the conclusion of the preceding paragraph point to the necessity of keeping down establishment charges as much as possible. The parallel instituted in the note of the Superintending Engineer between the establishment charges of the irrigation tanks in Ajmir and Merwara and those of the Ganges and Eastern Jumna canals cannot be admitted as sound, because the maintenance of the works and water-supply, the distribution of the water, and measurement and assessment of irrigated land are incomparably more difficult and complicated on the latter than on the former class of works, and no fair comparison can be drawn between them in respect of the establishment required for efficient maintenance and control.

6. Observations should be continued on the effect of the new tanks on the spring level in the neighbouring wells. The standard of comparison adopted in paragraph 34 of the Commissioner's Report (the area irrigated from the wells) is an excellent practical test of the benefit derived, but, as other causes than the spring level in a well might affect the area irrigated from it, direct measurements of the water level should also be made.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Agent, Governor General, and Chief Commissioner, Rajputana, for information and guidance.

Also, that copy of the Resolution and of the Report be forwarded to the Governments of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and to the Punjab, in the Public Works Department, for information.

Also, that a copy of the Resolution and of the Report be forwarded to the Revenue and Agricultural Department and to the Department of Finance and Commerce for information.

Also, that the Resolution and Memorandum by the Agent, Governor General, together with the statement of general financial results compiled by the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

Ordered further, that a copy be forwarded to Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India for information.

HENRY A. BROWNLOW, Colonel, R.E.,
Deputy Secretary to the Govt. of India.

Memo. by Colonel C. K. M. WALTER, Officiating Chief Commissioner, Jeypore, on the Ajmir and Merwara Irrigation Revenue Report, 1880-81.—Dated 17th November 1881.

As this Report refers to a period prior to my advent to officiate as Chief Commissioner, and as it has reached me very late (22nd October), I shall only briefly notice one or two points in the Commissioner's Report.

2. In paras. 28 and 29 of the Report a lengthy reference is made to the remarks of my predecessor. The Government of India had asked* for an early report on "the actual number of wells the supply in which is wholly or mainly dependent on the tanks." In the Revenue Report of last year the Commissioner gave a statement which he introduced in the following language:—

* Public Works Department Nos 409—171., dated 17th December 1879.

"The following statement purports to give the number of wells and irrigated area which is supposed to have benefited by the construction of the new large tanks only. It is prepared by the Superintendent of Irrigation, and I give it for what it is worth, but I am not prepared to endorse it as correct. The new Ladpura tank will most likely benefit, by percolation, the 39 new wells constructed below that dam, but without the tank the wells would probably have existed and have done well. The reason for their construction is quite independent of the tank, and no one can possibly apportion the benefits which they have and will derive from the accidental situation of the tank."

3. The tone of the paragraph was not calculated to inspire a belief in the accuracy either of the statements or conclusions. When therefore the Commissioner said that "without the tank the wells would probably have existed," and at the same time gave no reason for the conclusion, the Chief Commissioner very naturally remarked that in the absence of any reasons he did not attach much weight to it.

4. The Commissioner now gives his reasons; I cannot say they are conclusive. It appears to me equally probable that if the conditions favorable to the construction or existence of a tank had not been present, these wells would not have been constructed even with the assistance given. And under any circumstances that these wells have benefited by the construction of the tank, is a point about which there is not, so far as I know, the slightest doubt.

5. In Commissioner's para. 32, he has assumed that the Chief Commissioner, in his last year's memorandum, overlooked the order quoted in the margin of that paragraph. I cannot discover the smallest grounds for this assumption. In the discussion on rules regarding the management of new tanks, the order was never lost sight of; indeed new tank rule 27 was a direct consequence of that concession. In recent time the order was alluded to in connection with the proposed Mohamee Tank.

6. I am aware that it is not desirable in an annual administration report to allude to any subject not directly connected with the transaction of the year under review. The Commissioner's attention will be again directed to the rule on the subject.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

ABSTRACT OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNCIL OF THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA, ASSEMBLED FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAKING LAWS AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE ACT OF PARLIAMENT 24 & 25 VIC., CAP. 67.

The Council met at Government House, Simla, on Thursday, the 18th May, 1882.

PRESENT:

His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India, K.G., G.M.S.I., G.M.I.E., presiding.

His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Panjáb, K.C.S.I.

His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, G.C.B., C.I.E.

Major-General the Hon'ble T. F. Wilson, C.B., C.I.E.

The Hon'ble T. C. Hope, C.S.I.

The Hon'ble C. P. Ilbert.

The Hon'ble Sir S. C. Bayley, K.C.S.I., C.I.E.

The Hon'ble C. H. T. Crosthwaite.

The Hon'ble W. C. Plowden.

The Hon'ble W. W. Hunter, LL.D., C.I.E.

JHÁNSÍ ENCUMBERED ESTATES BILL.

The Hon'ble MR. CROSTHWAITE presented the final Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the relief of Encumbered Estates in the Jhánsí Division of the North-Western Provinces.

The Hon'ble MR. CROSTHWAITE also applied to His Excellency the President to suspend the Rules for the Conduct of Business. He said:—"My Lord, I think I may state briefly why we make this request, and why the passing of this measure has been so long delayed. The Bill has been a long time before the Council. It was first introduced by Mr. Bazett Colvin in 1880; but the measure then brought forward differed very materially from that now presented to the Council. The principal feature in that measure was a system of management under which the Revenue-officers undertook to manage the encumbered estates and to pay off the claims that might be proved against them from the profits. Now, I believe I am right in saying that my hon'ble friend Mr. Colvin himself never thoroughly approved of this measure, and that in the Select Committee it did not meet with entire assent. The consequence was that some correspondence ensued between the Legislative Department and the Government of the North-Western Provinces, and during that correspondence Mr. Colvin, taking up the lines suggested by the Government of India itself in the letter written to the North-Western Provinces Government in March, 1879, drafted a new Bill, which he submitted to the Local Government. The Local Government approved of this Bill and sent it up here. This was the beginning of the present measure.

"Then, Mr. Colvin did not come to Simla to attend the Council in 1881, and the consequence was that the Legislative Department had no one to whom they could refer for the details regarding the substantial part of the measure; and so the matter drifted on until December of last year, when I took charge of the Bill from the Hon'ble Mr. Rivers Thompson with his and Your Excellency's consent. The passing of the Bill has thus been delayed for a considerable time.

"Now, when we consider that one of the essential parts of this measure is to call in claims, to cut down interest and to go behind present compacts and agreements, it will be evident to the Council that any delay in the matter must be very injurious and hurtful. The persons concerned have long known—for the matter has been under discussion for the last six or seven years—that such a proposal is contemplated; and we have lately received a letter from the North-Western Provinces Government, enclosing a report from the Commissioner of Jhánsí, from which it appears that the money-lenders are pressing their claims and doing their best to anticipate the Bill by selling up the very men whose interests we wish to secure.

"It appears to me that no more need be said to shew the necessity for departing from the usual course and for passing the Bill today."

His Excellency THE PRESIDENT said:—"I think that quite sufficient grounds have been advanced for suspending the Rules of Business in this case. There is an additional circumstance which has led to some delay in the matter to which my hon'ble friend did not advert, namely, that it was necessary in the last stage of the Bill to refer it home for the sanction of the Secretary of State. We have now received that sanction by telegram; and, as everything connected with the measure is completed, and all the persons interested appear to be agreed to it in its present form, and as, moreover, it deals with circumstances so exceptional and so difficult, I think we are justified in passing the Bill without delay. I may explain that some of the defects of the Bill as it was originally introduced struck my hon'ble friend now the Lieutenant-Governor of the Panjáb when he was a member of Council; and a note of his on the subject led me to look carefully into the matter, when I certainly agreed with the view of it which His Honour then took, namely, that the Bill as introduced into the Council early in 1880 was not framed in a manner which was likely to secure its satisfactory working. My hon'ble friend Mr. Colvin also shared the same opinion. Under these circumstances, the whole of the Bill was recast—an operation which took a considerable time, especially as it involved financial considerations of no small importance. I am very glad, however, that the matter has now been brought to a satisfactory conclusion, and I have therefore no hesitation in declaring that the Rules are suspended."

The Hon'ble MR. CROSTHWAITE then moved that the final Report be taken into consideration. He said:—

"I need not occupy the time of the Council by discussing the necessity of this measure. For some years past the Government of India has admitted in the plainest manner that the state of the Jhánsí Division was a discredit to the British Government and a blot on the administration. The Bill now before the Council is substantially the same as that drafted by Mr. Bazett Colvin in 1881, and Mr. Colvin followed as closely as possible the suggestions made by the Government of India in the Revenue Department in a letter to the North-Western Provinces Government, No. 152, dated 14th March, 1879.

"I will explain in a few words the character of the measure which I am asking the Council to pass. The main provisions of the Bill are three—

"The Bill provides, in the first place, for the calling in and investigation of all claims against the embarrassed zamíndárs.

"A special Judge is to be appointed for this duty, and to him are given very large powers in dealing with the claims. In this part of the Bill the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act have been followed.

"There is no doubt that contracts and agreements of old standing will be interfered with in an arbitrary manner, very much being left to the discretion of the Judge. Speaking for myself, I think that such a measure needs to be supported by very strong reasons. One of the main objects and the best result of a system of law is the education of the people in habits of honest and upright dealing. Nothing can be worse than to give men to understand that whatever engagements or compacts they enter into may be set aside at the will of a Judge—who will relieve them from burdens they have voluntarily undertaken, and save them from the just consequences of their own recklessness. There are, however, conditions in which every Court of equity will interfere, and I think the circumstances of the present case justify the course of action which we contemplate.

"In the first place, it is clear from the reports before us that the parties have never been on equal terms. The Jhánsí peasant is a very ignorant man, and intellectually far inferior to the Marwári money-lenders with whom he deals; and I am afraid it must be admitted that these latter gentlemen have not always shown a due regard to the interests of their clients, but have been too ready to take advantage of their weakness, ignorance and need.

"In the next place, the peculiarity of the present case is this: A great part of the embarrassment of the zamíndárs is due to old debts contracted when there was no such thing as property in the soil, and when the money was advanced on purely personal security, and carried therefore a very high rate of interest. Now, it is well known that an Indian money-lender—or, indeed, any money-lender—dealing on such terms seldom calculates on recovering his principal directly, but trusts rather to what he can squeeze out of his debtor in the way of an exorbitant interest year by year. The money-lenders did not care to take ulterior measures. In fact, there were no ulterior measures to take, as, even if under the Native Government they had ousted the raiyat and taken his land, they would have merely gained a right to cultivate at an assessment or rent which left little profit.

"What happened is thus described by Mr. Jenkinson, an officer of high reputation in the North-Western Provinces, who settled the district in 1867. He says:—

"'The money-lenders kept the names of their clients on their books, allowing the original loans to increase year by year by the addition of interest and compound interest and by renewing the bonds from time to time. In this way sums which have been originally insignificant have swollen into enormous amounts; and now' (that was in 1867) 'the money-lenders, seeing that a settlement has been made on liberal terms, and their property is secure, are eager to get the estates of their debtors into their own hands.'

"I think that statement is sufficient to justify the interference we contemplate.

"Well, having reduced the claims against the zamíndár in this arbitrary but, as I trust you will think, not inequitable manner, the next step is to deal with the residue of them.

"My Lord, the Government has been ready to acknowledge its responsibility in this matter; and it has come forward in a liberal manner to do what is possible for these unfortunate men.

"It has been decided to advance to the zamíndár a sum equal to six times the annual profits from his land, on the security of his rights in the land. If that sum is enough to pay the claims certified against him, they will be paid off, and the money recovered from the zamíndár with five per cent. interest by instalments extending over ten years.

"If it is not enough, then his rights in the land must be sold. Unless there is a higher bid—a thing very unlikely to happen in Jhánsí—the Government will purchase the property at a sum equal to ten times the annual profit. The zamíndár will then be a tenant of his sir-land, holding under the auction-purchaser, whether Government or a private person, at a beneficial rent.

"It may be asked, why does the Government propose to purchase the land, since the position of the zamíndár as an ex-proprietor will be the same whether Government or a private person purchases his rights? This is a question I am bound to answer.

"There are several reasons for the course we have adopted. In the first place, it is evident that, as many estates will be thrown into the market, the value of this kind of property would fall; and the creditors would perhaps get only a portion of their dues. As the Government has determined to deal somewhat arbitrarily with the claims, it is perhaps only fair to take measures to prevent the depreciation of the value of the property which is to satisfy the just debts. That is one reason.

"Another reason is that the Government intends to do much more for such of the zamíndárs as are intelligent and deserving than appears on the face of the Bill. If the property is bought, as we hope in most cases will happen, by the Government, it is intended to use the zamíndár as an agent for the management of such land as may be in the hands of tenants, and for the collection of their rents, and to degrade him as little as possible. He will, in fact, be restored as near as may be to his former position either of headman and Government agent in the village, or of a raiyat cultivating under Government. His income may be nominally somewhat less than it was before, and he will have no property in the soil which he can sell or mortgage; but he will be free from debt, and will only be responsible for his own rent and so much of the rents of others as he may collect.

"Last, but not least, we have other people to think of besides the zamíndár. There are the tenants or cultivators of the land. There is nothing in the reports to show what proportion of land is cultivated by the zamíndárs themselves, and what proportion by tenants under them. The average area of the properties with which we have to deal is said somewhere in the reports to be about 40 acres. It is not probable, therefore, that the tenantry are a very numerous body, but there will, nevertheless, be perhaps two or three for every zamíndár, and it is necessary and right to look after their interests. Until we took their headmen and interposed them between the cultivators of the soil and Government, the cultivators were the raiyats of Government, paying their rent to Government. There is no doubt that in making landlords out of the village headmen we degraded the raiyats, and subjected them to the demands and caprices of a needy landlord. By purchasing the property it will be possible to restore the raiyats to their old position, to fix their rents for the term of settlement and give them a more secure tenure of their holdings.

"I think, My Lord, these reasons are sufficient to justify the unusual action of Government in coming forward to purchase these properties.

"For my own part, I think it is a course which has a great deal to recommend it. It is a course which I should like to see adopted elsewhere, and on a larger scale, and which I have long advocated as the best method of preventing the evils which too commonly arise in this country from the transfer of land from the old agricultural to the commercial classes.

"I think I have now sufficiently explained the scope of the measure. The Bill, it cannot be denied, is a confession of error. We propose to spend a large sum of money, not to improve the land or open communications or add in any way to the wealth of the country, but merely in order to place these Jhánsí zamíndárs back in the same position in which we found them when we annexed their country. And in the meantime, during the five and twenty years which have elapsed, have these men of Jhánsí had a happy time? Have they had cause to bless us? I am afraid not. The interim has been chiefly spent in making them pay revenue when they had not the means, and in harassing them for arrears which they could not pay. It is written in the records of the Board of Revenue.

"But if the Bill is a confession of error, it is also an attempt to repair the mistake and to atone for an unintentional wrong. And that is why I dwell upon this matter, because I am afraid that the Bill, if the matter is left to it alone, will not be successful. I will not enter into a discussion as to the causes which have led to such disastrous results. Such a discussion, although of great practical value, would take a long time, and could hardly be brought to an issue here. But I feel bound to say this much, that, having seen the flourishing state of the Central Provinces, where the same system existed under Native rule, and where we pursued exactly the same course, I cannot admit that those persons are right who attribute the greatest share in the effects which we deplore to what they call 'the fatal gift of proprietary right.' The possession of the proprietary right, no doubt, was a condition which enabled these men to obtain money. But it was not the cause of their requiring it.

"We ought to look to our revenue system and our revenue administration. It is on record that after the Mutiny we compelled these men to pay again to us the revenue which had already been collected from them by the rebels. It also appears that, in 1868-69, when there was a severe drought and a scarcity approaching to famine, scant consideration was shown to them; and if this was done under such circumstances, what chance is there that they met with more liberal treatment when suffering under minor and less conspicuous difficulties? It is quite true that, during the last decade, since their state has become known, and their inability to pay has been recognised, the Government has dealt with them in a liberal manner. But it is a fault in our system that such knowledge comes too late, and that we hardly ever remit revenue or revise an assessment until the mischief has been done.

"The truth is that agriculture in Jhánsí is a precarious business; and this fact should be recognised. In introducing the Bill, Mr. Bazett Colvin said :—

"'In conclusion, I have only to say that the importance of modifying the revenue system of Jhánsí and of adjusting it for the future in some way to the variations in the annual produce of the harvest has not escaped the attention of the North-Western Provinces Government, and the question, I believe, is now under consideration and discussion. Personally, it seems to me that no scheme for relieving the distress of the proprietors in Jhánsí can be permanently successful which does not provide for this.'

"This was said by Mr. Colvin in February, 1880.

"In conclusion, I have to say exactly what Mr. Colvin said. I believe that, until the revenue-system is altered, there is no security against the recurrence and extension of the Jhánsí difficulties; and I believe also that the matter is still under the consideration of the Local Government."

The Hon'ble Mr. Plowden said :—"I should experience very unqualified satisfaction in aiding in the passage of this Bill through the Council, were it not for the fact that I cannot but deplore the great delay that has taken place in putting the Bill before the Council. The Hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill has stated that, of these two Bills which were brought before the Council, the first was brought forward in 1880; and he has referred also to the fact that the consideration of this measure of relief for the embarrassed zamíndárs in the Jhánsí Division has been before the Local Government and the Government of India for some six years. In turning to one of the Revenue Administration Reports of the North-Western Provinces for 1876-77, I find that the Deputy Commissioner of Jhánsí, who was responsible for the administration of the district, remarked, so far back as 1876, that the transfer of property in his district 'was probably checked to some extent by the inquiries which had been made into the indebtedness of the landholders, these inquiries having, it appears, led them to hope that a scheme for the liquidation of their debts was under consideration.'

"In very singular contrast to this is the passage cited by my hon'ble friend, which may be seen in the paper submitted to the Council containing Mr. Kaye's remarks to the Board of Revenue not two months ago. He says :—

"'The introduction of an Encumbered Estates Act for Jhánsí has been discussed for years. It is perfectly well known that such an Act may be passed any day. Similar Acts affecting other parts of the country have been passed, and the money-lending class thoroughly understand how their interests are likely to be affected when the Jhánsí Act becomes law. Naturally, they are doing all they can to protect themselves beforehand, and are foreclosing mortgages and executing decrees which would otherwise have been allowed to run on. For the same reason they are unwilling to grant fresh loans; and landholders, who at other times would have been able to raise money to stave off pressing claims, are unable to do so. So far, the action taken with reference to the contemplated Bill has had but one result, and that is to ruin a considerable number of the very class it is designed to serve.'

"Now, My Lord, I have noticed this matter, because I think that this measure cannot be considered to be a remedial measure: it is simply a measure of relief intended to put the landholders on a footing different from that on which they rest at present, and to place them on somewhat the same footing as they were before they began to borrow money to pay their arrears of revenue. But I think it necessary that some attention should be drawn to the fact that the position of these persons is due more to the pressure to recover the revenue for which they are responsible than to any other cause; and, this being the case, it is within the power of the Local Government to adopt a line of action which shall prevent a recurrence of the unfortunate results which the present Bill is designed to relieve.

"These results have, I believe, occurred simply because, in times of drought and scarcity, the landholders have not been able to pay their revenue, though they have been called upon again and again to 'stump up'; and it is impossible for these men, with the very small resources at their command, to yield to the Government pressure in this matter without at the same time encumbering their estates very largely. If now the Local Government will adopt the line of action of allowing revenue which from scarcity or any other cause the landholders cannot pay to lie over for a short period, at the same time taking interest while the payment is deferred, they will, I think, assist the landholders to a material extent.

"I shall certainly support the Bill, though, as I have said before, I am sorry for the delay which has occurred in placing it before the Council."

His Excellency THE PRESIDENT said:—"With respect to the delay that has taken place, I should like to make one or two further remarks. I of course have no personal experience of the delay which took place before the time when I came out here two years ago. At that time the position of the matter was this.

"The Bill as originally brought in—which, as my hon'ble friend Mr. Crosthwaite has explained, was a very different Bill from the present one—was then before the Council. It was under reference to a Select Committee, who went into it very carefully, and, as I have already explained, towards the end of the time when we were at Simla in 1880, Sir Charles Aitchison spoke to me upon the subject, if I mistake not. At all events, he recorded a note in which he expressed doubts as to the propriety of adopting the Bill in the form in which it then stood. As soon as I was able to resume business at Calcutta after my illness, I looked carefully into the matter. It seemed to me that the views put forward by Sir Charles Aitchison were very just, and I conferred with Mr. Bazett Colvin upon the subject at the commencement of last year. He then said that he should himself have preferred a Bill upon the lines of the present Bill rather than upon those on which it was introduced under Lord Lytton's Government, and I then requested him to draw up the Bill in the form which he thought that it should assume. That Bill involved a very important principle, that of advances upon the part of the Government—a principle which it is impossible to adopt all over the country, because of the enormous cost; and it therefore required to be considered with very great care, in order that we might see whether the circumstances of Jhánsí would justify the adoption of such a measure as clearly exceptional in its character. Well, Mr. Colvin prepared his draft, conferred with Sir George Couper on the subject, sent up the draft here, and it was then very carefully considered by the Financial Department. My hon'ble friend Major Baring very handsomely accepted the principle for this particular case, thinking that there were sufficiently exceptional grounds for doing so. The measure was, therefore, in fact, in a condition in which it might have been passed last session at Calcutta, if it had not been necessary, under the orders of the Secretary of State, to refer it home to him before passing it. He lost no time in considering the matter, and in conveying his sanction to it by a telegram; and it is on that telegram that we are now acting. I mention these facts merely to show that the subject is one of a very difficult character, requiring to be treated with very great care; and that, although there has been more delay than would have been desirable, the matter has not been neglected, and that the delay has not been the result of any carelessness on the part of the Government in regard to it, but may truly be said to have arisen from the intrinsic difficulty of dealing with a question of this kind as we propose to deal with it in this Bill. I think the public should understand that that is the position of the case.

"With regard to the question of the alteration of the revenue system, referred to by my hon'ble friends Mr. Crosthwaite and Mr. Plowden, that is a question which I will not attempt to discuss upon the present occasion. I can only say that it is a matter of great importance, and that it is receiving the careful consideration of the Government."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. CROSTHWAITE then moved that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Thursday, the 1st June, 1882.

D. FITZPATRICK,

Secretary to the Government of India,

NOTICE.

Waste Lands available for Planters in the Tavoy District.

Waste lands, covered at present with forest, bamboos or grass, are available for plantations of coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices at altitudes varying from 100 feet to 6,800 feet above the sea in the Tavoy district. This region is between the 13th and 14th parallels of north latitude, and the rainfall ranges from 190 to 220 inches a year. The lands are mostly within 30 to 50 miles of the steamer station of Thayetchoung on the Tavoy river. Mail steamers ply between Thayetchoung and Moulmein or Rangoon once a week inwards and outwards.

II.—Grants of land in lots ranging from 100 to 1,200 acres can be had for planting tea, coffee, cinchona, or spices on application to the Deputy Commissioner of Tavoy. Such grants will be made in accordance with the "Burma Land and Revenue Act, 1876," and with the rules sanctioned thereunder by the Governor General of India in Council. Copies of the Act and rules can be obtained by intending planters on application to the Deputy Commissioner of Tavoy, the Commissioner of Tenasserim at Moulmein, or the Secretariat, Rangoon.

III.—In addition to the concessions and conditions laid down in the Act and rules, the following special concessions will be made to persons taking up land for plantations of coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices in Tavoy, namely,—

(1) A grantee must bring under cultivation one-third of his grant within 12 years from the date of his obtaining the grant. If, after the expiration of 12 years, any surplus uncultivated land, in excess of two acres of waste for each acre of cultivated land, shall remain on the grant, such surplus waste shall then revert to Government; and the grantee shall have no further claim or right in the surplus which has so reverted.

(2) A grantee will not be liable to pay any land revenue or any price for the land of his grant until the end of the tenth year after he enters on possession, provided that he takes bonâ fide steps to cultivate a reasonable proportion of the grant with coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices. In the event of any grantee desiring a more precise definition of a "reasonable proportion," the Chief Commissioner may decide beforehand in each case what proportion of the grant ought to be thus cultivated in each year.

(3) After the end of the tenth year the grantee will be liable to pay land revenue at the rate of Rs. 1-4-0 per acre and cesses at the rate of two annas per acre on one-third of his grant up to the year 1900 A. D.; after the expiration of such year he will be liable to pay for one-third of his grant the same revenue rate as is paid for garden lands in the nearest revenue circle where a garden rate obtains.

(4) A grantee will not be called upon to pay anything for timber, bamboos, or grass which he may cut upon his grant, provided he takes bonâ fide steps as aforesaid to cultivate coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices.

IV.—The only payment which a grantee will have to make on receiving his grant will be eight annas an acre for the cost of survey and demarcation. In consideration of such payment the Deputy Commissioner will cause a survey to be made of the grant, will furnish the grantee with a copy of such survey, and will cause boundary marks to be erected at suitable points in the outer boundary of the grant.

V.—The wishes of applicants will be met as far as possible in regard to the situation and shape of their grants. But ordinarily—

(a) no grant will be given where the Forest Department intend to make a forest reserve;

(b) no grant will be given on such a place as will unduly circumscribe the extension of cultivation of the grazing grounds of any neighbouring village or hamlet;

(c) grants facing a road or navigable stream will have to be of a depth double the length facing such road or navigable stream;

(d) small strips will be reserved leading to landing places for the benefit of neighbouring villages and grantees.

VI.—The Government is now spending much larger sums than heretofore on roads in the Tavoy district. If planters settle in the district, further funds will be allotted for roads from their neighbourhood to the steamer station at either Tavoy or Thayetchoung.

VII.—In order to encourage pioneers in the coffee and cinchona enterprise in Tavoy, the Government will pay to the first four grantees who begin bonâ fide planting operations Rs. 15 per head for every Indian or Chinese coolie, male or female, over 16 years of age, who may be settled and housed on their plantations before the 1st March 1885.

VIII.—In any case of doubt regarding the bonâ fide character of operations for the purposes of concessions III and VII, the Deputy Commissioner will decide, and his decision will be subject to appeal to the Commissioner of Tenasserim, whose decision will be final.

IX.—All minerals and metals under and within the lands granted under these rules are reserved by Government, together with a right to enter upon and resume such portion of land as may be necessary for examining or working mines upon payment of just compensation to the grantee for loss of, or injury done to, the surface.

Advertisements and Notices by Private Individuals and Corporations.

NOTIFICATION.

With the consent of the Government of India, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore is prepared to receive tenders for a Debenture Loan of (Rs. 20,00,000) twenty lakhs of Rupees on the security of the general revenues of the Mysore Province. The amount of the Loan is to be expended entirely on the construction of an important line of railway from Bangalore to Tiptoor, a distance of about 85 miles.

2. Debentures will be issued for the said amount bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 15th February and 15th August of each year and having a currency of twenty years. The interest will be payable at any of the Government Treasuries of the Mysore Province or at the Banks of Bengal, Madras or Bombay and their branches.

3. The form of Debenture Bonds will be that given below. Each Debenture will be issued for the sum of Rs. (500) five hundred, or some multiple of Rs. 500.

4. Tenders for the whole or any part of the above-named sum of Rs. (20,00,000) twenty lakhs will be received by the Comptroller to the Mysore Government at Bangalore up to noon on the 1st July 1882.

5. Each tender should be in the form hereto annexed, and enclosed in a sealed cover superscribed "Tender for the Mysore Railway Loan of 1882," and sent to the Comptroller to the Government of Mysore at Bangalore.

6. The tenders will be opened at the Dewan's Office at Bangalore in the presence of the Dewan and other members of the Mysore Government on the 1st July 1882 at noon, a minimum rate having first been fixed by the Dewan.

7. Each tender must be accompanied by the deposit of a sum equal to 2 per cent. of the amount tendered. Such deposit may be made by paying the amount to the credit of the Dewan of Mysore at the Banks of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, or at any of their branches, or at any of the Treasuries of the Mysore Government, and forwarding with the tender the receipt of such Bank or Treasury or by a Money Order payable to the Dewan of Mysore, or by Government of India Promissory Notes duly endorsed in favor of the Dewan of Mysore.

8. If the tender be accepted either in whole or in part, the deposit made will be taken in part payment, and the tenderer must arrange for the payment of the remainder of the amount of the loan allotted to him on or before the 15th August 1882 into any of the Treasuries of the Mysore Government, or into the Banks of Bengal, Madras or Bombay or any of their branches to the credit of the Dewan of Mysore, failing which the deposit made will be forfeited.

9. Debentures will be issued as soon as possible after receipt of the amount of allotment.

10. The deposit on tenders which may not be accepted will be returned on application.

11. In the case of two or more tenders at the same rate (not being below the minimum), a pro rata allotment will, if necessary, be made.

12. The rate stated in a tender must not contain any fraction of an anna; if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out, and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

13. In order to avoid mistakes, a separate tender must be made at each rate tendered, and a separate deposit must accompany each tender.

14. The annual revenues of the Mysore Province amount at present to Rs. 1,06,00,000 (one hundred and six lakhs of Rupees), and are expected to yield an annual surplus of five lakhs after defraying all charges and providing for repayments on account of the Famine Loan due to the Government of India.

15. Arrangements will be made for securing negotiability to the Debentures in British India free of Stamp Duty.

Power to suspend or remove special Judge.

The Local Government may, at any time, by a like notification, suspend or remove any special Judge so appointed.

CHAPTER III.

OF THE APPLICATION AND PRELIMINARY INQUIRY.

Application for benefit of Act.

4. (1) At any time within twelve months after a special Judge is appointed for any local area, any zamíndár owning land in that area may apply, in writing, to the Commissioner of the Jhánsí Division, stating that the zamíndár is subject to, or that his immoveable property or any part thereof is encumbered with, private debts, and requesting that the provisions of this Act be applied to him.

(2) The like application may be made with respect to any such zamíndár by an officer appointed for the purpose by the Local Government:

(3) Provided that, where the zamíndár is a disqualified proprietor within the meaning of section 191 of the North-Western Provinces Land-revenue Act, 1873, the application shall be made—

(a) if his property is under the superintendence of the Court of Wards—by the manager of his property, with the consent of that Court; and

(b) if his property is not under such superintendence—by the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the property is situate.

Power to extend time for making applications.

(4) The Local Government may, from time to time, by notification in the official Gazette, extend the time prescribed for making applications under this section.

Order to inquire.

5. When any such application is made in the case of any zamíndár, the Commissioner shall direct an inquiry to be made by the special Judge—

(a) into the nature and amount of the zamíndár's private debts, and

(b) into the sufficiency of his property, whether moveable or immoveable (exclusive of his proprietary rights in land and of the property mentioned in the first proviso to section 266 of the Code of Civil Procedure), to discharge his private debts.

Written statement to be submitted.

6. (1) When an inquiry has been directed under section five, the applicant shall, within a period to be fixed by the Commissioner, submit to the special Judge a written statement containing, so far as may be practicable,—

(a) such particulars as the special Judge may require respecting the private debts to which the zamíndár is subject, or with which his immoveable property or any part thereof is encumbered;

(b) the nature and value of the zamíndár's property (exclusive of his proprietary rights in land and of the property mentioned in the first proviso to section 266 of the Code of Civil Procedure); and

(c) the names and residences of his creditors, so far as they are known to, or can be ascertained by, the zamíndár.

Verification of statement.

(2) The statement must be verified by the applicant or by some other competent person, in the manner required by law for the verification of plaints; and if it contains any averment which the person making the verification knows or believes to be false, or does not know or believe to be true, he shall be deemed to have intentionally given false evidence within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code:

Proviso.

(3) Provided that, when the application is made by an officer appointed under section four, clause (2), or by the Deputy Commissioner, it shall not be necessary to verify the statement; but the zamíndár shall, so far as may be practicable, within a period to be fixed by the special Judge, furnish such information regarding the matters mentioned in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of this section, as the Judge may require.

CHAPTER IV.

PROOF OF DEBTS AND PROCEDURE OF SPECIAL JUDGE.

Publication of notice to claimants against zamíndár.

7. (1) When the statement or information referred to in section six has been submitted or furnished, the special Judge shall publish in the official Gazette a notice in the vernacular language of the district, calling upon all persons having claims against the person or the property of the zamíndár by or with respect to whom the application was made under section four, to present to the special Judge, within two months from the date of the publication, a written statement of their claims.

Copies of notice to be exhibited.

(2) The special Judge shall also cause copies of the notice to be exhibited at his own office, at the offices of the Commissioner of the Jhánsí Division and the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the land of the zamíndár is situate, and at some conspicuous place in the village where the zamíndár resides.

Provision for admission of claims within further period of two months.

(3) The statement must be presented within the period specified in the notice, unless the claimant satisfies the special Judge that he had sufficient cause for not presenting the statement within that period, in which case the special Judge may receive the statement within a further period of two months from the expiration of the period so specified.

Consequences of notice.

8. After the publication of the notice, the following consequences shall ensue (namely):—

(a) all proceedings pending at the date of the publication, in any civil or revenue Court in British India in respect of any private debt to which the zamíndár is subject, or with which his immoveable property is encumbered, shall be for ever stayed; and all processes, executions and attachments issued by any such Court, and then in force, in respect of any such debt shall become null and void;

(b) in respect of any such debt no fresh proceeding, process, execution or attachment shall, except as hereinafter provided, be instituted in, or issued by, any civil or revenue Court in British India;

(c) until the Commissioner has declared, as hereinafter provided, that the zamíndár has ceased to be subject to the disabilities mentioned in this clause—

(1) the zamíndár shall be incompetent to sell, mortgage, exchange, give, or, without the consent of the Commissioner, lease his proprietary rights in land or any part thereof; and

(2) no proceeding, process, execution or attachment shall be instituted in, or issued by, any civil or revenue Court in British India against those rights, in respect of any private debt contracted by the zamíndár after the publication of the notice.

Claim to contain full particulars.

9. (1) Every claimant referred to in section seven shall, in the written statement of his claim, present full particulars thereof.

Documents to be given up.

(2) Every document on which the claimant founds his claim, or on which he relies in support thereof, shall be delivered to the special Judge along with the written statement.

Entries in books.

(3) If the document is an entry in any book, the claimant shall produce the book to the special Judge together with a copy of the entry on which he relies. The special Judge shall mark the book for the purpose of identification, and, after examining and comparing the copy with the original, shall return the book to the claimant.

Exclusion of documents not produced.

(4) If any document in the possession or under the control of the claimant is not delivered or produced by him, as required by this section, the special Judge may refuse to receive that document in evidence on the claimant's behalf at the investigation of the case.

Claim not duly notified to be deemed discharged.

10. Every claim against the zamíndár in respect of a private debt shall, unless made within the time and in the manner required by this Act, be deemed, for all purposes, and on all occasions, to have been duly discharged.

Order appointing time for inquiry.

11. The special Judge shall, by an order in writing, appoint a time for inquiring into each claim made as aforesaid, and a copy of that order shall be served on the claimant and on the zamíndár, or, when the application has been made on behalf of a disqualified proprietor, on the manager of his property, or the Deputy Commissioner, as the case may be.

History of transactions with zamíndár to be investigated.

At the time so appointed, or at any subsequent time to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the special Judge shall hear such of the parties as appear, and, if the amount of any claim (other than a claim decreed by a competent Court) is disputed, shall inquire into the history and merits of that claim from the commencement of the transactions between the parties, and shall, as hereinafter provided, determine the amount (if any) justly due to the claimant.

Explanation.—Subject to the right of appeal and power of revision hereinafter conferred, the effect of this determination is to extinguish the previously existing right (if any) of the claimant, together with all rights (if any) of mortgage or lien by which the same is secured, and, where any amount is determined to be due to him, to substitute for those rights a right to recover that amount in the manner and to the extent hereinafter prescribed, and not otherwise.

Mode of taking account.

12. When the special Judge inquires, under section eleven, into the history and merits of a claim, he shall—notwithstanding any agreement between the zamíndár and the claimant, or the persons (if any) through whom they claim, as to allowing compound interest, or as to setting off the profits of mortgaged property in lieu of interest without an account, or otherwise determining the manner of taking the account, and notwithstanding any statement or settlement of account, or any contract purporting to close previous dealings and create a new obligation,

open the account from the commencement of the transactions between the parties, and take that account according to the following rules (that is to say) :—

(a) separate accounts of principal and interest shall be taken;

(b) in the account of principal, there shall be debited to the zamíndár such money as may, from time to time, have been actually received by him, or on his account, from the claimant, and the price of goods (if any) sold to him by the claimant as part of the transactions between them;

(d) in the account of principal, there shall not be debited to the zamíndár any accumulated interest which has been converted into principal at any statement or settlement of account, or by any contract made in the course of the transactions, unless the special Judge, for reasons to be recorded by him in writing, deems such debit to be reasonable;

(e) in the account of interest, there shall be debited to the zamíndár, monthly, simple interest on the balance of principal for the time being outstanding, at the rate allowed by the special Judge as hereinafter provided;

(f) all money paid by, or on account of, the zamíndár to the claimant, or on his account, and all profits, service or other advantages of every description received by the claimant in the course of the transactions, shall be credited first in the account of interest, and, when any payment is more than sufficient to discharge the balance of interest due at the time it is made, the residue of that payment shall be credited to the zamíndár in the account of principal:

Explanation.—The advantages mentioned in this clause shall be estimated, if necessary, at such money-value as the special Judge may determine in his discretion, or with the aid of arbitrators appointed by him;

(g) the accounts of principal and interest shall be made up to the date of making the claim; and the aggregate of the balances (if any) appearing due on both the accounts against the zamíndár at that date shall be deemed to be the amount due at that date, except when the balance appearing due on the account of interest exceeds that appearing due on the account of principal, in which case double the latter balance shall be deemed to be the amount then due.

Interest to be allowed.

13. The interest to be awarded in taking an account, according to the rules set forth in section twelve, shall be—

(a) the rate (if any) agreed upon between the zamíndár and the claimant, or the persons (if any) through whom they respectively claim, unless that rate is deemed by the special Judge to be unreasonable; or

(b) if that rate is deemed by the special Judge unreasonable, or if no rate was agreed upon, or, when any agreement to set off profits in lieu of interest without an account, entered into between the zamíndár and the claimant, or the persons (if any) through whom they respectively claim, has been set aside by the special Judge, such rate as the special Judge deems reasonable.

Proceedings when amount determined to be due is paid into court.

14. If, on the termination of the inquiries by the special Judge, the zamíndár forthwith pays into court the aggregate amount of the claims determined to be due, together with the aggregate of such costs (if any) as the special Judge may in each case award against the zamíndár, the special Judge shall submit a report of his proceedings to the Commissioner, and shall, on the application of each claimant, pay to him such portions (if any) of the said aggregate amounts as may be due to him.

Power to rank debts and fix future interest.

15. If the zamíndár does not pay the said amounts under section fourteen, and these amounts cannot, in the opinion of the special Judge, be paid from the proceeds of the sale of the zamíndár's property (exclusive of his proprietary rights in land and of the property mentioned in the first proviso to section 266 of the Code of Civil Procedure), the special Judge shall make an order ranking the claims and costs according to the order in which they shall be paid or discharged, and fixing the interest (if any) to be paid on the amounts thereof respectively from the date of the final decision thereon to the date of the payment or discharge thereof.

Power to eject mortgagee, &c.

16. When any person whose claim has been determined by the special Judge, or whose claim is, under section ten, to be deemed to be discharged, has, as mortgagee or otherwise, obtained possession of any land of the zamíndár as security for his claim and continues in possession of that land, the special Judge may order him to be ejected therefrom.

Any order passed under this section shall be executed as nearly as may be in accordance with the rules prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure for the execution of decrees.

Report to be submitted by special Judge in certain cases.

17. When the proceedings hereinbefore prescribed have been concluded otherwise than under section fourteen, the special Judge shall submit a report to the Commissioner, showing the nature and amount of the claims and costs as determined and awarded by him, the nature and amount of all the zamíndár's property (exclusive of his proprietary rights in land and of the property mentioned in the first proviso to section 266 of the Code of Civil Procedure) which may be available for the payment or discharge of the same, and, when an order has been made under section fifteen, the particulars of such order.

CHAPTER V.

PROCEDURE OF COMMISSIONER AND MODE OF LIQUIDATION.

On report of special Judge, Commissioner to sell property reported by special Judge, and, if necessary, to direct valuation of proprietary rights.

18. On receiving a report under section seventeen, the Commissioner shall direct that the property reported by the special Judge as available for the payment or discharge of the claims and costs determined and awarded by him, or any specified portion of that property, be sold by public auction, and, from the proceeds thereof, shall pay or discharge, so far as practicable, the amount of the said claims and costs.

If those proceeds are not sufficient to pay or discharge in full that amount, the Commissioner shall direct the value of the zamíndár's proprietary rights in land to be ascertained in the manner following:—

For the purposes of a loan, the value of those rights shall be estimated to be a sum amounting to six times the nett annual profits of the zamíndár.

For the purposes of purchase by Government, the value of those rights shall be estimated to be a sum amounting to ten times those nett annual profits.

"Nett annual profits."

Explanation.—The expression "nett annual profits" means the balance left, after deducting the amount of the annual Government revenue and the rates payable annually by the zamíndár under the North-Western Provinces Local Rates Act, 1878, or any other Act for the time being in force, from the aggregate amount of—

(a) the rents which he is entitled to receive annually from his tenants;

(b) the rent which he would have to pay annually for his sír-land (if any), if he were an ex-proprietary tenant thereof;

(c) all other profits annually receivable by him as zamíndár; and

(d) in the case of profits occasionally receivable or varying in amount from year to year, the average annual amount of such profits during the ten years next preceding the valuation.

Proceedings in liquidation.

19. When the value of the zamíndár's proprietary rights has been ascertained as directed in section eighteen, the Commissioner shall proceed as follows:—

(a) If the sum at which the rights have been valued for the purposes of a loan is sufficient to pay or discharge the unpaid balance of the claims and costs determined and awarded by the special Judge, together with the zamíndár's public debts, the Commissioner may, with the consent of the zamíndár, direct such sum as may be necessary, not being more than the amount of such valuation, to be advanced from the public treasury as a loan to the zamíndár, repayable, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent. per annum, by instalments, within a term not exceeding ten years, and shall, from the sum so advanced, pay or discharge in full the said balance and the said public debts.

(b) If the zamíndár does not consent to accept such loan, or if the sum at which his proprietary rights in land have been valued for the purposes of a loan is not sufficient to discharge the said balance and the said public debts, the Commissioner may order that any portion, or, if necessary, the whole, of those rights shall be sold in the manner hereinafter prescribed in order to discharge such balance and debts.

Attachment of proprietary rights.

20. When an order for the sale of the proprietary rights of any zamíndár has been made under section nineteen, the Commissioner may order those rights to be attached and taken under the management of the Deputy Commissioner, who shall have, for this purpose, the same powers as are conferred, for the management of a mahál, on a Collector by the North-Western Provinces Land-revenue Act, 1873, section 155.

The management shall continue until the rights are sold under this Act.

Mode of selling proprietary rights.

21. (1) All sales under this Act of proprietary rights in land shall be made by public auction in the manner prescribed by the said North-Western Provinces Land-revenue Act, 1873, for the sale of immoveable property for arrears of land-revenue.

(2) If, at the public auction of any zamíndár's proprietary rights in land, any bid is made for those rights above the sum at which they have been valued for the purposes of purchase by Government, the rights shall be sold to the highest bidder; and the proceeds of the sale shall be paid to the Deputy Commissioner or such officer as the Commissioner may direct.

(3) If no such bid is made, the Commissioner shall direct a sum of money equal to the amount of that valuation to be paid from the public treasury to the Deputy Commissioner or such officer.

Duty of Deputy Commissioner.

22. The Deputy Commissioner or such officer, as the case may be, shall thereupon, subject to the control of the Commissioner,— first, pay, from the money which he has received under section twenty-one, the zamíndár's public debts;

secondly, out of the balance of that money, pay or discharge, so far as may be practicable, the unpaid balances of the claims and costs determined and awarded by the special Judge, in the order in which they are ranked under section fifteen by that Judge;

thirdly, pay the surplus (if any) to the zamíndár,

When the whole of a zamíndár's proprietary rights in land have been sold in execution of an order passed under section nineteen, clause (b), and the proceeds of the sale are insufficient to discharge in full the amounts referred to in this section, the unpaid balance of those amounts shall nevertheless be deemed to have been duly discharged.

Consequences of loan.

23. When a sum of money has been lent, under section nineteen, clause (a), to a zamíndár, and applied as provided in that clause, and he fails to pay any instalment of principal or interest on the day fixed for the payment thereof, the whole sum remaining unpaid on account of principal or interest, or both, shall be recoverable at once as if it were an arrear of land-revenue due by him in respect of the land comprised in the valuation made under section eighteen.

Conditions of purchase by Government.

24. When a sum of money has been paid from the public treasury in respect of any proprietary rights of a zamíndár as provided in section twenty-one, and has been applied as provided in section twenty-two, the following consequences shall ensue (namely) :—

(a) all such proprietary rights shall vest in Her Majesty ;

(b) in respect of any of his sír-land, the proprietary rights in which are, under this section, vested in Her Majesty, the zamíndár shall be deemed to be an ex-proprietary tenant holding the land directly under the Government.

Power to declare that zamíndár has ceased to be subject to disabilities.

25. In each of the following cases (namely),—

(a) when a report has been submitted to the Commissioner under section fourteen, or

(b) when the claims and costs determined and awarded by the special Judge have been paid or discharged in full under section eighteen, or

(c) when the amount lent, under section nineteen, to a zamíndár has been repaid, together with the interest due thereon, or

(e) when the whole, or, where it is necessary to sell only a portion, that portion, of his proprietary rights in land has been sold under this Act to the highest bidder, or those rights have vested in Her Majesty under section twenty-four,

the Commissioner shall declare that the zamíndár has ceased to be subject to the disabilities mentioned in section eight, clause (c) :

Provided that, in cases coming under clause (d) of this section, no such declaration shall be made without the previous sanction of the Local Government.

CHAPTER VI.

Appeals.

26. An appeal against any decision or order of the special Judge, under this Act, shall lie to the Commissioner if preferred within one month from the date of the decision or order, and not later, unless the appellant satisfies the Commissioner that he had sufficient cause for not presenting the appeal within that period.

Subject to the power of revision next hereinafter provided, the decision of the Commissioner on an appeal under this section shall be final.

Power to call for proceedings and pass order thereon.

27. The Board of Revenue or the Commissioner may, of its or his own motion, or on the application of any person concerned, call for and revise the proceedings in any case under this Act, and pass such order thereon, consistent with the provisions herein contained, as it or he thinks fit :

Provided that nothing in this section shall empower the Commissioner to pass any order reversing or modifying an order passed by the Board of Revenue.

CHAPTER VII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Death of zamíndár during proceedings.

28. If a zamíndár with regard to whom a notice has been published under section seven dies before a declaration has been made in respect of him under section twenty-five,

(a) the proceedings under this Act shall be continued as nearly as may be possible in all respects as if the zamíndár were still living ; and

(b) any person succeeding to the whole or any portion of the zamíndár's proprietary rights in land shall become subject in respect of those rights to the disabilities imposed by section eight, clause (c), and shall continue so subject until a declaration has been made in respect of him under section twenty-five.

Investigation to be deemed a judicial proceeding.

29. Every investigation conducted by the special Judge with reference to any claim made to him under this Act, or to any matter connected with any such claim, shall be deemed to be a judicial proceeding within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code ;

Special Judge deemed public servant within meaning of Indian Penal Code.

and the special Judge shall be deemed to be a public servant within the meaning of that Code.

Power to summon witnesses, compel production of documents and award costs.

30. For the purposes of compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents, and of awarding costs, the special Judge shall have the powers conferred on a Civil Court by the Code of Civil Procedure.

Bar of suits.

31. No suit or other proceeding shall be maintained against any person in respect of anything done by him in good faith pursuant to this Act.

Power to make rules.

32. The Local Government may, from time to time, make rules consistent with this Act—

(a) to regulate the procedure in all cases under this Act ;

(b) to declare what shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the vernacular language of any specified district ; and

(c) generally to carry out the provisions of this Act.

Such rules shall be published in the official Gazette, and, when so published, shall have the force of law.

PART V.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[First publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 31st May, 1882:—

No. 7 OF 1882.

A Bill to modify temporarily certain provisions of the Petroleum Act, 1881.

Preamble.

WHEREAS there is reason to doubt whether the mode of testing petroleum prescribed by the Petroleum Act, 1881, is in all cases to be relied on in India, and it is therefore expedient, pending the removal of that doubt, or the adoption of an improved mode of testing petroleum, to afford, in respect of petroleum imported under certain guarantees as to its quality, some relief from the difficulties under which, owing to the said doubt, persons dealing in such petroleum might otherwise labour; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Petroleum Act, 1882.

Commencement. Duration.

It shall come into force at once, and shall continue in force only until the first day of January, 1883, or such later date as the Governor General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, fix in this behalf, and as long as it continues in force shall be read with, and taken as part of, the Petroleum Act, 1881.

This Act to be read with Act VIII of 1881.

Certain petroleum not to be deemed "dangerous petroleum."

2. Whenever it appears to the Governor General in Council that certificates of any description are commonly granted in any place beyond the limits of British India in respect of petroleum exported from that place to British India and that a certificate of that description is sufficient to prove that the petroleum therein referred to would, if tested in the manner prescribed by the Petroleum Act, 1881, at the place from which it is exported, have a flashing point not below seventy-three degrees of Fahrenheit's thermometer, the Governor General in Council may direct that petroleum imported from that place and covered by a certificate of that description shall not be deemed to be dangerous petroleum.

While any such direction continues in force, petroleum to which it applies shall not be deemed to be dangerous petroleum.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

COMMUNICATIONS received by the Government of India by telegraph within the last two or three weeks afford ground for apprehending that petroleum which, when tested in America and elsewhere in the manner prescribed by the Petroleum Act, 1881, flashes at a point above 73° Fahrenheit may, when tested in the same manner on its arrival here, flash at a point below 73° Fahrenheit, and consequently have to be placed under the restrictions to which dangerous petroleum is subject. It has been suggested that this is probably due not to any want of care on the part of those applying the test in either country, but to the difference of climate. Steps have been taken with a view to having the matter fully inquired into; but as this will take some time, and as it is but fair that importers should in the meanwhile be relieved from the hardship to which they are exposed, it is proposed for the present to exclude from the class of dangerous petroleum all petroleum covered by a certificate granted at the place of export and of such a description that, in the opinion of the Governor General, it may be accepted as proving that the petroleum it refers to, if tested at the place of export according to our method, would be found to have a flashing point above 73° Fahrenheit.

REVENUE AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

REPORTS ON THE STATE OF THE SEASON AND PROSPECTS OF THE CROPS FOR THE WEEK ENDING THE 30th MAY 1882.

GENERAL REMARKS.—There has again been rain throughout the Madras Presidency, but in parts not sufficient as yet for the requirements of the crops. More or less rain has also fallen in the Mysore State and in Coorg; also in the Southern Mahratta Country and other parts of the Bombay Presidency. In Berar, in the Nizam's Territories, and in the Punjab there has been no rain; while slight showers have occurred in two districts of the Central Provinces, in three districts of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, and in a few States of Central India and Rajputana. In Assam and British Burma good rain has again fallen; and in Bengal more or less heavy showers have been reported from most districts.

General prospects in the Madras Presidency, in the Mysore State and in Coorg are favourable; sugarcane and paddy are being harvested in parts, and ploughing and sowing are progressing. Preparations for the kharif sowings are also in progress in the Nizam's Territories, in Berar, in the Bombay Presidency, and in the Central Provinces; and, excepting parts of three districts of Bombay and some parts in the Nizam's Territories where scarcity of water is felt, prospects in these Provinces are good on the whole. In the Punjab the rabi harvest still goes on in the northern districts, while in parts the autumn crops are being sown. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh agricultural operations are, as is usual at this period, almost at a standstill, pending the arrival of the rains. Sugar and indigo, the main crops on the ground, are being irrigated, and are doing well. In Bengal the rainfall of the week has been beneficial for agriculture; ploughing and sowing are progressing favourably, and standing crops are thriving. In Assam also agricultural operations are in active progress, notably in Sylhet, where heavy rain has fallen. In British Burma ploughing in some places has begun.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

No. 22 of 1882.

CEYLON—EAST COAST.

Non-existence of Shoal reported distant 4 miles from Batticaloa.

With reference to this Department Notice to Mariners, No. 29 of 15th August, 1881, on the reported existence of a shoal (on which the steam vessel Brennus, drawing 22 feet, struck) stated to lie about 4 miles off shore with Batticaloa flagstaff bearing about S. W. by W. ½ W., the British Hydrographic Department has notified that—

Further information has been received from the Commander-in-Chief in the East Indies, and from the Government of Ceylon, in reference to searches having been made for this reported danger in H. M. S. Ready, and by the Colonial Government. These examinations show that no danger exists so far distant from the land, in the direction reported, and in such deep water (25 to 32 fathoms).

From these examinations, taken in connection with the evidence collected, it is considered that the Brennus struck on a shoal not heretofore charted, lying with Batticaloa flagstaff bearing S. 7° W., distant 7½ cables, situated in the midst of known shoal coral ground.

This new shoal, with a least depth over it of 15 feet, lies 3¼ cables N. W. of the 7-feet shoal known as Tower rock; 6 cables W. ¼ S. of the 12-feet shoal known as Beacon rock; and 8¼ cables E. by S. of the 19 feet shoal known as Surveyor rock.

(The bearings are Magnetic. Variation 1¼° Easterly in 1882.)

NOTICE.

Waste Lands available for Planters in the Tavoy District.

Waste lands, covered at present with forest, bamboos or grass, are available for plantations of coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices at altitudes varying from 100 feet to 6,800 feet above the sea in the Tavoy district. This region is between the 13th and 14th parallels of north latitude, and the rainfall ranges from 190 to 220 inches a year. The lands are mostly within 30 to 50 miles of the steamer station of Thayetchoung on the Tavoy river. Mail steamers ply between Thayetchoung and Moulmein or Rangoon once a week inwards and outwards.

II.—Grants of land in lots ranging from 100 to 1,200 acres can be had for planting tea, coffee, cinchona, or spices on application to the Deputy Commissioner of Tavoy. Such grants will be made in accordance with the "Burma Land and Revenue Act, 1876," and with the rules sanctioned thereunder by the Governor General of India in Council. Copies of the Act and rules can be obtained by intending planters on application to the Deputy Commissioner of Tavoy, the Commissioner of Tenasserim at Moulmein, or the Secretariat, Rangoon.

III.—In addition to the concessions and conditions laid down in the Act and rules, the following special concessions will be made to persons taking up land for plantations of coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices in Tavoy, namely,—

(1) A grantee must bring under cultivation one-third of his grant within 12 years from the date of his obtaining the grant. If, after the expiration of 12 years, any surplus uncultivated land, in excess of two acres of waste for each acre of cultivated land, shall remain on the grant, such surplus waste shall then revert to Government; and the grantee shall have no further claim or right in the surplus which has so reverted.

(2) A grantee will not be liable to pay any land revenue or any price for the land of his grant until the end of the tenth year after he enters on possession, provided that he takes bonâ fide steps to cultivate a reasonable proportion of the grant with coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices. In the event of any grantee desiring a more precise definition of a "reasonable proportion," the Chief Commissioner may decide beforehand in each case what proportion of the grant ought to be thus cultivated in each year.

(3) After the end of the tenth year the grantee will be liable to pay land revenue at the rate of Rs. 1-4-0 per acre and cesses at the rate of two annas per acre on one-third of his grant up to the year 1900 A. D.; after the expiration of such year he will be liable to pay for one-third of his grant the same revenue rate as is paid for garden lands in the nearest revenue circle where a garden rate obtains.

(4) A grantee will not be called upon to pay anything for timber, bamboos, or grass which he may cut upon his grant, provided he takes bonâ fide steps as aforesaid to cultivate coffee, tea, cinchona, or spices.

IV.—The only payment which a grantee will have to make on receiving his grant will be eight annas an acre for the cost of survey and demarcation. In consideration of such payment the Deputy Commissioner will cause a survey to be made of the grant, will furnish the grantee with a copy of such survey, and will cause boundary marks to be erected at suitable points in the outer boundary of the grant.

V.—The wishes of applicants will be met as far as possible in regard to the situation and shape of their grants. But ordinarily—

(a) no grant will be given where the Forest Department intend to make a forest reserve;

(b) no grant will be given on such a place as will unduly circumscribe the extension of cultivation of the grazing grounds of any neighbouring village or hamlet;

(c) grants facing a road or navigable stream will have to be of a depth double the length facing such road or navigable stream;

(d) small strips will be reserved leading to landing places for the benefit of neighbouring villages and grantees.

VI.—The Government is now spending much larger sums than heretofore on roads in the Tavoy district. If planters settle in the district, further funds will be allotted for roads from their neighbourhood to the steamer station at either Tavoy or Thayetchoung.

VII.—In order to encourage pioneers in the coffee and cinchona enterprise in Tavoy, the Government will pay to the first four grantees who begin bonâ fide planting operations Rs. 15 per head for every Indian or Chinese coolie, male or female, over 16 years of age, who may be settled and housed on their plantations before the 1st March 1885.

VIII.—In any case of doubt regarding the bonâ fide character of operations for the purposes of concessions III and VII, the Deputy Commissioner will decide, and his decision will be subject to appeal to the Commissioner of Tenasserim, whose decision will be final.

IX.—All minerals and metals under and within the lands granted under these rules are reserved by Government, together with a right to enter upon and resume such portion of land as may be necessary for examining or working mines upon payment of just compensation to the grantee for loss of, or injury done to, the surface.

NOTIFICATION.

With the consent of the Government of India, the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore is prepared to receive tenders for a Debenture Loan of (Rs. 20,00,000) twenty lakhs of Rupees on the security of the general revenues of the Mysore Province. The amount of the Loan is to be expended entirely on the construction of an important line of railway from Bangalore to Tiptoor, a distance of about 85 miles.

2. Debentures will be issued for the said amount bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 15th February and 15th August of each year and having a currency of twenty years. The interest will be payable at any of the Government Treasuries of the Mysore Province or at the Banks of Bengal, Madras or Bombay and their branches.

3. The form of Debenture Bonds will be that given below. Each Debenture will be issued for the sum of Rs. (500) five hundred, or some multiple of Rs. 500.

4. Tenders for the whole or any part of the above-named sum of Rs. (20,00,000) twenty lakhs will be received by the Comptroller to the Mysore Government at Bangalore up to noon on the 1st July 1882.

5. Each tender should be in the form hereto annexed, and enclosed in a sealed cover superscribed "Tender for the Mysore Railway Loan of 1882," and sent to the Comptroller to the Government of Mysore at Bangalore.

6. The tenders will be opened at the Dewan's Office at Bangalore in the presence of the Dewan and other members of the Mysore Government on the 1st July 1882 at noon, a minimum rate having first been fixed by the Dewan.

7. Each tender must be accompanied by the deposit of a sum equal to 2 per cent. of the amount tendered. Such deposit may be made by paying the amount to the credit of the Dewan of Mysore at the Banks of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, or at any of their branches, or at any of the Treasuries of the Mysore Government, and forwarding with the tender the receipt of such Bank or Treasury or by a Money Order payable to the Dewan of Mysore, or by Government of India Promissory Notes duly endorsed in favor of the Dewan of Mysore.

8. If the tender be accepted either in whole or in part, the deposit made will be taken in part payment, and the tenderer must arrange for the payment of the remainder of the amount of the loan allotted to him on or before the 15th August 1882 into any of the Treasuries of the Mysore Government, or into the Banks of Bengal, Madras or Bombay or any of their branches to the credit of the Dewan of Mysore, failing which the deposit made will be forfeited.

9. Debentures will be issued as soon as possible after receipt of the amount of allotment.

10. The deposit on tenders which may not be accepted will be returned on application.

11. In the case of two or more tenders at the same rate (not being below the minimum), a pro rata allotment will, if necessary, be made.

12. The rate stated in a tender must not contain any fraction of an anna; if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out, and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

13. In order to avoid mistakes, a separate tender must be made at each rate tendered, and a separate deposit must accompany each tender.

14. The annual revenues of the Mysore Province amount at present to Rs. 1,06,00,000 (one hundred and six lakhs of Rupees), and are expected to yield an annual surplus of five lakhs after defraying all charges and providing for repayments on account of the Famine Loan due to the Government of India.

15. Arrangements will be made for securing negotiability to the Debentures in British India free of Stamp Duty.

[First publication.]

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor General on the 7th June, 1882, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT No. XVII OF 1882.

An Act to amend the Indian Ports Act, 1875.

WHEREAS it is enacted by the Indian Ports Act, 1875, section thirty-eight, that no vessel of the burden of two hundred tons or upwards shall be moved in any port to which that section has been specially extended without having a Pilot, Harbour-master or Assistant of the Master Attendant or Harbour-master on board; and that no vessel of any burden less than two hundred tons and exceeding one hundred tons shall be moved in any such port without having on board a Pilot, Harbour-master or Assistant of the Master Attendant or Harbour-master, unless authority in writing so to do has been obtained from the Conservator or some officer empowered by him to give such authority;

And whereas it is expedient to exempt Native vessels when moved in the Port of Bombay from the provisions of the recited section;

And whereas it is also expedient to exempt pleasure-yachts throughout British India from the levy of port-dues;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title. Commencement.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Ports Act, 1882; and it shall come into force at once.

Amendment of section 38 of Act XII of 1875 as to Native vessels in Port of Bombay.

2. To the recited section the following words shall be added :—

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 31st May, 1882:—

No. 7 OF 1882.

A Bill to modify temporarily certain provisions of the Petroleum Act, 1881.

Preamble.

WHEREAS there is reason to doubt whether the mode of testing petroleum prescribed by the Petroleum Act, 1881, is in all cases to be relied on in India, and it is therefore expedient, pending the removal of that doubt, or the adoption of an improved mode of testing petroleum, to afford, in respect of petroleum imported under certain guarantees as to its quality, some relief from the difficulties under which, owing to the said doubt, persons dealing in such petroleum might otherwise labour; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Petroleum Act, 1882.

Commencement. Duration.

It shall come into force at once, and shall continue in force only until the first day of January, 1883, or such later date as the Governor General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, fix in this behalf, and as long as it continues in force shall be read with, and taken as part of, the Petroleum Act, 1881.

This Act to be read with Act VIII of 1881.

Certain petroleum not to be deemed "dangerous petroleum."

2. Whenever it appears to the Governor General in Council that certificates of any description are commonly granted in any place beyond the limits of British India in respect of petroleum exported from that place to British India and that a certificate of that description is sufficient to prove that the petroleum therein referred to would, if tested in the manner prescribed by the Petroleum Act, 1881, at the place from which it is exported, have a flashing point not below seventy-three degrees of Fahrenheit's thermometer, the Governor General in Council may direct that petroleum imported from that place and covered by a certificate of that description shall not be deemed to be dangerous petroleum.

While any such direction continues in force, petroleum to which it applies shall not be deemed to be dangerous petroleum.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

COMMUNICATIONS received by the Government of India by telegraph within the last two or three weeks afford ground for apprehending that petroleum which, when tested in America and elsewhere in the manner prescribed by the Petroleum Act, 1881, flashes at a point above 73° Fahrenheit may, when tested in the same manner on its arrival here, flash at a point below 73° Fahrenheit, and consequently have to be placed under the restrictions to which dangerous petroleum is subject. It has been suggested that this is probably due not to any want of care on the part of those applying the test in either country, but to the difference of climate. Steps have been taken with a view to having the matter fully inquired into; but as this will take some time, and as it is but fair that importers should in the meanwhile be relieved from the hardship to which they are exposed, it is proposed for the present to exclude from the class of dangerous petroleum all petroleum covered by a certificate granted at the place of export and of such a description that, in the opinion of the Governor General, it may be accepted as proving that the petroleum it refers to, if tested at the place of export according to our method, would be found to have a flashing point above 73° Fahrenheit.
